OIL OWNERS GIVEN JOLT

Warning Voiced by Wilbur

Forced Acceptance of State Policy Held Prospect in Kettleman Hills

Voluntary Agreement to End Fuel Waste Declared Only Alternative

FRESNO, Jan. 27. (Exclusive)—Unless the owners in fee of land in the new Kettleman Hills oil field enter into some kind of a voluntary agreement which will prevent the waste of oil and gas, the State conservation policy "may be jammed down their throats."

This was the warning of Secretary of Interior Wilbur to fee owners of a large Kettleman acreage, with whom he conferred here today prior to visiting the field for his second first-hand inspection of the development.

As the result of their conference with Secretary Wilbur, approximately twenty individual owners and representatives of oil companies who also hold title to land in the rich field adopted resolutions favoring a conservation program, with reservations.

The resolutions state that the owners are willing to co-operate in a program designed to conserve the oil and gas of the area, much of which is now going to waste, provided such a "result can be attained with due regard to the preservation of the rights and protection of the interests of all affected thereby."

FELIX GROUP ABSENT

One of the noteworthy features of the conference was the absence of representatives of the Felix Oil Company, whose well in the north dome of the Kettleman is the latest to come in a producer. It was the objection of the Felix company officials to the proposed shutdown of Kettleman development and production that was directly responsible for the meeting here today. They declined to offer any explanation of absence.

Secretary Wilbur spoke for approximately half an hour on the government's proposed conservation program, the substance of his statement being an urgent recommendation that the independent oil concerns and individuals who own lands in the area of proven and probable production get together in an agreement which will provide an orderly program that will obviate waste of the natural resources.

WILBUR'S COUNSEL

"It seems to me it would be better to get into a co-operative agreement, than to be outlawed and in a position to get all the blows," Secretary Wilbur said, asserting that the test of the State conservation law, which is now before the courts at Hanford, is the only effective

FEARS FELT FLOOD ZONE VICTIMS DIE

Flyers Report Starvation Indicated by Actions of Marooned in Indiana

VINCINNES (Ind.) Jan. 27. (Exclusive)—With definite information from marooned spots still lacking, fear is expressed that some of the flood victims in farmhouses along the White and Wabash rivers have starved to death. Urgent appeals for help for those isolated continue to come from Red Cross officials and United States Army and State militia flyers who are co-operating to relieve conditions in Southern Indiana and Western Illinois.

Maj. R. F. Taylor, commanding officer of the National Guard air squadron, who has been patrolling the district around Hazelton, today told of flying over one home Friday where a boy came out and waved. Saturday he circled the place and the boy came out, though walking feebly. Today he again flew over the home and no one appeared. Taylor is certain the boy is either seriously ill or worse.

Capt. Earl W. Sweeney, executive in charge of operations, relates similar tales. Between Mt. Vernon and Shawneetown the territory is threatened with disaster because an ice jam at the mouth of the Little Wabash had caused the water to rise to its highest level there today.

Aviators say conditions in this area are appalling, with more than 500 persons unable to communicate with the outside world from the water-bound homes. There is a general lack of smoke appearing from these homes.

Lieut. D. D. Watson, who flew with Sweeney, saw one home below Mt. Vernon on the Illinois side of the Wabash, where ten or fifteen women and children were isolated.

FIVE DIE IN AIR CRASH

Monoplane Dives Suddenly

Four Passengers and Pilot Perish in Fiery Wreck of Central Air Liner

Cause Not Explained Before Employees from Airport Drag Away Ruins

KANSAS CITY, Jan. 27. (AP)—Five persons were killed in the crash of a passenger monoplane in a stubble field near Fairfax Airport here late today. The ship plunged to earth from an altitude of about 500 feet and then burst into flames.

Carrying four passengers and its pilot, the single-motored Travel Air ship, which left Wichita, Kan., at 3:30 p.m., had made the usual circle of the airport. Suddenly it descended at a sharp angle and plunged into a field about fifty feet from a factory. There was an instant explosion and a flash of flames.

Airport attendants rushed to the wreck with fire extinguishers, but were unable to reach any of the passengers or the pilot because of the intense heat. It was believed all aboard the plane were killed when the ship struck the ground.

LIST OF DEAD

The dead are:

Dyke Laudeman, Kansas City, pilot of the plane.

Miss Margaret Dice, St. Joseph, Mo.

C. R. McKinnon, Chicago; St. Louis manager of Robbins & Myers Sales, Inc.

James B. Eggert, Chicago, manager of the Ager-Yellin-Bernstein Music Publishing Company.

William Flynn, Kansas City, Mo., owner of the Globe Theater and former City Alderman.

The plane was owned by the Central Air Lines and operated as part of the Universal Air Lines, Inc. Universal officials could advance no reason for the crash.

The plane was the second section of the Universal line's afternoon service from Wichita to Kansas City. The first plane, with pilot and four passengers, landed a few minutes before the ill-fated second ship crashed.

Immediately after the bodies were removed from the charred wreckage, a dozen pilots and mechanics for the Universal corporation equipped with axes, hacksaws and ropes were dispatched to the scene by E. L. Sloniger, general manager of the branch here, to destroy all evidence of the accident.

As soon as the flames subsided, the burned and mutilated bodies were removed.

PHOTOGRAPHERS THREATENED

Parts of the wreckage were cut away and dragged across the field into darkness. In an hour the wreckage was scattered over a wide area, nothing remaining at the scene except charred bits of cloth and a few personal belongings of the victims.

While the work was in progress, the pilots threatened newspaper photographers who attempted to take pictures of the smoldering ruins.

James Hare, field manager of Fairfax Airport, advanced the opinion that some accident to the controls of the ship caused the crash. Laudeman was known as one of the most careful pilots of the line. He had been flying since 1922.

LASKY BACK FROM WILDS

Film Magnate Tells of Village Watching Him Go to Bed and of Joust With Pig in Mexican Hinterland

MEXICO CITY, Jan. 27. (AP)—Going to bed in the plaza of an Indian village with a curious populace looking on and then being awakened in the middle of the night by a pig crawling under his cot was one of the experiences of Jesse L. Lasky, film magnate, who is en route to the United States after a boat journey filled with adventures in the State of Guerrero.

The Lasky party, which spent three weeks exploring the wild regions along the Balsas River, some of which never before have been visited by white men, arrived one night at a village where there were no sleeping accommodations.

The native Indians, however, overdid themselves in courtesy to the white visitors, and, as a mark of the highest honor, extended the use of the central plaza for sleeping purposes. When the offer was accepted the village chieftains were overjoyed, Lasky said, and called the entire populace to watch the white men prepare for bed.

PIG DISTURBS SLEEP

Late at night, after the Indians finally had satisfied their curiosity at the strange habits of the visitors and retired, Lasky said he was awakened by the strange sensation of something crawling under his bed. Thoroughly alarmed, he grabbed his pistol with one hand and with the other reached for the intruder. The hand came up with a tail on the end of which was a squealing pig, whose nocturnal protests disturbed the entire camp and village.

At another point a canoe heavily laden with supplies escaped in the rapids of the treacherous Balsas River and went swiftly down the stream. Lasky dispatched one of the guides after it, the man keeping on the bank while he pursued the canoe.

CANOE ESCAPES

A mile below the runner saw that the canoe had been seized by Indians on the other bank, who appeared to be looting the contents. The temper of the Indians of that neighborhood toward the visitors was unknown, but inasmuch as the canoe contained valuable supplies the runner swam the river to attempt to recover it.

When the arrived at the opposite bank he found that the Indians had removed several guns from the boat and were firing them into the air in celebration. Other Indians had discovered a case of bottles containing mosquito lotion, which they had opened and the contents of which they were drinking. The Indians calmly and with profuse apologies returned the guns to the boat and turned it over to the runner.

RIOT DEATH OF FILIPINO PROTESTED

Mass Meeting in Manila Adopts Manifesto Urging Complete Independence

MANILA, Jan. 27. (AP)—A strong manifesto protesting against the death of Fermin Tobera, Filipino, during the race riots at Watsonville, Cal., was adopted at a meeting tonight of leading educators, legislators and labor leaders.

The manifesto urged "a national discipline and personal sacrifice on the part of each and every Filipino at this time of national humiliation."

Memorial services for Tobera were set for February 2 in the Manila public plaza. It was expected the entire city would turn out as a "peaceful protest."

The manifesto adopted today was drafted by Dean Jorge Bucogo of the college of law of the University of the Philippines. Couched in impressive phrases, it called the Philippines' attention to the thousands of their countrymen in America whose "lives at this very moment are in serious jeopardy." The manifesto concludes, "Let us all attempt to reiterate the desire for complete separation now that under the American flag we are not assured that we can enjoy the same rights and opportunities of American citizens. Let the demonstration also express our good will toward the American nation as a whole with the assurance that we will continue extending hospitality to American citizens in the Philippines."

There were no attempts today to carry out threatened retaliatory outbreaks for the Watsonville riots.

PROHIBITION MACHINE MUST GO DRY, MITCHELL RULES

Attorney-General Declares Only Nondrinkers Will Get Jobs Under His Regime

BY LAURENCE M. BENEDICT
"Times" Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27. (Exclusive)—Atty.-Gen. Mitchell today laid down the rule that only nondrinkers need expect appointment or reappointment as law enforcement officials in his department, soon to have complete handling of prohibition cases.

He made it known that for some time past the Department of Justice has secretly investigated the private habits of persons recommended for enforcement posts, such as those of district attorney and United States marshal, and that a man who drinks liquor has "very definite handicaps to appointment or reappointment in the legal service of the government."

This policy of having a bone-dry organization will presumably apply generally in the Department of Justice after it has taken over entire control of prohibition enforcement, as contemplated in the administration measure now being considered at the Capitol, and means that every one of the 4000 or more Federal dry agents, as well as higher court officials, will have to abstain from alcoholic beverages if they expect to keep their jobs.

LONG STEP TO DRYNESS

The Attorney-General's action is regarded as the longest step ever taken toward having the Eighteenth Amendment and Volstead Act enforced by officials and agents who are themselves respecters of prohibition and abide by it.

Mr. Mitchell's determination to have only personal drys in enforcement work was revealed in a letter he gave the House Expenditures Committee after he had appeared before this committee to indorse the Williamson bill for transfer of prohibition enforcement from the Treasury to the Department of Justice. It was a letter to a person whose name was deleted, explaining why a special agent of the Department of Justice had investigated the personal habits and prohibition views of a candidate for appointment as United States Marshal in an unnamed district.

In the letter the Attorney-General declared it to be obvious that efficient enforcement of the dry laws could not be expected from officials who use liquor themselves or who disbelieve in the principle of prohibition.

"The inquiries made by our agents about the habits of candidates as to the use of liquor and their views on prohibition are made at my direction," he wrote.

MOST LIQUOR ILLEGAL

"My purpose is to obtain all the information that is available about any candidate which bears on his qualifications for the post and his probable efficiency and helps me to form an opinion as to whether he will be an efficient and satisfactory public officer. United States attorneys, assistant United States attorneys and United States marshals have directly to do with the enforcement of the national prohibition act and the prosecution of cases under it. So far as the personal use of liquor is concerned, I do not believe that any of the men in these posts should drink under any circumstances.

"Stocks of prewar liquor are a negligible quantity, so far as general consumption is concerned. It is quite generally understood now that this is so, and that with few exceptions liquor that is served is illegally manufactured or imported. If a United States marshal or other official who has do do with the national prohibition act is observed to have a supply of liquor and use it, it is generally assumed that it is obtained from illicit sources and I do not think that either wets or drys have much respect for a man who participates as a public official in the prosecution of bootleggers and patronizes them for a personal supply of liquor.

VIEWS ALSO VITAL

"With respect to the views of a candidate on prohibitoin, that is also an important matter, bearing on probable efficiency of the candidate in the prosecution of prohibition cases. No head of any administrative organization would think it wise to assign to a particular task a man who does not believe in what is being done, has no heart in it, and whose activities are constantly

POINT WON BY FRANCE

Naval Conferees Have Clashes

Paris Envoys Get Chance to Offer Total Tonnage Proposal First

Italian Scheme Must Wait; American and Japanese Units Mark Time

LONDON, Jan. 27. (AP)—France today gained a technical victory on a point of procedure for the formal agenda of the five-power naval disarmament conference after a meeting of the chief delegates at No. 10 Downing street.

What actually happened was that after nearly three hours of keen discussion, the delegates endeavored to settle part of their disagreement by invoking the alphabet, and under its auspices France, by precedence over Italy, was granted the right to propose discussion of the French plan for limitation of naval armaments by total tonnage instead of by categories of ships.

This is expected to produce a compromise on the global tonnage proposals satisfactory to all the powers. Meanwhile, Italy's desire to plunge into the question of maximum and minimum fleets for each country must wait.

PROGRESS SLOW

Secretary of State Stimson admitted that today's meeting, which lasted far past the hour for lunch, had proceeded more slowly than he desired.

For the Americans and the Japanese it was largely a day of watchful waiting while the European delegates maneuvered in a maze of technicalities relating to Franco-Italian problems, including naval parity.

It remained for the British government to add a realistic disarmament touch, entirely apart from the conference itself, to the events of the day by announcing the cancellation of construction orders for two 10,000-ton cruisers, the Northumberland and the Surrey.

Suspension of construction on these ships was announced by Prime Minister MacDonald before he started on his American trip last autumn, and the admiralty's order of the day simply makes suspension absolute. Plans for the two cruisers had been perfected, but work had not begun. They do not figure in the British estimates of the fifty cruisers necessary for her minimum fleet allowance.

HOPE INDICATED

Though not put forward as a definite gesture toward disarmament at this time, a British spokesman today said the cancellation nevertheless indicates a healthy hope that the London conference will accomplish something. The same official spokesman tonight de-

WILL ROGERS REMARKS:

LONDON, Jan. 27.—[To the Editor of The Times:] Had lunch today in their rooms with Mr. and Mrs. Morrow and elder daughter, Elizabeth, and Mr. and Mrs. Stimson were there, and he told me "You go back home, Will, and announce that one of America's much-advertised talents has been overestimated, we are not the masters of bunk." He had just come from a five-hour siege with the whole mess of 'em. Morrow is funny; he pulled a good one. We are getting along fine, beautiful compliments, but nobody has mentioned the word navy. I look for the word to come up some day, and when it does I just want to see what the conference will do.

England this morning ordered work stopped on two cruisers, the Surrey and Northumberland. These are the same two MacDonald ordered work stopped on, last July when the papers were all full of it, and Mr. Hoover saw him two and raised him one by stopping work on three of ours. If Mr. Hoover sees this raise I hope he does it with the same ships, too. They will keep on stopping work on the two till the first thing you know they will be late building 'em.

But all sinking aside, our boys seem very optimistic and feel that something will be accomplished. They are all crazy about Joe Robinson. Mr. Hoover can feel proud of his lads, but boy, there is some tough babies here. Talk about taking boats away from them; there is delegations here that wouldn't give up an oar to see eternal salvation.

Yours,
WILL ROGERS.

MITCHELL GIVES NEW DRY RULING

Attitude Revealed in Power Transfer Approval

Drinking Officer Declared Bad Influence

hampered by a strong distaste for and disapproval of the work he has to do.

"If the public officials who are charged with duties in relation to the enforcement of the national prohibition act are known by bootleggers, witnesses, and jurymen to use liquor themselves, with the probability that they are patronizing the illicit traffic in liquors, or their disagreement with prohibition is such that it becomes known or the subject of expression by them or others, it has a demoralizing effect on the whole machinery of law enforcement.

HALF OF CASES ON LIQUOR

"Out of some 80,000 criminal cases begun in the Federal courts during the last fiscal year, more than half were cases under the national prohibition act. We do not want fanatics or zealots engaged in prosecuting these cases, but as a mere administrative matter it is quite obvious to me that efficient, thorough and diligent work cannot be expected of those who patronize illicit traffic in liquors and have definite and decided opposition to the whole principle of prohibition and make it known. I feel, therefore, that it is my duty in passing upon the qualifications of candidates for these posts to know what their habits are and what their attitude is toward prohibition, and that I could not safely reach a conclusion about their qualifications without knowing these facts.

"I have not made any hard and fast rule on the subject and there are many matters respecting a man's ability and personal qualifications that have to be considered, but I believe that no man who makes a practice of drinking intoxicating liquor or who has definite or pronounced views in opposition to prohibition, belongs, during this administration, in any post having directly to do with the prosecution of cases under the national prohibition act. It seems to me that such men had better seek positions in some other branch of the government or a private occupation. I have not made any blare of trumpets about this matter, but I am not at all reluctant to have it known among those in the service of this department that the habitual use of liquor and opposition to prohibition are very definite handicaps to appointment or re-appointment in this service."

TRANSFER OUTLINED

In his appearance before the House committee Atty.-Gen. Mitchell expressed complete approval of the bill to transfer enforcement to his department and urged that the legislation be speeded. He said that in making the change attorneys now in the Treasury working on prohibition cases would be transferred to the Department of Justice and would be absorbed there on an equality with other lawyers in the department. He strongly opposed suggestions that attorneys in the prohibition work be placed under civil service, declaring the appointing power should be given as free a hand as possible in getting men well qualified for their duties without regard for political pull.

In answer to questions by Representative Schaefer, Republican wet of Wisconsin, the Attorney-General said that the proposed legislation would give his department all the authority it needed to investigate alcohol withdrawals that looked shady. He declared it was not contemplated that the Justice Department look into every withdrawal authorized by the Treasury, but that it would have a virtual veto power which it could exercise whenever necessary.

The committee decided, over the protests of Schaefer, Cochran of Missouri and other wets, not to call Dr. Clarence True Wilson, head of the Methodist church temperance board; F. Scott McBride, superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League, or J. J. Britt, chief counsel of the prohibition unit in the Treasury. The wets wanted these men called for a field day of questioning on the merits of prohibition, its enforceability, dry lobbying methods, etc., but the committee, which is preponderantly dry, decided it would only mean a waste of time.

The committee is now near a report on the bill making the enforcement transfer.

MONTANA-IDAHO ADMINISTRATOR ATTACKED

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27. (AP)—Immediate removal of John F. C. Herbert as prohibition administrator for Montana and Idaho was demanded in the Senate today by Senators Borah of Idaho and Wheeler of Montana on the ground of charges placed before them by Department of Justice investigators.

Both Wheeler and Borah said they had been informed that the Department of Justice had investigated Herbert when he was prohibition administrator from Maryland and reported "malfeasance and corruption."

"If the facts be true as reported to me by a representative of the Department of Justice," said Borah, "this man has no business in Idaho or Montana or anywhere else outside of the penitentiary."

Herbert was transferred recently from Baltimore to the northwestern district. His assistant at Baltimore, J. C. Quinn, has been dismissed.

Assistant Secretary Lowman of the Treasury defended Herbert as "capable and efficient."

Lowman said, "The prohibition bureau has no evidence before it of intentional wrong doing."

BLINDNESS RAVAGES TOWN

Horrible Toll Taken by Trachoma in Turkish Village Likened to "City of Dreadful Night"

ADIYAMAN (Turkey) Jan. 27. (AP)—Now that communications have been opened partially in Turkey's long-isolated turbulent eastern provinces, travelers are bringing to the world news of the existence of a hidden and dreadful village—Adiyaman, the village of the blind.

In the dusty, sandy district of Hisnimansour, not far from the city of Malatia, lies this village, of whose 7000 inhabitants, 6791 are wholly or partly sightless through the ravages of trachoma.

It is a village without sound except for the tap, tap of hundreds of canes on cobbled roads as the population gropes its way through a ghostly life from blind childhood to blind old age and death. Through Adiyaman's squalid dung-thatched huts and dust-polluted alleys, squalid dusty human beings crawl like animals without eyes.

Utterly disregarded by the old regime of the sultans, the village has for centuries been without a school or hospital. Without solace or help its peasant population, stricken generation after generation by trachoma, has made its living painfully and half-blindly through farming and herding.

Five times a day, year after year, this derelict population has filled the village mosque to pray to Allah. Their prayers have not mentioned their affliction, for, according to the Moslem faith, complaints arouse the wrath of destiny. The prayers of even the most wretched followers of Islam thank Allah for what they have, lest worse befall.

The village is utterly unlighted at night, for there are only a handful of villagers who could see by any light. Kipling's city of dreadful night becomes a reality in this Anatolian town where night and day are of the same dire blackness.

Adiyaman is probably the only place in Anatolia where Moslem women wear no veils. For the women of Adiyaman, religious as they are, no veils are necessary beyond the veil of universal blindness which hides a women even from her father and husband and child in this sightless village.

The government of Mustapha Kemal is struggling to combat the trachoma peril here and in all the surrounding district. Doctors have been dispatched to the province and clinics opened. Already, within a brief period, the government has spent $75,000 on the treatment of 155,144 trachoma cases, including the entire population of blind Adiyaman and the afflicted in forty-eight other villages of the Hisnimansour district.

WILBUR JOLTS OIL GROUP

means of obtaining an orderly and economic development if his proposed program fails.

Spokesmen for the landowners declared that the complete shutdown of the field might prove beneficial for future generations, but they, who have owned the land for twenty or thirty years in the hope of obtaining returns, are entitled to consideration now.

The Federal government has no legal authority to enforce a conservation program on lands privately owned, Wilbur said, and pointed to the law adopted by the last Legislature as the only means of bringing about what he termed an "economic and scientific" development of the tremendously rich field.

PRODUCTION ESTIMATE

Asserting that three times as much money has been wasted as has been realized from the development of the Kettleman area, Wilbur estimated that the probable production of the field will run from $2,500,000,000 to $4,000,000,000. He fixed the potential production of the field at a valuation of $1 a barrel at the well, and did not take into consideration the huge production of natural gas.

He said that methods of production without waste are known, but without a co-ordinated program more than half of it will be wasted, and will become a dead loss to the country, State and nation.

"The problem is in the split ownership," he said. "If the government, which owns about one-third of the field, owned it all, or one large company owned it all, the matter would be simple. It is not only the amount which will be wasted by going off in the air, but vast amounts may be left in the ground by disorderly private development.

AIMS EXPLAINED

"We want the adoption of a method whereby the technical experts will tell us what to do and how to do it, eliminating waste and saving every bit of oil in the field, rather than to let the man who only wants to make money and make it now do it."

He pointed out three media through which he said waste may be obviated:

(1.) A combination of ownerships in the interest of deriving the largest possible returns.

(2.) The power of the Federal government through its ownership of one-third of the land involved, and its statutory power to negotiate agreements for the control of drilling and of wastage.

(3.) The straight gas waste law which gives the State power to shut down wells, whose product is not being used in an economic manner.

"No one group interested in Kettleman Hills can be selfish without the others being involved," Wilbur declared. He expressed the belief that the greatest good will come if there is a well-laid plan. He pointed out that if the entire field were under a single ownership, the program he advocates would undoubtedly have been adopted.

LANDOWNERS' STAND

Spokesmen for the landowners asserted that such a program as that proposed by Secretary Wilbur, under which production would be shut down in the Kettleman field until July 1, 1931, is discriminatory.

Henry Hawson, president of the Elsinore Oil Company, fee woners, who presided as chairman, said that drilling is still in active progress in the fields of Kern and Los Angeles counties and that wells with huge production are being brought in frequently in the Oklahoma fields. Because of this situation, he added the Kettleman landowners feel that they are being discriminated against in the proposed conservation program.

Hawson also emphasized the human element, involving those, who have held to their lands for years in hope that they eventually would prove valuable.

Wilbur responded with the statement that the only hope for remedial action in other fields where the lands are privately owned is through State conservation laws, and that with regard to the human element, the program proposed seeks to increase profits both individual and economic.

With such a supply of fuel for industrial purposes midway between Los Angeles and San Francisco, California has the means of becoming one of the nation's greatest industrial States, provided the gas is conserved and utilized only as productive consumption arises, Wilbur said.

He also pointed to the State Gas Conservation Act as a means toward this industrial development, and predicted that if it is sustained by the courts in California, that Texas and other States of heavy oil production undoubtedly will adopt it to prevent waste of their natural resources.

FRANCE WINS PARLEY POINT

clared that despite the seemingly slow progress of the negotiations the conference is enjoying a "normal, healthy life."

Outside the conference rooms, the Americans and the Japanese chiefly devoted themselves to denying various reports and rumors.

QUESTIONS ANSWERED

In quick succession, the American spokesman assured questioning correspondents first, that nothing has been done in London to settle the 30,000-ton difference in cruiser tonnage still existing between Great Britain and America in parity estimates; second, that the question of an increased cruiser ratio for Japan has not been discussed by the American delegation in London, and third, that the proposed Mediterranean security pact, concerning which many rumors have been current since the conference started, has not been taken up with the American delegation.

A British provincial newspaper that is usually well informed went so far wrong today as to affirm that the American delegation was ready to enter such a Mediterranean pact. It is learned that the American delegation never has been asked it's opinion about this pact. Moreover, Prime Minister MacDonald's announcement just before the conference started, that such a regional pact of security would not figure in the proceedings, seems to settle definitely various reports that it does.

JAPANESE STAND

The Japanese delegates hold such detached views on most of the technical problems about the items on the agenda that all the European delegations have been trying to convince each other that ex-Premier Wakatsuki and his men are on their side in the different discussions.

The Japanese spokesman said today he wished emphatically to make public the fact that the Japanese have no special desires about the order of items on the agenda.

The Japanese refuted a report widely circulated in the London press that they were insisting on the placing of armed merchant ships as a subject on the agenda.

Despite the advantage France was supposed to have gained at the big five meeting this morning, M. Tardieu was none too optimistic of the progress the conference is making as he concluded the day's work. He estimates that the delegates may get down to actual disarmament problems within eight days and he views two months as the probable length of the negotiations. Already domestic duties are crowding him and he plans to return to Paris week-ends to carry out his work as Premier.

HOPE DISCERNED

Despite the wide divergence of their views on their national naval requirements, France and Italy may be brought together by a formula circulated in conference circles today which in its ultimate application would eliminate the whole troublesome issue of parity from disarmament negotiations.

France earlier today indicated approval of the formula and tonight the Associated Press learned authoritatively that Italy is likely to accept the tentative draft which will serve as a preamble to a five-power naval agreement. The formula recognizes "the sovereign right to each country to possess in principle the naval forces necessary for its defense." It adds that the nations participating in the conference pledge themselves to limit and reduce armaments to determined levels during the term of years that the treaty is in effect.

CRUISER ISSUE AGITATED IN JAPAN

TOKIO, Jan. 27. (AP)—It is understood here today the Japanese government probably will not press its point at the London naval conference that capital ships be discussed first. The government does not consider the order of precedence of major importance.

On the other hand there are growing indications, both in official and unofficial circles, of a tendency to regard the eight-inch gun or 10,000-ton cruisers as the supreme issue.

Naval circles particularly hint broadly that they consider Prime Minister MacDonald in his ardent desire to prevent futile competition between Great Britain and America acted over-hastily in agreeing tentatively to fewer eight-inch-gun cruisers than America and that he overlooked Japan entirely.

There appears to be a genuine fear that this may lead to friction between Great Britain and Japan as Japan considers a 70 per cent ratio with the cruiser strength of America as necessary for her defensive requirements.

BYRD ONE YEAR IN ANTARCTICA

Eleanor Bolling Sailed Into Bay Last January

Struggle to Get Out Shows Changed Conditions

Camp Crew Anxious to be Homeward Bound

BY RUSSELL OWEN

LITTLE AMERICA (Antarctica) Jan. 27. (Exclusive)—Just a year ago today the Eleanor Bolling reached the Bay of Whales and this year she is not quite to the outer edge of the pack which shows the great difference in conditions better than many words. Last year she came through the broken pack without difficulty and day before yesterday the last whaler to be in the pack managed to extricate herself from the ice on the north side.

When the Bolling joins the City of New York in a day or two the ships will lie to until it can be determined whether they should start through and if so whether both should attempt it or only the wooden City of New York. Admiral Byrd has asked the whalers for a report on the ice conditions as two of them have penetrated the pack deeply and know of what it consists better than anyone else. The captains of both the expedition ships will also be able to discuss the situation together and with the whalers.

PACK STILL HEAVY

There is no doubt that the pack is still heavy. It lies about 650 miles north of us in a great arc stretching between Cape Adare and the ice field north of King Edward Land. It seemed to be about 120 miles wide at present with a heavy belt of thick ice in the center. The center of the pack at longitude 180 seems to be about latitude 68 deg. 30 min. south. The whalers are all lying on the outside of the pack. Both the New York and the Bolling have brought supplies south for the whalers—fresh meat, cases of equipment, harpoons and mail. Some of this has been unloaded from the New York which is also taking aboard food and supplies which Admiral Byrd had put on board the whalers for use in a possible emergency. The Bolling when she arrives will unload her supplies for the whalers before doing anything else.

As for the men in Little America they are doing what can be done in preparation for leaving although as yet they have no more idea than the man in the moon how they are going to get out or when. The bay ice despite its many cracks and continuous signs of movement is no nearer going out than it was a month ago and with the night temperatures dropping to 6 below zero the new openings in the bay freeze over in a short time.

"There is a trail to the other side of the bay which permits sledging to be done and some equipment is being taken there out near the west cape of the Bay of Whales, so that if the expedition ships get through they can be loaded more quickly.

A chart has been put up here in the mess hall and on it the positions of the New York and Bolling are placed every day so that we can see what the ships are doing and also where the whalers are fishing—they call it that although whales are not fish. Ships and ice and the topic of "when do we leave" have led to the formation of a debating society called the "Harbor Board," the chief function of which is the perpetuation of humor. As Chips Gould, who has been to sea all his life, says, "This is a fine harbor, one ship a year and it doesn't come in. I'm a walking delegate for the longshoremen's union and I've got nothing to do." Our other immediate concern aside from the ice pack is that there is a lot of mail wandering around a few days sail from us which we would like to see.

CUT IN TAX DENIED FOR DRY LOSSES

Supreme Court Rejects Pleas from Brewer and Distiller for Reductions

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27. (AP)—The Supreme Court held today that when a business is destroyed by Congress the owners are not entitled to ask compensation by tax reduction. The ruling was made in denying brewing companies the right to deduct the value of lost good will from income tax returns.

The right of brewing establishments, closed as a result of national prohibition, to seek such compensation was raised by the Haberle Crystal Springs Brewing Company of Northern New York.

Frederick C. Renziehausen of Pittsburgh also failed in the Supreme Court today in an effort to have certain deductions made in Federal taxes from 1918 to 1921 for losses he said were suffered through Federal prohibition by the large distilling company, which he owned, and a wholesale liquor firm, in which he was a partner.

Superior Judge Wood passed the sentence and to his knowledge it is the first time in the history of English or American law that a murderer has been sentenced to pay twice with his life for his crimes.

Right Food Corrects Cause of Constipation

Millions of people use laxatives and a good laxative is often necessary when the system becomes sluggish and clogged with waste. But laxatives bring only temporary relief. They do not correct the cause of constipation.

Science now knows that correct diet is far more effective than any medicine in keeping the stomach and bowels working properly. It has been discovered that Vitamin B, an element found principally in certain whole grains and green vegetables, tones stomach and bowels; and the absence or deficiency of this vitamin in your food causes much stomach and bowel trouble.

Meat and fish, white bread, pastry and other refined starch and sugar foods do not contain Vitamin B, and hence millions of people who do not eat enough whole grains and leafy vegetables suffer from stomach trouble, constipation, etc.

You may correct this condition by using Vegex, the richest known food in Vitamin B. [illegible] ful of Vegex per day, [illegible] other foods—soups, [illegible] etc., will provide all [illegible] B needed to make up the [illegible] of this vitamin in other [illegible] eaten.

HOTEL BURNING PLOT EXPOSED

St. Louis Fire in 1927 Cost Seven Lives

Night Watchman and Clerk Accuse Owners

Charges of Murder and Arson Will be Filed

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 27. (AP)—Chief of Police Gerk today announced that Andrew Meadows, 53 years of age, night watchman at the old Hotel Buckingham annex, where seven lives were lost in a fire December 5, 1927, had confessed to police he had been hired by his superiors to fire the building in a plot to collect fire insurance.

The watchman, according to Gerk, named Robert H. Cotham, 58, night clerk at the hotel, as the man who hired him. The clerk said the fire had been suggested to him by one of his superiors.

MURDER TO BE CHARGED

As a result of the statements the watchman, clerk and two men prominent in real estate and financial circles are under arrest. Three of the four will be charged with first-degree murder and arson, Joseph A. Lennon, assistant Circuit Attorney, said tonight. The three include Ralph Pierson, 52, former owner of 40 per cent of the hotel's stock; Meadows and Cotham.

The fourth man held is Lewis E. Balson, 47, a real-estate dealer and former owner of 60 per cent of the stock, but Lennon said he had not determined what disposition to make of his case. A fifth person, Mrs. Leona Thurman, a former maid, is being held as a material witness.

ACCUSED COLLAPSES

Pierson was removed to the City Hospital when he collapsed at police headquarters after hearing Cotham's statement.

At the hospital Pierson denied to newspaper men any knowledge of the charges made against him in the confession of Cotham. He recently underwent an operation brought on by a neck infection and has not fully recovered. He declared "any charge of that sort is preposterous as far as it concerns me," and also said at the time of the fire his holdings amounted to practically nothing. He could give no reason for Cotham or Meadows implicating him in the asserted plot.

Investigation into the arson plot was made by fire underwriters after another clerk had heard Meadows say, "certain persons" owed him between $4000 and $5000. Cotham was confronted by employees who had heard Meadows's statement and he was said to have broken down and confessed, implicating the others. Cotham said he received $95 for his part in the plot, while Meadows told police he had received a total of $820. Both said they had been promised about $5000.

According to H. E. Jennings, special agent for the underwriters, the hotel was insured for $295,000 at the time of the fire. Payment on the policies was refused and suits were filed in Federal Court, where judgments for $192,000 were obtained. A total of $30,000 was paid after the judgment was awarded.

HOTEL IN TROUBLE

The hotel was in financial difficulties and a receiver was appointed for it in June, 1927. There were $840,000 in deeds of trust against the annex and the Buckingham Hotel, both properties having been purchased by Balson and Pierson for $1,000,000 in August, 1925.

Meadows in his statement said he fired the building by lighting a match to old newspapers in a dressing-table drawer in the maids' cloakroom.

Cotham told newspaper men today that his guilt has weighed so heavily on his conscience he has been unable to sleep in a dark room.

BETROTHAL OF PRINCESS ANNOUNCED

Ileana of Rumania Will Wed Count Alexander, Son of Prince of Pless

BUCHAREST (Rumania) Jan. 27. (AP)—Official announcement of the engagement of Princess Ileana, daughter of Dowager Queen Marie, to Count Alexander of Hochberg, second son of the Prince of Pless, is expected Saturday.

The approaching engagement was celebrated at a family gathering at Predeal yesterday.

The newspaper Cubantul of Bucharest last Saturday said that the only reason public announcement of the engagement was held up was because both concerned are seeking a means by which the Princess might retain her royal title. Princess Ileana, who celebrated her 21st birthday this month, has been reported engaged many times, the Prince of Wales and Prince Humbert of Italy being among those mentioned. Count Alexander, who is 25 years of age, is the second son of the head of the house of Pless.

CITIZENSHIP APPLIED FOR BY ACTRESS

Irene Bordoni Desires Americanization After Marriage Fails of End

NEW YORK, Jan. 27. (AP)—Irene Bordoni, motion-picture and stage actress, who is a little worried just now over the possibility of being a woman without a country, today applied for American citizenship.

Miss Bordoni once automatically became an American citizen by her marriage to E. Ray Goetz, motion-picture producer, but the marriage was annulled in Chicago three months ago as it was found to have been performed before the expiration of the time limit forbidding Goetz to remarry after a divorce.

One lawyer told her, Miss Bordoni said, that the annulment took away her American citizenship and another, she said, informed her that it failed to restore her French citizenship.

In her application today Miss Bordoni stated that her parents were Corsicans and that she spent her childhood on that island. All true Corsicans, she explained, claim to be cousins of Napoleon Bonaparte.

TRISTATE MEET CRISIS AT HAND

Scheduled Interview for Press Called Off

Delegate's Departure Taken as Sign of Finish

Parley's Success or Failure Deemed Imminent

BY CHESTER G. HANSON
"Times" Staff Representative

RENO, Jan. 27. (Exclusive)—Deliberations and preliminary negotiations of the tri-State conference on the Colorado River appeared to be rapidly approaching a crisis tonight as a scheduled conference between members of the press and Col. W. J. Donovan, chairman of the conference, was called off.

Col. Donovan had said that there might be an important announcement at the 6 o'clock press conference tonight. Late this afternoon he sent out word that here was nothing new and hence no reason to hold a conference.

INFERENCES DRAWN

Inferentially the cancellation was taken to mean either that what proposal or announcement was to have been made was not sufficiently advanced to permit publication or that there had been a hitch in the plans and somebody somewhere along the line was backing down on a tentative proposal.

The most likely explanation was that which pictured Arizona as having made a definite offer or demand to California and that the California commission was at work drafting a reply. It is known that the California men have been in conference all afternoon, following an informal meeting with some of the Arizona men this morning. Also Chief Engineer Weymouth of the Metropolitan Water District, who was here earlier in the conference, has returned from a trip to Los Angeles, where he is said to have conferred with officials of the city water department on certain phases of the Colorado River problem.

CAT DUE TO JUMP

As one of the blunter men in attendance here remarked today, "The cat's gotta jump one way or another pretty soon—she's been up in the air long enough now."

While it is true that everyone appears to be in a pleasant mood, it is also true that many are getting tired of this preliminary sparring and want the matter brought out in the open and finished off one way or the other. Throughout the day observers were turning over the possible significance of the departure for his home this morning of H. E. Heffner of San Marino, member of the board of directors of the Metropolitan Water District.

TWO INTERPRETATIONS

Heffner himself left without making any announcement, but an earlier remark of his to the effect that as far as he could see the matter of an agreement between Arizona and California was a purely business proposition and should be handled that way, was recalled. His departure could be construed as having one of two meanings. Either he concluded that the agreement was in sight and his presence was not needed here any longer, or that an agreement was hopeless and it was useless to stay on.

Chairman Whitsett of the Metropolitan Water District, who is here, said that Mr. Heffner was called home by pressure of business. Heffner is a man of means who is connected with large cattle interests in Arizona, knows the people over there and can talk the language of both California and Arizona. It was thought possible that he plans to see Secretary of the Interior Wilbur in connection with some phases of the problems now before the conference.

BOULDER DAM EXPECTED TO BE WILBUR'S TOPIC

The administration's views on the development of the Colorado River are expected to be voiced here today when Secretary of the Interior Wilbur addresses a combined meeting of the Chamber of Commerce and the Advertising Club in the Sala d'Oro of the Biltmore at noon.

Coming from the San Joaquin Valley, where he conferred yesterday with oil men, Secretary Wilbur is scheduled to arrive in Los Angeles at 8:50 a.m. on the Southern Pacific's Owl and will be welcomed by Chamber of Commerce officials.

Reservations for the luncheon will be open at the chamber until 11 o'clock this morning.

COMMONS VOTE RATIFIES COURT

Optional-Clause Signature Given Approval

Reservation in Behalf of Navy Rejected

Henderson Cites Paris Pact as Outlawing War

LONDON, Jan. 27. (AP)—British signature to the optional clause of the statutes of the Permanent Court for International Justice at The Hague was ratified tonight in the House of Commons by a vote of 278 to 193.

An amendment offered by Sir Austen Chamberlain, former Foreign Secretary, which would have made the reservation that in carrying out any work for the League of Nations the British navy should be subject only to British maritime law, was rejected. Sir Austen said the Labor government itself in 1924 had insisted on the necessity of this reservation and the situation had changed in no essential since.

Foreign Secretary Arthur Henderson in moving ratification declared the situation now in fact is on a totally different basis from that in 1924, owing to the pact of Paris, which outlawed war.

The optional clause accepts in advance compulsory jurisdiction of the World Court. The clause was inserted so that a nation might declare it accepted jurisdiction as compulsory without special agreement by the nations concerned to submit their dispute to the court.

GIRL'S DREAM COMES TRUE

Young Daughter of Lowly Choreman Learns She Has Become Rich British Noblewoman

PEPPERELL (Mass.) Jan. 27. (AP)—A 16-year-old girl whose day dreams had brought her visions of being a fine titled lady of quality—the sort of dreams girls have—has had those dreams come true.

She had always believed herself to be humble Lucy Harriett Fagge, daughter of a humble choreman, who was so poor after her mother died he couldn't care for her, and sent her to her grandmother's home in Boston. There she had gone to grammar school and last fall had worked in a factory for a month.

Yesterday, though, she came home to her dad, for many years he had been Johnny Harry Lee Fagge, who worked at odd jobs about town, mowing lawns, mending broken furniture and doing similar tasks. Word came from England last week of the death of his brother, Sir John Charles Fagge of Dover, Baronet, and the passing of the title and estates to him. He asked for his daughter to share his new fortunes.

In his modest home here, Sir John told Lucy yesterday of her ancestry, describing to her the Fagge crest and distinguished forbears dating back to the Cromwellian wars, whose names occupy two full pages in Burke's peerage. He told her that she now is Lady Lucy.

Her father is planning to return to England when more instructions arrive. Lucy isn't sure she wishes to go. "I have only been as far as the eighth grade in school," she said, "and aren't the daughters of titled men supposed to be very wise?"

RECIPE TO DARKEN GRAY HAIR

You Can Make a Better Gray Hair Remedy Than You Can Buy

Gray, streaked or faded hair is not only unbecoming, but unnecessary.

Anyone can prepare a simple mixture at home that will darken gray hair, and make it soft and glossy. To a half-pint of water add 1 ounce of bay rum, a small box of Barbo Compound and ¼ oz. of glycerine.

These ingredients can be bought at any drug store at very little cost, or the druggist will put it up for you. Apply to the hair twice a week until the desired shade is obtained. This will make a gray-haired person look twenty years younger. It is easy to use, does not color the scalp, is not sticky or greasy and does not rub off.—[Advertisement.

RAIL PLEA GOES TO WASHINGTON

Briefs in Fight for California Link Filed With I.C.C.

Great Northern and Western Pacific in Action

Arguments in State Hearing Form Gist of Bequest

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27. (Exclusive)—The Great Northern and Western Pacific Railroads today filed with the Interstate Commerce Commission a joint brief in the application for a connecting link in Northeastern California and Southeastern Oregon. Oral hearing on the application was held here from November 13 to 27, last. The link proposed is of 200 miles, from Klamath Falls, Or., to Keddie, Cal.

Briefs of the Southern Pacific and other interveners, opposing the construction are scheduled for filing in another thirty days and twenty days thereafter the appellants will file their reply. It is believed oral arguments will be heard by the commission in April with a possible decision in the early summer.

Foremost of the elements upon which the Great Northern and Western Pacific make their showing for a certificate of public convenience and necessity is the assertion 38,886 miles of railroad trackage valued at $2,305,952,000 are being denied the opportunity to function fully by reason of the gap between Keddie and Klamath Falls. This, as indicated in testimony at the hearing, brings into the picture of consideration the Great Northern, Northern Pacific and connections, the Burlington route and connections and the Santa Fe and connections, looping the entire western two-thirds of the continent.

SUMMARY OF BRIEF

"Instead of building a new, vast, $2,000,000,000 plant of 38,000 miles for the purpose of duplicating Southern Pacific service," says the brief, "we are proposing to spend only one-half of one per cent of that amount and to construct only one-half of one per cent of that mileage. The trains necessary to handle the business already are being operated. We simply propose to use them more effectively.

"The question here involved is not whether existing facilities shall be duplicated but whether one set of existing facilities shall be obstructed in order to force all traffic to move over a preferred and competing system."

IN TIME OF WAR

The brief cites continued steady growth of the Pacific Coast, increased production and consumption of California perishables and a rapid shift of manufacture and distribution from eastern points to the west coast as points proving the future necessity of competitive rail service north of the San Francisco Bay area into Oregon and Washington and the necessity for additional outlets in the northern tier of States.

The proposed line is held forth as "of particular public benefit in time of war," a certainty to force more equitable rate adjustments and a certainty to remove the so-called "Shasta arbitrary," an extra charge on round-trip passenger tickets when routed via the Pacific Northwest, thus spurring tourist business. It is said also the construction, with its consequent benefit, appears the only logical way to keep the Denver and Rio Grande Western in existence. That road is pictured as on the verge of failure because of asserted domination by the Southern Pacific of freight routings into and out of California.

Contention also is made the new Klamath Falls-Alturas line of the Southern Pacific will cut approximately $775,000 annually from the revenue of the Western Pacific and much of the traffic which the Western Pacific will be able to divert because of a connection with the Great Northern will be that "which has been taken away from it."

THYRITE TAMES THUNDERBOLTS

General Electric Engineer Invents Compound

Insulator at Low Voltage Conductor at High

New Material is Valuable for Lightning Arrester

NEW YORK, Jan. 27. (AP)—Discovery of a new material named thyrite, which offers protection from lightning, was announced to the American Institute of Electrical Engineers today by Karl B. McEachron of the General Electric Company.

Thyrite is a compound, in appearance a cross between black slate and porcelain. Its name, of Greek derivation, means "gate," and for electrical current it is almost literally a gate in more senses than one.

INSULATOR OR CONDICTOR

For the ordinary currents used in the industrial and household worlds thyrite is a good insulator, a restrainer that keeps the current from jumping out of bounds, a closed gate. But when the electricity becomes too ardent, thyrite "gives it the gate." If a tremendous overcharge comes along the wire, such as a stroke of lightning, thyrite changes from insulator into a good conductor, offering a ready and harmless pathway for escape of the overcharge.

"Thyrite," said Mr. McEachron, "has the property of decreasing its resistance as electrical voltatge increases. It possesses the remarkable property of being substantially an insulator at one potential and a good conductor at certain higher potentials.

IDEAL ARRESTER

"For the first time in the history of lightning protection it becomes possible to calculate accurately the performance of lightning arresters. The idea of using lightning arresters along a line is not new, but suitable arresters have not been available from the standpoint of size or cost.

"Thyrite can be produced in any shape which can be molded. The great advantages of the new arresters lie in their performance, small size, low cost, low installation cost, small weight and the predictability of the results to be expected."

SENATE SHIELDS NEAR-SILK RATE

Old Guard Stems Assault on Rayon Yarn Tariff

Insurgents Break Ranks in Vote on Schedule

Slightly Higher Duty Laid When Smoke Clears

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27. (AP)—Cutting wide swaths in the ranks of Democrats and Republican independents, the Senate beat back three Democratic attempts today to lower existing tariffs on raw products used for rayon clothing and voted for the slightly higher protection proposed by the Republican regulars.

The debate, lasting all day, centered around an attempt by Senator Wheeler, Democrat, Montana, to eliminate a provision calling for a minimum rate of 45 cents a pound on single and grouped rayon filaments and yarns, the basic products of the rayon industry.

After a lengthy speech in which he charged that the majority of the domestic rayon manufacturers were dominated by an international "price-fixing trust" with headquarters in London, Wheeler lost in his efforts to lower the duty, 52 to 23. Fourteen Democrats, chiefly from rayon centers in the East and South, and thirty-eight Republicans were against him, while eleven other Democrats, ten Republicans and the one Farmer-Labor Senator, Shipstead of Minnesota, supported him.

Senator Simmons, Democrat, North Carolina, who contended the rate of 35 per cent ad valorem proposed by the Montanan was inadequate, endeavored to reduce the minimum specific rate from 45 to 40 cents a pound. He lost, 37 to 34.

AVOID THAT FUTURE SHADOW*

By refraining from over-indulgence, if you would maintain the modern figure of fashion

Avoid the snags along the common-sense path to fitness and fashion. Don't let over-indulgence deprive you of the tantalizing contour of the modern figure. Be moderate—be moderate in all things, even in smoking. Eat healthfully but not immoderately—when your eyes are bigger than your stomach, reach for a Lucky instead. Coming events cast their shadows before. Avoid that future shadow by avoiding over-indulgence if you would maintain the graceful, modern figure with its captivating curves.

HOOVER VOTERS' STAIN INDELIBLE

Florida Law Reads Bolters Out of Party

Democrats Who Turn Aside Barred as Candidates

Only Straight-Ticket Men Worthy of Honors

TALLAHASSEE (Fla.) Jan. 27. (AP)—With campaigns for June primaries in the offing, Florida voters were informed today by Atty.-Gen. Davis that literal application of State election laws would bar from participation as candidates in the Democratic primary all persons who voted for Hoover in the 1928 general election.

The opinion was expressed in the Attorney-General's answer to a letter from a resident of Hastings, Fla. The same rule applies, said Davis, if the candidate voted for Hoover, but otherwise followed the regular list of Democratic nominees. Many Floridans voted such a split ticket in November, 1928.

The law has no effect on voters, however, explained J. T. G. Crawford, National Democratic Committeeman for Florida. Any Democrat who felt he could not support Al Smith in the general election may come back and vote the Democratic ticket at any time, he said.

The Attorney-General pointed out that a candidate for office on the ticket of any party must take an oath that he or she did not vote for the nominee of any other party, national, State or county, at the last general election. This means, said the Attorney-General, that candidates for nomination in the June primary will have to sign a sworn statement that they did not vote for nominees of other parties.

The law applies to the Republican party as well as to the Democratic. For the first time since reconstruction days the Republican party will be ready this June to hold a primary. This is because the Republican party, with Hoover for President and William J. Howey for Governor, polled more than 30 per cent of the votes in the last general election. The State law provides that any party polling such a vote is recognized and may go to the primaries with its next nominations.

FOURTH PLANE VICTIM DIES

THIRST BETRAYS MODERN JONAH

Los Angeles Youth, Trying to Steal Ride Home from Denver in Belly of Embalmed Whale, Startles Crowd When He Crawls from Mouth

DENVER, Jan. 27. (AP)—The faith in miracles of Raymond Crawford, 16-year-old Los Angeles boy, was not shaken today—he blamed a lack of water.

An embalmed whale on exhibition here, offered a cheap and safe way to return to California, Crawford thought, having Jonah in mind probably.

Today he awakened and emerged from the whale's mouth to see a curious throng of spectators, who were as surprised as he. Instead of returning the whale to California immediately the railroad men switched the car to a downtown siding for a continued exhibition.

Crawford, his pockets stuffed with sandwiches, was taken to the city jail where he was held pending word from California relatives.

CONVICTS IN AUBURN RIOT GO TO TRIAL

Six Jointly Accused of Slaying Prisoner Called "Chief Devil" of Upheaval

AUBURN (N. Y.) Jan. 27. (AP)—Handcuffed to alert guards six Auburn convicts today went on trial here jointly on charges of first-degree murder in the killing of Henry Sullivan, another convict called the "Chief Devil" of the prison riot of December 11, 1929.

Those standing trial are Leo Lewis, William Force, Claude Udwine, Albert Cassidy, Frank Leagan and Jesse Thomas. Proceedings to select a jury began promptly after Supreme Court Justice Cunningham, presiding, denied a motion for separate trials.

The prisoners were transferred from the penal institution to the courtroom under most elaborate safety precautions ever witnessed here. Twenty-four guards and State troopers accompanied them.

Auburn city police stood guard along the route. At the Courthouse further strict precautions were taken.

The prisoners watched the initial work of jury selection with keen interest. The room was jammed.

Max Becker, Brooklyn gunman and rioter, indicted for the murder of Principal Keeper George A. Durnford during the December upheaval, will have a separate trial.

MEXICALI GETS NEW TROOPERS

Six Hundred Men Arrive to Replace Group Sent to Interior of Country

MEXICALI, Jan. 27. (Exclusive)—Col. Gavriel Leyva, commander, and 600 Mexican Federal army troops of the Sixth Battalion arrived here yesterday to replace the Twenty-first Battalion, under Col. A. R. Pareyon, which has been transferred to the interior of Mexico. The enlisted men, accompanied by their wives and children, were transported from Mazatlan to Ensenada by boat and were brought overland to the cuartel here by motor truck.

It was announced at the territorial palace here today that Col. Cristobal Limon is the new chief of staff for Jose M. Tapia, military and civil Governor of the Northern District of Lower California. He will replace Col. Pareyon, who served in that capacity under Gov. Rodriguez.

Today's announcement from the Governor's office also stated that G. M. McAlpin, assistant auditor of the territorial treasury here, today has been named as delegado in Tia Juana. His position is practically the same as mayor in an American municipality.

SENATE SNUFFS GARVAN'S BOMB

Charge Against Moses Fails to Start Stampede

Lobby Committee Unstirred by Scandal Tale

King Accusation Also Drops Toward Oblivion

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27. (Exclusive)—Publication of charges in a deposition by Francis P. Garvan, president of the Chemical Foundation and former Alien Property Custodian, linking Senator Moses, Republican, New Hampshire, and others with German dye and chemical interests active in behalf of low tariff schedules, failed to create anything like the expected stir in the capitol today.

The apparent indifference of lobby investigating committee members at once gave rise to reports that the Democrats are willing to ignore Garvan's charges against Moses, the president pro tem of the Senate, if the Republicans agree not to make an issue of the fact that Senator King, Democrat, Utah, received campaign contributions from the same German interests.

AND NOTHING HAPPENED

Inquiry revealed that a copy of Garvan's deposition has been in the possession of Senator Walsh, Democrat, Montana, chief prosecutor of the lobby investigation, for several days. Study of the charges has disclosed nothing thus far, the Montana Senator said, to warrant committee action. Both he and Senator Caraway, Democrat, Arkansas, said it is improbable that the matter will go any further.

At the same time it was discovered that even Senator Robinson of Indiana, the only regular Republican member of the committee, whose insistence upon calling Samuel Russell, former secretary to Senator King, led to exposure of the latter's dealings with H. M. Metz, American agent of the German I. G., or dye cartel, is willing to let the matter drop without summoning Metz or Samuel King, the Senator's brother and campaign manager, for examination.

ROBINSON COOLS OFF

Following Russell's sensational story last week Robinson demanded that Metz and Samuel King be subpoenaed to testify and he promised a report of the incident to the Senate which might become, he said, the basis for action similar to that taken by the Senate when it formally censured Senator Bingham, Republican, Connecticut, for allowing a personal tariff adviser to attend secret tariff sessions of the Senate Finance Committee.

Today, however, Robinson said the case was complete as far as he is concerned and that unless Senator King desires to appear before the committee, he does not intend to press the investigation further.

Senator Moses's only comment on the Garvan charges was:

"Mr. Garvan evidently is a very sick man."

Californian in Court Contest to Get Estate

SEATTLE, Jan. 27. (AP)—Representing herself as an adopted daughter of Mrs. Corrine Simpson Wilson, who died seven months ago, Mrs. Nell Wood, 42 years of age, of Long Beach, Cal., appeared in Superior Court today and claimed the $125,000 estate left by Mrs. Wilson.

Through a Long Beach attorney, Mrs. Wood obtained an order citing John Wallace McKiernan, a brother of Mrs. Wilson, to appear and show cause why he, as the only heir under the will, should not pay over to Mrs. Wood all assets of the estate.

The California claimant to the estate, which includes numerous real estate holdings, said she was adopted by Mrs. Wilson in 1901. Under Washington law, Mrs. Wood is Mrs. Wilson's legitimate heir if she can prove adoption.

Eastep Admits Fatal Clubbing of Will Hughes

DURANT (Okla.) Jan. 27. (AP)—A. J. Eastep, charged with murder in the deaths of his wife, Sarah, and Will Hughes, confessed today, Sheriff Taylor said, that he clubbed Hughes to death at the latter's home November 26, but denied killing his wife.

Eastep declared Ila Hughes, his asserted paramour and widow of Will Hughes, poisoned Mrs. Eastep. Mrs. Hughes previously had confessed to complicity in her husband's death.

Eastep and Mrs. Hughes were bound over to the District Court on murder charges.

Former Kaiser Passes Birthday in Quiet Manner

DOORN (Holland) Jan. 27. (AP)—Former Kaiser Wilhelm, for more than eleven years in exile, celebrated the seventy-first anniversary of his birthday quietly today.

He attended divine service with his family this morning. His staff and servants also were present and later he received their congratulations. During the day the Hohenzollern flag floated on the castle and over the entrance gate.

The former monarch then occupied the time reading hundreds of telegrams and letters from admirers while flowers arrived in profusion from many sources.

CAMERA HALTS PANIC ON SHIP

Filming of Lifeboat Scene Calms Passengers

German Steamer Hits Rocks in Beagle Channel

BUENOS AIRES, Jan. 27. (AP)—The calmness of a Spaniard with a small motion-picture camera prevented a panic aboard the sinking German steamer Monte Cervantes last Wednesday and aided orderly abandonment of the boat by passengers and crew, only one life being lost, that of Capt. Theodore Dreyer, who went down with his ship.

First accounts reaching here from Ushaia, Tierra del Fuego, said the ship's 1100 passengers became frightened shortly after the boat ran onto rocks in the Beagle Channel.

Clouds of smoke arose from the engine room where the oil burners were overheated, and nervousness of those aboard threatened to make futile every attempt to save their lives.

Officers of the ship stood between them and the boats and assured them there was no immediate danger. At that moment the Spaniard, Beldo Barco, calmly set up his motion-picture camera and began filming the scene. Almost in an instant fear was changed to good humor and launching of the boats proceeded.

Distress signals brought the Vicente Fidel Lopez, Argentine coast guard boat, and other Argentine vessels from Ushaia. They rescued many of the passengers while the others, in lifeboats, reached the shore, several hundred yards away.

The Monte Cervantes went down slowly, then suddenly lurched, turned completely over and sank.

STATE HAS LARGEST EGG CO-OPERATIVE

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 27. (AP)—John Lawler, general manager of the Poultry Producers of Central California, in his annual report today announced that the organization had become the largest co-operative egg-marketing association in the world, doing a total business during 1929 of $21,161,772. During the last year, he reported, the association marketed 1,346,704 cases of eggs, selling these in twenty-seven States and in thirteen foreign countries. More than 1400 carloads of eggs were shipped out of California, the remainder being sold principally in the San Francisco Bay region and in Los Angeles.

Bottled Sunshine Builds

Strong Little Backs
Straight Little Legs
Fine Full Chests

Well Shaped Heads
Good Jaws and Chin
Sound Even Teeth

Authorities on baby care are telling mothers that a plentiful supply of one essential factor must be provided if bones and teeth are to develop strong and sound.

This factor—Vitamin D—should be supplied even though your baby is breast-fed; even though he is plump and rosy and the picture of health.

This needed protection is obtainable from two common sources—sunshine and good cod-liver oil. It is almost impossible, however, to get enough sunshine on the bare skin to be of benefit. Clothing, clouds, fog and smoke prevent it. Even ordinary window glass filters out the ultra-violet rays.

Physicians therefore advise, as the most dependable protection, the daily use of Bottled Sunshine—good cod-liver oil.

In urging cod-liver oil as a way to avoid future trouble, thousands of physicians advise, "Use Squibb's Cod-Liver Oil."

They specify Squibb's because it is very rich in two essential vitamins—Vitamin D, the "sunshine vitamin" which helps to build good bones and teeth, and in Vitamin A which increases resistance to many infections.

Your physician knows that Squibb's Cod-Liver Oil is vitamin-tested and vitamin-protected and that it will help build teeth and bones for your baby. You can get both Squibb's Plain and Mint-flavored Cod-Liver Oil at all good drug stores.

COMMUNISM'S DANGERS CITED

Power to Hamper Civilization Explained to Women

Prof. Watkins Unworried by Propaganda in America

Schools Declared Safe from Influence of Reds

"Russia Under the Soviet Government," as seen from the point of view of an impartial scholar, was explained yesterday to members of the Woman's City Club by Dr. Gordon F. Watkins, professor of economics at the University of California at Los Angeles. At the close of his talk he reassured the women as to the progress of Communistic propaganda in the United States.

"I feel that the movement is a very insignificant thing in America," the professor stated. "Communism is finding it very difficult to spread in this country, where there is so much liberty, and where the workingman has so much that he values."

SCHOOLS SAFE

Asked if he believed that children are being exposed to Red propaganda in the high schools and grammar schools, Dr. Watkins replied emphatically, "No." I have too much confidence in the scientific balance and integrity of our teachers to think that they are open to any such emotional appeal," he added.

The total number of Communists in the United States he estimated at less than 50,000.

"Whether we like the Russian government or not is of no significance," said the speaker. "What is significant is its influence upon the drift of civilization. If Russia casts her lot with the Orient, she'll cast this drift along oriental lines. If she casts her lot with western civilization, then the ideals of the West, with emphasis upon individual liberty, will stand a greater chance of perpetuation."

Of Russia's 150,000,000 population, 5,000,000, he says, have assumed complete dictatorship over the working classes.

ART ENCOURAGED

The Bolsheviks, according to Dr. Watkins, are not discouraging art as they are religion. They have kept the old treasures, they are cultivating music, and are doing fine things in education.

"But when you've said this, you've mentioned the only constructive things apparent to the tourist that the new regime is doing," he stated.

Dr. Watkins followed Dr. John Wesley Hill, chancellor of Lincoln Memorial University in Tennessee, who told of the redemption of illiterate mountaineers in the South.

BY MYRA NYE

Dr. S. E. Lynd, president of the University of Psychological Research, will speak on "The Cause and Cure of Crime" at the Soroptimists' meeting in the Biltmore. Dr. Lynd was for four years State superintendent of the California Prison Association, and secured the necessary funds to carry on the work. By his effort he rehabilitated 533 criminals, so-called, keeping 96 per cent of them from returning to crime, thus saving to the State $300,000 a year by preventing the need of prosecution and maintenance in prison.

Hostesses will be Elizabeth Bowman Tomlinson, Gertrude M. Mason, Bertha Pearce, Avis L. Rourke and Estella Roath. Dr. Lillian M. Grandmason is president.

Hollywood's Woman's Club

Mrs. Mulford Perry, chairman of the book section of the Woman's Club of Hollywood, will conduct a session for those interested in the art of book reviews today at 10:30 a.m. Mrs. E. B. Dixon will give "Practical Hints for Book Reviewers." "Book Clubs" will be discussed by Mrs. Ollie A. Topham and Mrs. Rollin Brown will speak on "Reading for the Fun of It." The program will be followed by a luncheon and round-table discussion.

Drama and music will be the features of tomorrow's program in the clubhouse when Mrs. Earle R. Hilbert will serve as hostess at luncheon and will present Harold Merrill Turney, subject, "A Community Theater in Hollywood;" Miss Arleen Washburn in dramatic reading, and Robert W. Major, speaking on "Drama and Dreams." Guests of honor include Miss Ferike Boros, an actress from Budapest, and Miss Neely Dickson.

Guiseppe Martino-Rossi will sing in the afternoon and Mrs. Wilbur Wilke Nugent will be hostess at tea following the formal program of the day.

International Sunshine Society

Mrs. Myers T. White is hostess for the monthly dance of the International Sunshine Society to be given this evening at El Patio ballroom, the benefit affair being for the welfare work of the society in caring for blind babies. In the receiving line tonight will be Mrs. Margaret Downie, Miss Dorothy Douglass, Miss Ellen Kurtz and Mrs. Ida Chapman, president of the society, and Mrs. George E. Wickens, chairman.

Rev. R. P. Shuler spoke before the Woman's City Club yesterday on "A Long Time Getting a Square Deal." Mrs. Joseph Hamer presided and the musical program was given by Ruth Somerindyke, soprano, and Daisy Sinclair, accompanist, both members of the Smallman a Capella Choir.

METHODIST HOSPITAL GRADUATION TONIGHT

With exercises in the First Methodist Church at Eighth and Hope streets, thirty-six young women tonight will receive their diplomas as graduates of the nurses' training school attached to the Methodist Hospital. Excepting two Japanese and two Indians who matriculated from Arizona, practically all members of the class are residents of Southern California. The diplomas will be presented by F. A. Powell, president of the board of directors of the Methodist Hospital, and the graduation address will be delivered by Bishop Charles Wesley Burns. The ceremonies will be presided over by Rev. Alfred Inwood of Long Beach, president of the Methodist Conference Board of Education.

CHEVALIER STORY SELECTED

Niblo Selects Colorful Oriental Tale for Next Film; Milton Sills Signs to Star in Fox Feature; Clyde Bruckman to Direct Harold Lloyd

BY GRACE KINGSLEY

MAURICE CHEVALIER

Not entirely carefree will Maurice Chevalier, Paramount star, come west for his vacation. Not only has he that radio program to fulfill in San Francisco, but also he will have his next picture for Paramount on his mind.

The star's new story will be an original written especially for him by a member of the Paramount writing staff, and will be called "Too Much Luck." The picture will be produced at the Long Island studios, and work on it will begin about the middle of March.

In the meantime Chevalier is arriving on the Coast about February 1. He will go first to San Francisco to fulfill his radio engagement and wil lthen come to Hollywood for a rest.

FRED NIBLO WILL DIRECT "RED DUST"

Probably the finest story which Director Fred Niblo has acquired in many a long day has just been selected by him as his next Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer production.

FRED NIBLO

That story is "Red Dust," and is from a play by Wilson Collison, produced in New York a season or two ago. It is a colorful story of life in the Orient, with scenes laid in Indo-China, and containing a wealth of fascinating characters.

Niblo himself is highly enthusiastic with the assignment, especially as he is to be given the very finest cast available. He is busy these days making screen tests, but so far nobody has been cast for any of the roles.

Color photography is to play its part in the production, and will add its beauty and vividness to the realism of the story.

Niblo has traveled extensively in the Orient, and has many vivid memory pictures, as well as many actual film shots, to aid him in making the picture one of the finest he has ever attempted.

Fred de Grassac is now busy writing the adaptation of "Red Dust," and it is highly probable that the title will be changed.

Milton Sills With Fox

For the first time since his nervous breakdown, following his trouble with the government over income tax, Milton Sills is going to appear in pictures, according to word just received by us.

He has just been signed by Fox, probably for several pictures, but perhaps this is not definitely settled. In any case he is going to star in one film for that organization, the name of which is not yet revealed.

Dorothy Lee With RKO

That charming little ingenue, Dorothy Lee, who scored so pleasantly in "Rio Rita," has been given another and even bigger assignment by RKO.

Miss Lee is to have the ingenue role in "Dixiana," the RKO revue with the southern locale which even now is in production.

Lloyd Chooses Director

While Harold Lloyd wavers between a new thrill story, based this time on a sea story, and a college yarn, he has at least decided on a director.

HAROLD LLOYD

This director will be Clyde Bruckman, who made the talking version of "Welcome Danger," and who did it so well that it is likely that Lloyd will branch out still further with the dialogue.

No leading lady has yet been signed, but we hear that it is altogether likely that Barbara Kent, who appeared with him in "Welcome Danger," will again be selected.

This isn't all the news either. While the comedian makes no rash promises, he declares that he means, if possible, to make two pictures during the coming year, the next one to be delivered in September, with the following one to be given the public about a year hence.

Robert Edeson to Direct

You will do well to keep an eye on that lively actor, Robert Edeson. Mr. Edeson is planning to enter the directorial field, and already has two or three irons in the fire warming up.

In the meantime, the noted actor is playing an important part for First National in "The Sin Flood."

Edeson should be well suited to direct the talkers, inasmuch as all his first professional years were spent as actor and director of important stage productions, many of them in New York.

June Purcell In It

Your favorite radio singers are soon to be mysteries no longer so far as their flesh-and-blood appearances are concerned.

Take June Purcell, for instance. Miss Purcell has long been a radio favorite, receiving dozens of fan letters every week. Now she has been signed by Warner Brothers for an important part in the Oscar Hammerstein-Sigmund Romberg musical, "Viennese Nights," in which Vivienne Segal and Alexander Gray have the leading roles.

The noted Romberg, by the way, is intensely interested in the new medium, and on Saturday personally directed the chorus singing for certain scenes, playing the piano himself.

ASSESSMENT MAPS PASSED

On recommendation of the Health and Sanitation Committee the City Council yesterday voted approval of the assessment district map for the construction of sewers in the right of way south of Barker Drive and east of Phillips Way.

SAMUEL PEPYS A DON JUAN

Roystering Hero Portrayed in "So to Bed"

Civic Repertory Production Well Staged

Efficient Work Credited to Various Principals

BY EDWIN SCHALLERT

Mr. Samuel Pepys (pronounced "peeps") may have indited innocently enough his celebrated phrase, "And So to Bed," but, ooh-la-la, the play of that name, which opened last night at the Civic Repertory Theater in Hollywood evokes at least several roguish, not to say roistering implications, out of those monosyllabic words! "And So to Bed," if you will!—but better still go to see Mr. James B. Fagan's adventurous little comedy of seventeenth-century naughtiness, especially for its very delightful second act.

"And So to Bed" is being produced as the first offering of the Civic Repertory group this season. The organization has changed the home of its plays, and it would seem also their character. Mr. Fagan's piece is brighter in many aspects than anything that the repertory theater presented last year. It is more efficaciously staged and costumed, and in many ways more efficiently cast.

Certainly there were several performances to be remarked for their brightness last evening—not the least being Boyd Irwin's impersonation of King Charles II, the work of Elise Bartlett as Mrs. Pepys, and that of Mabel Gibson, in various regards, as Mrs. Knight. I would mention Olaf Hytten, who assumed the role of Pepys himself, were it not for the fact that nervousness seemed frequently to impede the conviction of his portrayal. He had, at all events, some moments of excellence, notably toward the end, to redeem a performance that was not sufficiently positive throughout.

BOUDOIR INTRIGUE

"And So to Bed" should please. It may lack of keen interest at the start, but that old reliable situation of the woman hiding one man while she receives another in her boudoir is too sure-fire to do aught but hit popularly once it is divulged. Mrs. Knight it is, favorite of the royal Charles, who performs this always intriguing feat in the second act of "And So to Bed." It is Mr. Pepys that she thrusts into a beautifully carved chest, upon the arrival of the King. And then the King himself is forced to take refuge behind a curtain in the room when the irate Mrs. Pepys appears in search of her husband.

All this is very ingeniously dealt with in the play. The repartee between the King and Mrs. Pepys is particularly agreeable, and when Charles, knowing of the presence of Pepys in the chest, also elects to make love to his wife, the dramatic significance of the plot attains a considerable zest.

Everything in "And So to Bed" is treated lightly. A frivolous period in history is ingratiatingly if not accurately portrayed. The author himself practically confesses in a note to his play, such as authors sometimes write, that he is only seeking to amuse. He does not pretend to more than a very fragile historical foundation for what he has contrived.

With certainty one may say that Mr. Pepys of the play is not just the sort one would visualize from his book. The somewhat fussy old commentator, with his eternal gabblings and puddlings around, about this and that, is turned into a sort of merry Lothario, who kisses ladies' maids on the sly, and falls in love with actresses and songsters more openly. He himself chants a tune rather badly, and plays upon a flageolet. It is the flageolet incidentally that discovers his presence to the king in his inamorata's boudoir.

KING EFFECTIVE

Perhaps, the portrait of King Charles is the most believable of the lot. Assuredly it is the most entertaining, and with Mr. Irwin's portrayal it is seemingly made doubly diverting. This player's work is much superior to anything he has previously done here, and that is nothing uncomplimentary to his previous endeavors.

Mr. Hytten is conscientious in his effort to make Mr. Pepys a believable, and at the same time somewhat heroic character in the plot. I doubt whether the commentating gentleman can be ever that, and it would, therefore, be a pleasant satisfaction if Mr. Hytten could rather make him lighter and more enlivening. It is a role of exacting requirements, however, to which he rose best in the later scenes.

Miss Bartlett is amazingly clever and attracts the eye by her very striking appearance in the spitfirish Mrs. Pepys role. She is sure in her work and gives the portrayal with especial gusto on this account. She might overcome a vocal mannerism or two, but the rest is exceptionally good.

A little uneven was the work of Miss Gibson as Mistress Knight, but very commendable on the whole, and her singing made a distinct impression. The requirements of the part are unusual.

Attention might be drawn to Isabelle Murray, Marion Clayton, Maude Fealy, Nance Dorland, Eric Snowden (who was very excellent,) Paul Irving and Kenneth Duncan, among the others. The play is being staged under the direction of Arthur Greville Collins, who imbues it with an authentic quality.

"And So to Bed" is good.

Royal Welcome Scheduled for Famous Singer

A reception committee composed of city officials, celebrities of the screen and stage, and personages of the operatic world will greet Lawrence Tibbett, star of "The Rogue Song" now at the Chinese Theater, when he arrives in Los Angeles tomorrow morning for his concert at the Philharmonic under the direction of L. E. Behymer, local impresario.

Mayor Porter and Harold B. Franklin of Fox-West Coast Theaters will head the committee. From the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayor studios Norma Shearer, Marion, Davies, Irving Thalberg, Paul Bern, Laurel and Hardy, Catherine Dale Owen and a host of studio executives and stars will extend Tibbett welcome.

EMOTIONAL EPIC CONTINUES

"Journey's End," the play Robert Sherriff wrote out of his experiences in the World War, is now in its second week in the Belasco Theater.

A study in portraiture against a background of shell fire, "Journey's End" masquerades for the first two acts as one of the greatest of war plays. The scene is a sheltered dugout fifty yards from the German lines; the occupants are five British officers. As seen by the audience, Stanhope, Raleigh, Osborne and their fellows are off duty, and consequently given more to rambling, humorous discourse than to active participation in war strategy. If fighting is kept in the background, the increasing hint of disaster is none the less powerfully cumulative in effect. The ultimate crash into action provides a crescendo of sound and emotion.

In Gilbert Miller's company at the Belasco Basil Gill plays Osborne, known to his fellows as uncle; Hugh Williams is Capt. Stanhope, gallant young company commander. Walter Hudd, Wallace Douglas, Wellington Briggs, Forrester Harvey and Edwin Ellis are others in the cast.

MIDNIGHT PREMIERE PLANNED

"Son of Gods," Starring Richard Barthelmess, to Play at Downtown

The world premiere of Richard Barthelmess in "Son of the Gods" will be celebrated Saturday evening with a gala midnight opening at Warner Brothers' Downtown Theater. The popularity of the midnight matinee at Warners' Hollywood a few weeks ago, when Marilyn Miller's film, "Sally," opened, has induced the Warners to start the new picture with a late premiere.

In "Son of the Gods," Richard Barthelmess is declared to have a vehicle even greater than "Broken Blossoms" and "Tol'able David." Frank Lloyd, who has been responsible for many of the best Barthelmess pictures, directed.

Barthelmess is supported by a versatile company of players, including Constance Bennett as his leading woman. Others in the cast are Anders Randolf, Mildred Van Dorn, E. Allyn Warren, Geneva Mitchell and Claude King.

CARTHAY IN READINESS FOR EVENT

Celebrities to Attend First Local Showing of "Devil May Care"

In personal tribute to Ramon Novarro, the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer studios promise a complete outpouring of its stars and featured players for the gala western premiere of Ramon Novarro's "Devil May Care" at the Carthay Circle Theater tomorrow night.

Bookings from the Fox, Paramount, Universal, Warner and other studios are heavy, it is said, indicating that the stars of filmdom as well as the public are always interested in the first talking picture of any star.

The fact that 90 per cent of the advance reservations made for the Novarro run are from women indicates that the romance and appeal of Novarro to feminine patrons are having their effect, it is said.

Popular Comics Will Appear at Loew's State

Jack Benny, "Ukulele Ike," Gwen Lee and Nita Martan, favorites in Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's "Hollywood Revue," will be seen in person tonight at the late show at Loew's State, where the picture is enjoying its first popular downtown showing.

Adapted from George S. Kaufman's and Marc Conolly's stage play, "Dulcy," "Not So Dumb," new Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer film comedy, is the new picture opening Thursday. King Vidor directed the production, which is enacted by Marion Davies, Elliott Nugent, Raymond Hackett, Julia Faye and Franklin Pangborn.

Gene Morgan, popular green-hatted master of ceremonies, has been chosen to officiate at the fourth midnight matinee festivities Saturday.

"HALF WAY TO HEAVEN" SCHEDULED

Million Dollar Secures Four Paramount First-Run Film Features

The Million Dollar Theater will celebrate its first year under the management of the Lazarus-Vinnicof theater circuit on February 5. Marking the event will be the first-run showing of "Half-Way to Heaven," starring Charles Rogers.

In addition to "Half-Way to Heaven," the Million Dollar has booked Helen Morgan in "Applause," Paramount's adaptation of Beth Brown's successful novel of the same name. Jean Peers, said to be the streen's latest find, makes her debut in "Applause."

Other first-run Paramount attractions listed by the Million Dollar are "Pointed Heels," with William Powell, Helen Kane, "Skeets" Gallagher and Fay Wray, and "The Kibitzer," with Harry Green, Mary Brian, Neil Hamilton and Guy Oliver.

PIANIST PRESENTS ROMANTIC MODERNS

France Woodmansee Received With Popular Favor at Beaux Arts

Appearing in concert here for the first time in several years, and greeted by an enthusiastic audience, France Woodmansee, pianist, presented an enjoyable program of modern and romantic selections last evening at Beaux Arts Auditorium.

Mr. Woodmansee's playing evinced a poetic loveliness and a tional quality that were hauntingly sweet. Although not entirely without technical flaws, for there were a few, his performance was so singularly colorful and compelling in style as to hold the attention of the audience closely. He captured the moods of the various compositions and conveyed these to his listeners in a distinctive manner.

A Brahms group, which contained among other selections, three charming intermezzos and the well-known Rhapsody, Op. 79, No. 2, opened the program. This was followed by a group of moderns, representing Leonardo Leo, Ibert and Debussy. The infinite variety of subtle tonal effects which are possible in the interpretation of Debussy's music were beautifully exemplified in Mr. Woodmansee's rendition of the impressionistic composer's works. The selections played included the "Clair De Lune" and the "Reflets Dans L'eau."

Three numbers by the immortal Chopin, a nocturne, an etude, and the Ballade Op. 23, completed the well-chosen program. In these, again Mr. Woodmansee gave a performance distinguished by excellent phrasing, and exquisite tonal colorings and shadings. He was recalled to the platform for two encores at the close of the concert.

STARS COMPOSE MUSIC

Ernest Torrencé, Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer character actor, who composes music between pictures, has started work on an opera. Lionel Barrymore, the director, who also composes, is working on a symphony, after composing several concertos.

Whispers in the Wings

BY MURIEL BABCOCK

EARL CARROLL'S "Vanities," with the jovial W. C. Fields, now to be viewed at the Erlanger Theater, Chicago, is headed coastward.

Edgar MacGregor, a member of the production staff of Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer, and who staged the show originally, is responsible for this information. According to MacGregor, the "Vanities" has been doing excellent road business, with the grosses running $30,000 weekly.

Milne Mystery Play Coming

The Biltmore Theater will house Madge Kennedy in "The Perfect Alibi," A. A. Milne's comedy, when it comes to town in the near future, it was made known yesterday.

This play, done a little more than a year ago in New York, has been described as anonchalant, polished murder play with a woman Sherlock Holmes. It started its way originally at the Haymarket Theater in London under the title of "The Fourth Wall."

"Artists and Models?"

Somebody has been sending out announcements to the effect that "Artists and Models," a musical revue featuring Mildred Cassidy and Norman Selby, will be next at the Mason, although the management denies emphatically any knowledge of the booking. It seems there is a show with identically the same name now playing the Burbank Theater, although the principals do not seem to be the same.

Merkyl With Ed Wynn

Oscar Hammerstein II went to see "The New Moon," for which he wrote the book, at the Majestic the other evening and discovered John Merkyl, an old friend, in the cast. Merkyl, who plays Phillipe, was juvenile in "Sometime" starring Ed Wynn at the Casino Theater, New York, back in 1918. Hammerstein was stage manager for the show then. Now he's pretty well known as a writer and is going to produce a musical for Warner Brothers.

William Janney Gets Along

A young man of the stage who seems to be getting along right well in the films these days—he has just been signed for a lead opposite Mary Nolan in "Young Love" for Universal—is William Janney.

William, who is not yet 20 years of age and who played his first part in "Merton of the Movies" when he was 14, has a father, Russell Janney, who is a stage producer, and a grandfather, William, who manages the family shows when they go on the road. His father, incidentally, produced "The Vagabond King."

William, Jr., understudied Glenn Hunter in "Merton" and then went on the road. He played "Tommy" for sixty-three weeks and when that show closed here, enrolled for a time in Los Angeles High School. His first film role was with Mary Pickford in "Coquette."

Little Theater Program

The Musketeers, who man a little theater club at 8620 Sunset Boulevard, announce "Women at Work," by Henry Gordon, for Wednesday evening. The play will run four days. The cast includes Hasel Keener, Symona Boniface, Laura Wallace, Anthony Sheehan, Charles Abbey, Jerry Ostermier, Ted Edwards and Rand Cooper. The club appears to be a very active one. In seven months of existence, it has produced more than seventy one-act plays and several full-length ones, the great percentage being originals.

ARTISTS TO SCREEN NEW MELODRAMA

"Locked Door" Includes All-Star Cast; to Start Saturday

"The Locked Door," a film said to combine in a genuinely entertaining degree mystery, adventure and romance, will open at the United Artists' Theater Saturday.

"The Locked Door," produced by United Artists under the direction of George Fitzmaurice, unfolds the story of a woman in the power of a society wolf. Circumstances bring about his death and when she is accused a situation of suspense is created that is said to be well sustained.

Included in the cast are Rod La Rocque, Barbara Stanwyck, William Boyd, stage star of the original "What Price Glory" production, and Betty Bronson.

Popular Run of 'Sunny Side Up' Begins Thursday

Janet Gaynor and Charles Farrell are costarred in "Sunny Side Up," which will be given a popular showing at the Boulevard Theater, starting Thursday.

Sunny Side Up" is one of the first original musical comedy romances written directly for the screen. This production also brings to the screen the singing voices of Miss Gaynor and Charles Farrell. Others in the cast are El Brendel, Marjorie White, Frank Richardson and Sharon Lynn.

The entire production of "Sunny Side Up" has been planned on a spectacular scale, it is said. Fox Movietone News and Slim Martin with his band round out the program.

PHONE RATES CURBS ASKED

Federal Regulation Urged by Pacific Coast Men

Senate Committee Learns of Futile State Fights

Demand Made for Inspection of Companies' Records

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27. (Exclusive)—Two representatives of west coast cities, including Los Angeles, appeared before the Senate Interstate Commerce Committee today and asked for Federal regulation of telephone companies in interstate commerce.

This move, aimed directly at the American Telephone and Telegraph Company and its subsidiary corporation, Western Electric Company, was made by Dion R. Holm, special rate counsel for San Francisco, and City Attorney C. L. Smith of Seattle, as representatives of the Telephone Investigation League, comprising the cities of Los Angeles, Fresno, Oakland, San Francisco, Spokane, Oregon City, Baker City, Or., Seattle, Tacoma and Portland.

STATE COURTS IMPOTENT

In a three-year legal battle with the Pacific Telegraph and Telephone Company Mr. Holm found that the A. T. & T. and the Western Electric Company, manufacturers of central office equipment, could not be brought into the State courts, as they had neither property nor home office in the State. Yet their influence, he told the committee, is so strong that San Francisco is losing money on its telephone franchise agreement because of the dictation of rates and charges by A. T. & T. and their subsidiary concerns.

He also said that records vital to investigation had been destroyed or "mislaid" by the Pacific T. & T. in the San Francisco case after the company had changed its mind about throwing its books open to city investigators.

COMMISSION FAVORED

The two witnesses from the west coast favored the proposed commission on communications as set up by the Cousens bill now before the Senate Interstate Commerce Committee. This commission would handle the affairs of interstate telephone, telegraph and radio companies in much the same way the Interstate Commerce Commission handles the railroads.

Other means of Federal regulations have been offered in Congress, including increased powers for the Interstate Commerce Commission, which now has technical jurisdiction of telephone companies in interstate commerce.

HOLM'S SUGGESTIONS

Offering the following suggestions to the commission, Mr. Holm said that from his experience and, in his opinion, "no telephone company should be permitted to enjoy an increase in telephone rates when it is shown that such company has destroyed or withheld from any representative of cities where the rate increase is sought, records that should be subject of scrutiny by a party litigant. Holding companies also should be made parties before regulatory bodies where rates are concerned, and cities should be given the right to inspect the books of the companies."

VETERANS' LAWS WILL BE REVISED

Chairman Johnson Says World War Pension Plan Soon Must be Adopted

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27. (AP)—Chairman Johnson of the House Veterans' Committee, after a call on President Hoover said today that all legislation dealing with veterans is in need of a "complete overhauling," and that it is only a matter of time before a policy of pensioning World War veterans must be decided upon.

Johnson said he had turned over to the President for study all laws and pending legislation affecting veterans. He said he believed any legislation passed would have to consider both disability and actual need.

Johnson asserted the proposal to unify the various agencies of the government dealing with pensions, veterans' compensation and kindred subjects made by President Hoover in his message to Congress will receive the hearty support of his committee.

REDS PLACE BREAK ONUS ON AMERICA

Soviet Journal Declares Mexico's Action Dictated by United States

MOSCOW, Jan. 27. (AP)—Fernando Matti, Mexican Charge d'Affaires, and two other members of the Mexican Legation staff today prepared to leave soviet territory following the recent rupture of relations between Mexico and Russia.

The newspaper Izvestia hinted that Washington had prompted the action of Mexico City in requesting the Russian Minister there to leave and in withdrawing Mexican diplomatic agents from Moscow.

"Mexico, like all other countries on the American continent, is completely subservient to the influence of the American State Department," the paper said.

The newspaper insists the activities of a few foreign Communists in front of Mexican legations abroad furnish only a flimsy excuse for breaking off relations that have existed since 1924.

Winter Flyers at Minneapolis

MINNEAPOLIS, Jan. 27. (AP)—Flying from Fargo, N. D., in less than two hours, Army flyers making a winter reliability test flight through northern States, arrived at Wold-Chamberlain Field here today, without mishap.

Sixteen pursuit planes landed at noon, and the seventeenth plane of this type remaining in the test, arrived soon after. Later two large transport ships landed, and work was started preparing the planes for a jump Tuesday to Wausau, Wis., on the return flight from Spokane to Selfridge Field, Mount Clemens, Mich.

CHICAGO FACES TAX STARVATION

Review Board Orders New Loop Valuation

Decision Postpones Relief Hope Indefinitely

Worse Financial Difficulty Expected to Result

CHICAGO, Jan. 27. (Exclusive)—Chicago and Cook county tonight sank deeper into the financial mire which has been threatening the various local governments with a virtual state of bankruptcy and receivership, depriving more than 40,000 public servants of $11,000,000 in salaries and causing impoverishment and suffering to the families of hundreds of unpaid wage earners.

The prospects of worse entanglement of city and county fiscal affairs loomed as further obstacles, instead of relief, marked the various efforts to succor the tax-spending bodies.

DELAY INDEFINITE

Tax valuations of property in the downtown section, which have been attacked by Mayor Thompson and the school board, will be subjected to a survey by the board of review, this causing indefinite delay in collecting taxes already so long overdue as to force the local government into a state bordering on bankruptcy.

The order of the Board of Review was made today on its own motion, following protest by the Board of Education and others that the Loop valuations are $300,000,000 too low. That figure has been the war cry of Mayor Thompson ever since the present crisis was precipitated.

IMPROPER BASIS

When the legality of the school board's intervening in the situation was challenged by attorneys, the Board of Review, acting on its own motion, ordered the revaluation, declaring that the Loop values had been made upon an improper basis. In its action it followed an opinion of its attorney that it has the power to order the revaluation.

President H. Wallace Caldwell, of the school board, greeted with elation the news that the Board of Review had ordered the general reassessment of downtown property.

"What effect will the further delay in tax collections created by the reassessment have on the city's financial plight?" he was asked.

"It's worth the delay," he said. "Our plight can't get any worse than it is now. If the valuations had been allowed to go through unchanged, we would have lost $60,000,000 in taxes in the next four years."

Soviet Trading Director Named

NEW YORK, Jan. 27. (AP)—The Amtorg Trading Corporation, which represents soviet industrial and trading organizations in this country, announced today that Peter A. Bogdanov, who from 1921 to 1925 was chairman of the soviet supreme economic council, had been elected chairman of its board of directors.

Mr. Bogdanov, who came to the United States two weeks ago, succeeds Saul G. Bron, who has been appointed soviet trade representative to Great Britain.

PLUMBING KING'S WILL ATTACKED

Associate of Gov. Kohler Left $1,000,000 Estate; Widow Strangely Accused

CHICAGO, Jan. 27. (Exclusive)—Strange statements were made in a suit discovered to have been filed surreptitiously in the Superior Court last Friday which seeks to have set aside the will of John B. Murphy, vice-president of the Kohler Company of Kohler, Wis., of which Gov. Kohler of Wisconsin is president. Ina, half-sister of Murphy, who was 74 years of age when he died on November 12, 1928, seeks to have the estate, which her lawyers estimate at $1,000,000, taken from the widow, Mrs. May Warthin Dunne Murphy.

The petitioner, Mrs. Sarah Carroll, is 87 and lives with her married daughter, Mrs. Sylvester Sullivan, in Milwaukee.

In effect Mrs. Carroll's petition sets forth that the widow "caused or aided by wrongful and skillful acts" the deaths of Murphy, his first wife, Mrs. Rose Murphy, who died June 3, 1922, his son, John B. Jr., who died December 29, 1917, from acute dilation of the heart, and of his only other child, Halet Murphy, who was 34 years of age when he died in a sanatorium in Niles, Mich., June 11, 1927, of alcoholism.

The bill contained thirty pages of charges. One was that the will was not the act of Murphy but was the result of constant cruelty and threats of the wife. Another was that it was improperly executed and witnessed.

Miss Mary Lillian Kent, who was Mr. Murphy's secretary for many years prior to his death, was one of the witnesses. She is still employed in the offices of the Kohler Company here and today she dismissed as absurd the statements emanating from the half-sister. Attorney Amos W. Martin, the other witness, said the suit was ridiculous.

CUT CROPS, HYDE'S WORD TO FARMERS

Blind Production Cause of Low Prices, Secretary Says in Radio Talk

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27. (AP)—Secretary Hyde told the farmers of the nation today that "blind production" is the bane of agriculture.

Speaking over the National Broadcasting Company network the Secretary closed the broadcasting of the report on the 1930 agricultural outlook with the warning that governmental farm relief measures will be useless "unless each individual farmer intelligently plans his production."

Hyde said he wanted to emphasize that in order to obtain a higher level of prices than prevails now it appeared necessary to reduce rather than to increase 1930 production and that the problem must be met on the farm.

"If we are to make agriculture profitable we must not only produce at lowest possible cost but must also keep our production reasonably close to prospective domestic demand," he said. "Blind production for an unknown demand is now the bane of agriculture. Competitive selling by 6,000,000 individual farmers usually gives the purchaser a great advantage. The challenge of the new decade is to act collectively to overcome this situation."

Continued Fight on Pest Urged by Californians

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27. (Exclusive)—Two California expert witnesses, Director Jacobsen, of the State plant quarantine and pest control division, and D. B. Mackie, senior entomologist of the State Department of Agriculture, appeared before the House Appropriation Committee today and testified that danger still exists from the Mediterranean fruit fly in Florida in spite of the fact that no new evidence of infestation has been found in the southern State since Nov. 16, 1929.

They were backed by the California delegation in an intensive effort to contradict the asserted misleading statements that all danger of spread of the fly has ended. These reports, in the form of affidavits, statements and political effusions, have reached Representative Wood, chairman of the Appropriation Committee, causing him to lead the opposition to the administration request that $15,000,000 be appropriated to continue the fruit fly eradication campaign.

Supreme Court to Decide Bond Taxation Issue

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27. (AP)—The Supreme Court today consented to pass on a tax controversy of far-reaching importance, involving the right of the Federal and State governments to tax the gains derived from the sale of bonds issued by the other, presented in a case brought from Minnesota by the Federal government against Charles U. Bunn.

Admitting a Federal tax on State or municipal bonds or on interests on such bonds would be invalid, the Federal government insisted it was within its rights in imposing a tax on the profit derived from the sale of such securities. The lower Federal courts decided against the government.

RUSSIA THINKS EIELSON ALIVE

Soviet Commissioner Tells of Reds' Wrecked Plane

Searching Flyers Identify Airship as American

Stefansson Pays Tribute to Arctic's Aviation Ace

MOSCOW (U.S.S.R.) Jan. 27. (AP) Doubt that the wrecked plane recently found off Siberia is that of Carl Ben Eielson was expressed tonight by S. S. Kameneff, chairman of the soviet arctic commission. He believed the wreckage may be that of an abandoned soviet airplane named "Soviet North," known to be in that vicinity.

Kameneff pointed out there are human habitations near the point where the American aviators Crosson and Gillam found the wreckage Saturday. He expressed surprise that the airplane reported as Eielson's had gone unnoticed by the natives for ten weeks.

WRECKAGE REPORTED

The Soviet North had crashed on a lagoon in Kaluchinsky Bay. The wreckage had been reported several times.

Kameneff, who is directing the various Russian relief expeditions in search of Eielson and his companion, Earl Borland, indicated that the soviet efforts will be continued but on somewhat different form.

"We must wait further details before acting upon this report," he said. "At any rate, we must draw all land searching parties to the spot where the catastrophe is reported to have occurred. One dog sled expedition from Stavropol is already in that region.

CONTINUES SEARCH

"I am sure the American flyers, nothwithstanding the crash of their plane, could have saved themselves and gone forward to the nearest settlement. Search for the flyers therefore must continue until full knowledge of their fate is obtained.

"If today's report is confirmed, it will be necessary to pursue the search not from the air but by means of the local population which is provided with dog sleds."

FLYERS IDENTIFY PLANE AS EIELSON'S

Reports from North Cape and Nome left little doubt but that the wreckage found ninety miles southeast from North Cape Saturday was that of Carl Ben Eielson's plane. Pilots Joe Crosson and Harold Gillam, who landed their planes on the snow near by to examine the wreckage, both had flown Eielson's plane and recognized it instantly.

Crosson and Gillam in making their reports specified that the wreckage was that of Eielson's all-metal American-built monoplane The motor also was of a well-known American make.

AIR OFFICIAL SAYS "LITTLE DOUBT" OF DEATH

NEW YORK, Jan. 27. (AP)—Graham B. Grosvenor, president of the Aviation Corporation, who employed Carl Ben Eielson as Alaskan representative, said today that the finding of their wrecked plane left "little doubt" that Eielson and Earl Borland were killed.

EXPLORER PAYS TRIBUTE TO ARCTIC'S AVIATION ACE

MINNEAPOLIS, Jan. 27. (AP)—Vilhjalmur Stefansson, famous Arctic explorer, today paid tribute to Lieut. Earl Ben Eielson as "one of the greatest pilots who ever lived," and in whose death "the world, particularly the North, has lost a great man." Dr. Stefansson is here on a lecture tour.

Both Eielson and Dr. Stefansson were reared in North Dakota and attended the university of that State. It was through these circumstances they became acquainted, the explorer said today. He said he recommended Eielson to Sir Hubert Wilkins, when the latter was seeking a pilot for his famous flight across the top of the world.

"I consider Lieut. Eielson one of the greatest pilots who ever lived," Dr. Stefansson said. "Consider his record, he was the first man to fly north of the Artic Circle in winter. He was the first man to carry air-mail in the Arctic, the first to fly completely across the Arctic, the first to fly in the Antarctic and the first to discover land from a plane in the Antarctic.

"Sadly enough, his is the first life to be lost in Arctic flying. Though over 500,000 miles of flying has been done north of the Arctic Circle, Eielson is the first man killed."

Witnesses Tell of Girl Murder

AUSTIN (Tex.) Jan. 27. (AP)—Four prosecution witnesses told this afternoon what they saw of the knife slaying of Miss Lehlia Highsmith, for whose murder John W. Brady, 59-year-old former Appeals Court justice is on trial.

One, F. R. McNaughton, said he wrested a knife from Brady a moment after the girl had been stabbed; another, Frank Graham, Jr., said he saw Brady "strike" the girl while she stood there and saw him bending over her still striking; a third, King McFarlin, swore he saw Brady pull out a knife and heard him threaten Miss Highsmith; the last, Mrs. R. B. Crider, testified she saw Brady's arm movement as the girl sank to the ground and heard the girl cry out, "Please don't do that."

REVOLT CONSPIRATOR LOSES COURT APPEAL

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27. (AP)—Jose Gandara, convicted at Tucson, Ariz., of conspiring in 1927 to promote a revolution in Mexico, today was refused a review by the Supreme Court. He was charged with conspiring with Bishop Navarette and two others to set on foot a military expedition against Mexico and was sentenced to McNeil Island.

"ASK FOR TITLE INSURANCE"

TITLE INSURANCE AND TRUST COMPANY

CALIFORNIA'S LARGEST TITLE INSURANCE COMPANY

Capital and Surplus $10,000,000

Protecting Your Ownership or Your Loan

ALTHOUGH loss of ownership through a defective title is not a frequent occurrence ... it is a risk that comes with every purchase of real estate. There are further risks that there may be restrictions, rights of way, assessments and other encumbrances against the property of which the purchaser is unaware.

Modern methods of insurance take such risks from the individual and place them on the broad shoulders of a great corporation. Thus, prudent men protect their ownership of real estate by Policies of Title Insurance.

There is no annual premium on your Policy of Title Insurance, you may buy a house and live in it for many years and unless you place a new mortgage or trust deed against the property, you need never pay another premium.

Your premium covers not only the search of your title, but the Company's legal liability to defend your title against all claims covered by your policy.

Your Policy of Title Insurance is a contract signed by this Company, and every dollar of the Company's capital and surplus fund of more than $10,000,000 stands behind it.

"Ask for Title Insurance."

Make this Company Your EXECUTOR or Your TRUSTEE

THIS Company offers 37 years of experience in the handling of trusts. It is prudent and conservative. It is experienced in the care of property. It is the oldest trust company in the Pacific Southwest.

You may create an "All Inclusive Trust" in which you may place any or all of your property ... your life insurance policies ... your real property ... or your personal property, such as stocks and bonds. When created, your trust is ready for the reception of any property suitable for trust purposes ... and at any time ... now or in the future.

You may withdraw property from it. You may add property to it. You may change the distribution of income. You may change your beneficiaries. You may terminate your trust at your pleasure.

RADIO PROBLEM REVUE'S THEME

Question on Public's Desires Brings KMTR Offering

Hour Will be Given to Effort to Satisfy Everybody

Safety Conference Feature Scheduled for KHJ

The Times Forum, KHJ, 10:30 a.m., will present Dr. Frank McCoy, health authority, discussing "Improving Circulation." World-wide news 12:30, 4:50 and 10 p.m.

BY JOHN S. DAGGETT

"What does the public want in radio?" will be the theme of a one-hour program from KMTR at 8 p.m. today. An effort has been made to cover a wide field of variety. Forty people will participate and followers of the station will be asked to indicate their preference.

Bill Sharples, as master of ceremonies, is to launch the potpourri of entertainment in rapid-fire delivery from the sublime to the ridiculous and from jazz to grand opera.

The query, born with radio, has never been saisfactorily answered. The puzzle is more complicated than "what to plant in the home garden?"

DIFFICULT PROBLEM

It is impossible to please everybody, even in the matter of income-tax reductions, and when the intricacies of public appeal in their relationship to radio are considered, any satisfactory solution calls for deep study. The balanced program appears to be the major endeavor of the chain broadcast systems and the larger stations of the country. A concerted study of the value of educational presentations also is under way but it is quite evident that the public at present is hungry for features. In other words, they want in radio what in newspaper parlance would be front-page attractions.

CRITICAL PUBLIC

Through the education of radio itself the public has become more and more critical until today they want only the finished product. Underlying all this, however, is the desire for heart-warming personalities. Women, particularly, will turn to a station more quickly because they are promised the hearing of a voice or a musician who has reached their heart than because a prima donna or internationally known comedian is to be presented. What the public wants in radio is at least an interesting vehicle for a radio revue program—but after all the hand that rocks the cradle rules the radio. We wish KMTR every success tonight.

WHERE TO TURN

KHJ will present every Tuesday afternoon at 3:15 o'clock a Safety Conference broadcast. In order to make the broadcasts more interesting to pedestrians and drivers of motor vehicles, the talks will be delivered in drama-dialogue form. At 5:45 this afternoon Gov. Young will address Southern Californians on business conditions in the State. At 6 tonight Blanche Sweet, motion-picture actress, will be the guest artist in the hour of music presented by Paul Whiteman and his orchestra.

The progress of the five-power naval parley in London, will be the subject of Dr. Herman V. Elard, Peruvian Consul at Washington, at 7:30 p.m. An hour of excellent music is promised at 9 tonight by the Sierra Symphonists.

At 10:30 this morning, as part of The Times Forum, an interesting five-minute talk will be given by the director-general of the Shrine Hippodrome Circus, in which he will tell of the elephants 'n everything.

NAVAL CONFERENCE

KFI at approximately 10 this morning, will present William Hard, official observer at the five-power naval parley, continuing his daily resume of activities of the conference. He will be heard daily at this hour to and including next Friday.

KECA at 6 o'clock tonight will bring Tin Pan Alley's "Grand Old Man," Harry Von Tilzer, who has been writing song hits since the early nineties. Twenty-five of his songs will be played and sung.

KFWB at 12 noon will tell about Cecil's idea in buying a second-hand car for $85 to facilitate entertaining Sally.

KMTR at 7 tonight will present Dr. Mars Baumgardt, his subject being "An Interesting Letter and Its Answer." At 7:30 tonight Walter Perner, 'cellist, John Thomas, tenor, and Marie Golden, accompanist, will entertain with a half-hour of classical music.

GRAFT CASE ON SEWERS DISMISSED

State Drops Grand Theft Charges Against Hearte and Earle of Pasadena

Charges of grand theft preferred against Oliver K. Hearte, contractor, and Warren C. Earle, former City Engineer of Pasadena, were dismissed yesterday by Superior Judge Henderson on motion of Dep. Dist.-Atty. Oliver, who stated it "appeared that a conviction cannot be obtained."

Hearte and Earle were charged with defrauding the city of Pasadena in connection with a sewer contract. A three-month trial of the case ended in disagreement of the jury as to Hearte and Earle, while W. J. Watson, a codefendant on one of the charges, was acquitted.

The District Attorney's motion for a dismissal of the charges against Hearte and Earle is said to be based on the apparent inability of a jury to digest the huge mass of technical testimony introduced in the case. It was felt that another trial also woud result in a disagreement, with the consequent loss of more than $20,000 to the county for expenses of the trial.

Referee Named in Culver City Recall Fight

Attempted recall of five Culver City Councilmen was placed in the hands of a referee yesterday when a temporary writ issued by Presiding Justice Works of the District Court of Appeals was brought up before Justices Works, Thompson and Gavin Craig yesterday.

The case was taken off calendar, pending the outcome of the refereeing. Buel R. Wood was named as referee.

The writ returned yesterday ordered the affected Councilmen to show cause why a recall election should not be held. It was requested by Charles M. Lynn of Culver City on the ground that the Council refused to issue the orders necessary for such an election. It named Councilmen Houck, Bebier, Clark, Coombs and Kinkead.

Streeter Denies Accusations on Federal Taxes

Pleas of not guilty were entered yesterday in United States District Judge McCormick's court by Clarence C. Streeter, head of Streeter & Co., stock and bond brokers of 639 South Spring street. He was arraigned on three indictments. One true bill contains two counts of attempting to evade the income tax, another two counts of perjury in connection with the same, and one a charge of perjury relating to the tax return of Barneson & Co., in which Streeter formerly was a partner with H. J. Barneson.

Streeter was released on bail of $15,000. All of the charges were consolidated and continued until February 3 to be set for trial.

Funeral Rites Conducted for 'Times' Veteran

Funeral services for C. E. Richardson, 68 years of age, formerly of the circulation department of The Times, who died Saturday at his home, 1048 3-4 North Kingsley avenue, were conducted at 10 a.m. yesterday from the Strothers mortuary. The body later was cremated at Forest Lawn Memorial Park.

Mr. Richardson came to Los Angeles from New Hampshire forty-six years ago. For many years he was in the route department of The Times, but retired recently when his health failed. He leaves a daughter, Mrs. Ethel Richardson Brown, and a son, Angus Richardson of Balboa.

NEW FOX FILM PLAN PROPOSED

Untermyer Suggests Group of Three Trustees

Names Submitted for Board of New Directors

Western Electric Company Favors Receivership

NEW YORK, Jan. 27. (AP)—Samuel Untermyer, counsel for William Fox, today suggested in Federal court before Judge Frank J. Coleman that a voluntary trusteeship be formed by Bernard Baruch, Edward E. Delafield and Herbert P. Howell, for the Fox Film Corporation and the Fox Theaters Corporation to avoid putting both companies into the hands of receivers.

DIRECTORS RESIGN

The resignations of Fox and the other directors were submitted to take effect after similar action, to be taken by John E. Otterson of the Western Electric Company, and H. L. Stuart of Halsey, Stuart & Co., who, with Mr. Fox, were recently constituted a trusteeship committee to control the Fox interests.

A board of directors of the two companies suggested by Mr. Untermyer would contain the following men: William Fox, Jack E. Leo, Winfield Sheehan, E. R. Tinker, [illegible] Abrams, Bernard Baruch and one man to be named by the trustees.

Mr. Delafield, suggested by Mr. Untermyer as one member of the voluntary trusteeship, represents the Bank of America, N. A.

BANKERS NAMED

Untermyer named three banking houses, Lehman Brothers, Bancamerica-Blair Corporation, and Dillon, Read & Co., as a financial group ready to carry forward the policy of the reorganized Fox company. The new financial policy, the attorney said, could go ahead as soon as Otterson and Stuart resign. Isidor Kresel, attorney for Susan Dryden Kuser, who brought one of four suits for a receivership, said that he had not heard of the plan until Untermyer outlined it. He termed it an elaborate

An attorney for the Western Electric Company and Halsey, Stuart & Co. insisted that his clients would rather have a receivership. A conference was then held behind closed doors in Judge Coleman's chambers.

The latest of the several petitions for receiverships of Fox interests was filed earlier today by Maurice [illegible], a stockholder, who asked an equity receiver for Fox Theaters Corporation stock.

LOCAL LIFE INSURANCE UNIT GAINS

Pacific Mutual Reports New Business Increase of $32,425,659 in Year

Pacific Mutual Life Insurance during the year just closed wrote a total of $89,637,200 in new life insurance, bringing the total in force at the end of 1929 to $732,468,659, a gain of $32,425,249, as compared to 1928, and a new high total in the company's history, according to the annual financial statement covering the sixty-second year of operations which was released yesterday.

Assets reached the sum of $162,286,365, or a gain of $16,303,199 over the preceding year. Nearly 50 per cent of the total assets, or $80,645,977 was invested in loans on real estate; $8,343,949 was in loans on approved collateral; $26,663,320 was loaned to policy holders; $30,349,900 was invested in bonds; $1,333,303 was invested in preferred stocks, while $7,490,897 represented the book value of the company's real estate holdings. Cash on hand to meet current requirements was given at $1,090,230, of which $1,021,280 was drawing interest.

On its combined investments, the company earned an average rate of 6.27 per cent interest. Total cash income was $45,630,651, or a gain of $4,517,236 over 1928. Policy holders received $18,910,217, bringing the grand total since organization up to $182,695,361. Unassigned surplus gained $1,782,459, bringing the surplus, both assigned and unassigned, but exclusive of capital, to $12,879,987. Reserves showed a gain of $13,978,274 over the previous twelve months.

Premium income of the accident department totaled $6,767,516, an increase of $447,855 over 1928. The investment department reported no delinquent interest at the close of 1929, although loans on real estate had amounted to $80,645,977. In 1928, with $72,900,390 invested in mortgages throughout the United States, only $895 was due at the end of the year, while in 1927, with $67,337,768 invested in mortgages, only $287 was delinquent for interest at the close of the year.

Deere Company in Record Year

CHICAGO, Jan. 27. (Exclusive)—Deere & Company, harvesting machinery manufacturers, reported today net earnings for the year closed October 31, last, of $15,181,949 after all charges, equivalent after preferred dividends to $68.60 a share on 189,173 shares of common stock outstanding, which is a record in the history of the company.

These earnings compare with net profits for the preceding year of $9,299,068, or $37.50 a share, on the same number of common shares, representing an increase of $5,882,881, or more than 60 per cent. Sales for the year were approximately 25 per cent greater than in 1928.

BANK PAYS DIVIDEND ON YEAR EARNINGS

Firestone Park State Bank, South Gate, organized in June, 1928, earned sufficient profits in 1929 to pay a $6 dividend which has been declared Samuel M. Dudlext, president, announced yesterday following the annual stockholders' meeting. The bank is capitalized at $50,000. Deposits as of December 31, last, totaled $382,811.56. All officers and directors were re-elected for the ensuing year.

COTTON MARKET

NEW YORK, Jan. 27. (AP)—Cotton was easier today under liquidation and a moderate volume of offerings which was supposed to include some selling for foreign account. Relatively easy Liverpool cables were probably a factor on the decline, while there was further near-month liquidation and the demand seemed chiefly in the way of covering or trade buying on the scale down. Business was only moderately active, with the midafternoon market showing net declines of about 11 points.

BANKS STILL HOLD STOCKS

Loans Made in November to Distressed Investors Will Fall Due in February; Policy Undecided

BY EARLE E. CROWE

About the most important question under discussion in the banking business is what to do about loans on stocks. Most of these loans made during the November break on a ninety-day basis are scheduled to fall due in February, and whether to extend or not to extend is the question the bankers are not ready to answer.

Writers of brokerage-house letters conveniently overlook this threat to the market, yet the total security loans reported by the Federal Reserve system are approximately $7,000,000,000, or considerably above the highest figure reached by brokers' loans in 1929. If the banks compel borrowers to liquidate these loans the stock market is certainly headed for another clean-out.

BANKERS SYMPATHETIC

But there is a decided disposition on the part of bankers to go as far as possible with borrowers in working these loans out. The state of the money market in February, the demand for loans from other sources, and the tenor of the stock market will be the important factors in deciding policies to follow. Probably the Los Angeles, Chicago, St. Louis and other bankers will watch New York for the keynote.

Banks are fully able to carry the load, but naturally look for payment when the notes fall due. They may put pressure on borrowers to reduce loans by selling some of the stocks, particularly if the level of prices is higher next month. Or the decision may be reached to extend the loans of borrowers in good standing until such time as stock market conditions generally are propitious for liquidation.

A few days ago the investment trusts would have stood ready to absorb distress selling of good stocks, but this prospect is no longer true. The investment trusts, as their annual reports indicate, are already well loaded up with stocks, some carried over at precrash prices, and others picked up in large volume after the first or second break. It is also true that some investment trusts are struggling along with impaired capital.

MAY ORGANIZE POOL

If the New York banks decide that stock loans should be substantially reduced some action will probably be taken to quietly organize another banking pool to prevent demoralization of the market. As with the first banking pool, which was recently reported to have completed the liquidation of most of its holdings, the purpose would be stabilization, not support of the market.

Possible action of this sort may be necessary, anyway, if some of the forecasts of first-quarter earnings reports are true. A series of unsatisfactory statements coming out in April might conceivably induce substantial voluntary liquidation of loans by investors who hoped to work out of their stocks in a few months' time.

Los Angeles bankers, in discussing this situation, report that little change in the status of stock loans has taken place in January. They do say, however, that the banks here are in splendid shape to handle the problem, and are disposed to adopt any constructive measures that will prevent customers from taking losses.

AERO UNIT PASSES TO NEW GROUP

Additional Capital for Expansion Brought Into Continental Express

Control of Continental Air Express, operating a trimotored airplane passenger service from here to San Francisco, has been sold to a new group of Los Angeles business men, which has brought into the organization considerable additional capital to facilitate the development and expansion of the company, Harry Sperl, vice-president and general manager, announced yesterday.

In addition to Mr. Sperl, who was formerly president, E. K. Fleming remains with the new interests as treasurer and director. H. H. Pursel, Los Angeles stock broker, has been elected president, and with M. H. Phillips, attorney, and I. M. Brunson, constitute the new members of the directorate. Retiring directors, who, with Messrs. Sperl and Fleming, formerly held control of the company, are R. S. Alexander, E. Wolfram, H. L. Richardson and W. A. Denehie.

As part of the expansion program, tentative plans for which are now being worked out, the company inaugurated yesterday a new route to San Francisco via Fresno in place of the line via Taft and Coalinga. A local line to Taft and Coalinga touching at various oil fields, including Kettleman Hills, will be maintained by the company.

While definite plans for later development have not yet been settled, Mr. Sperl stated that the company will immediately order two additional trimotored planes. It is now operating three planes daily.

Stock Market Institute to Extend Field

Five new courses will be added to the curriculum of the Los Angeles Stock Exchange Institute for the second semester, beginning February 17, next, Dr. Gordon S. Watkins, director, announced yesterday. Registration now under way will be completed by February 10, according to the announcement.

New courses announced by Dr. Watkins, which increase the number offered by the institute to eleven, will be: "Analysis of Financial Statements," "Investment Banking," "Business Barometers and Forecasting," "Effective Business Letters" and "Public Speaking." In addition to these five, the subjects requiring full-term instruction will be continued from the first semester, including "Investments," "Elementary Accounting" and "Brokerage Accounting;" instruction in "Corporation Finance," "Business Economics" and "Brokerage Practice" will be repeated.

Although first semester registration reached a total of 1868, it is expected the addition of the new courses will draw a greater or at least an equal number for the second semester. The faculty for the new semester will be announced shortly, including the staff engaged for the two-semester courses.

To round out the institute program, a basketball league has been in operation and other sports activities are to be sponsored. A bridge-tea, attended by more than 100 women, was held last week, and a midyear dance has been scheduled for February 7 at the Biltmore. The personnel bureau has filled approximately twenty positions monthly during the last five months.

Income of Mail Order Unit Off

CHICAGO, Jan. 27. (Exclusive)—Montgomery Ward & Co. for 1929 today reported net income of $13,434,935, equal after Class "A" dividends to $2.60 a share on 4,620,768 shares of common stock, against $17,703,835, or $4.77 a share on 3,410,983 shares in 1928. The company closed the year in the strongest financial position in its history with working capital of $115,880,277, against $74,113,865 at the end of 1928.

George B. Everitt, president, ascribed the earnings decrease to large profit recessions in the mail-order branch caused by abnormal expense in shipment prepayments. He added that unless the country experiences a severe business depression, which is not anticipated, 1930 should bring a satisfactory volume of business and an increase in profits.

INVESTMENT UNIT REPORTS

Annual Statement of Los Angeles Company Shows Slight Gain in Net Over 1928

Los Angeles Investment Company, while experiencing only a moderate increase in real estate activities and deriving a smaller revenue from oil royalties due to curtailment of production, has brought to a close a year of substantial progress and expansion through the development of its various subsidiary units, it was disclosed in the annual report issued yesterday by W. P. Jeffries, president.

Net profits of the investment company alone increased $12,565 over the earnings for 1928 to $834,869.87 after all charges including provision for Federal taxes, which is equal to $1.67 a share on the 500,000 shares of $10 par stock outstanding.

Adding the undistributed portion of the net income of the various subsidiaires which would accure to the company through its stock holdings in these units, the company's earnings would be increased $168,227.82, making aggregate profits accruing to the stock, of $1,003,097.69, or $2 a share. Dividends of $1.20 a share were paid during the year.

REALTY SALES BETTER

While there was a slight increase in real estate sales, loss through repossessions reduced the gross revenues of this division by $70,385 to $413,017. Income from oil royalties amounted to $491,727, a reduction of approximately $40,000, or 8 per cent due entirely to the curtailment program.

Los Angeles Investment Securities Corporation, which during the year acquired seats on the Los Angeles Stock and Curb exchanges, the business of Knight, Stetson & Lester and the business of M. S. Walker & Co., brokers, reported net profits after all charges of $141,608.19, equivalent to $2.83 a share on its outstanding stock, against $72,313.61 in 1928.

TRUST ARM GAINS

Los Angeles Investment Trust Company, wholly owned subsidiary, earned $42,858.74 after all charges against $24,723.06 in 1928 and it is expected that this unit will pay dividends to the parent company during the current year, the report stated.

Los Angeles Investment Building Company, wholly owned subsidiary formed to control and operate the new Western Pacific Building, derived net profits from the building after all charges of $33,493.13. The parent company still operates the Trinity Hotel and Trinity Auditorium, revenues of both of which increased slightly.

Investment Insurance Agency, organized in 1928, did a very satisfactory business in 1929, according to the report, and resources of the Investment Building and Loan Association were also satisfactorily increased.

The annual meeting of the parent company has been called for February 11 at 8 p.m. and that of the Los Angeles Investment Securities Corporation at 9 p.m. the same evening.

NET PROFITS OF WESTERN AIR UP

President Makes Report on Year's Operation

Earnings Before Income Tax Set at $9 a Share

Increase Over Figure for 1928 $367,074.80

Outlining another year of expansion and progress with increased earnings, the 1929 annual report of Western Air Express Corporation, which was submitted by Harris M. Hanshue, president, to the stockholders yesterday at their annual meeting showed net profits before Federal income taxes of $1,087,852.60, equivalent to more than $9 a share on the average number of shares outstanding and an increase of slightly more than 50 per cent over the 1928 profits of $720,777.80 or $6.73 a share.

The stockholders re-elected all retiring directors and added Jack Frye, president of Aero Corporation of California, and Guy Witter of Dean Witter & Co., member of the New York Stock Exchange. Mr. Witter is also a director of Aero Corporation which Western Air will acquire on approval of the recently announced stock exchange offer, by 70 per cent of the Aero stock. The Western Air directors will meet today to elect officers for the year.

MILEAGE GAINS

Mr. Hanshue in his report stated that to keep pace with the public demand for airplane passenger service and for increased frequency of air-mail dispatch the company increased its 2400 scheduled miles daily in 1928 to more than 7200, the increase being distributed as follows: 2860 miles on the Los Angeles-Kansas City passenger service; 1200 miles incident to inauguration of night air-mail service between Los Angeles and Salt Lake City; 730 miles due to doubling the schedule on the Los Angeles-San Francisco passenger line and 200 miles occasioned by the establishment of daily service between Los Angeles and Agua Caliente. These enlarged operations resulted in an increase in number of employees of more than 300 per cent during the year.

"Airplane passenger operations throughout the country sustained losses during 1929," the report continued. "In this regard, your company was perhaps less seriously affected than any other. The volume of passenger traffic and passenger revenues on Western Air Express lines increased nearly fourfold over the preceding year.

"Experiments conducted indicate that price differential over the cost of surface transportation is one of the principal deterrents to air travel. The Postmaster-General, in published statements, has taken cognizance of this condition and is proposing legislation which will permit placement of mails on airplane passenger routes with a view to providing basic revenue for the continuance and development of these services. The high record of efficiency established by your company on all its lines, combining unexcelled operations with unprecented low costs, places it in an extremely favorable position for such consideration.

"Approximately 80 per cent of gross operating revenues for 1929 was derived from air-mail contracts on the Los Angeles-Salt Lake City and Cheyenne - Denver - Colorado Springs-Pueblo route. Under existing air-mail legislation, the original four-year contracts may be extended to a total of ten years at rates of pay to be periodically negotiated between the Postmaster-General and the individual operators. Conferences on this matter were held in October, but difficulty in producing a universally applicable formula for dealing equitably with the more than twenty air-mail contracts outstanding resulted in postponement. Meanwhile the various contracts are continued in force as originally written."

PLANT ENLARGED

Growth of the company's service made advisable the acquisition of a Los Angeles airport and the Valley Boulevard property was acquired and is being improved while the establishment of the Los Angeles-Kansas City Line also necessitated landing fields at intermediate points where no public facilites were afforded, the report said.

Relative to the purchase of five thirty-two-passenger airplanes which are now being delivered, the report stated that preliminary tests with this type equipment indicate that, compared to airplanes now used, it will carry in passengers and cargo more than three times the load at a total increase of less than one-third in cost. This will permit of profitable operations with both passengers and express at, or very near, the rail-rate level.

The balance sheet as of December 31, last, showed current assets of $1,884,535.24 against current liabilities of $267,071.27, a ratio of more than 7 to 1. At the close of 1928, current assets were $852,936.73 against current liabilities of $391,766.47, a ratio of 2.1 to 1.

Cash on hand in banks and call loans as of December 31, last, totaled $1,091,575.59 or the equivalent of more than $8 a share on the 134,693 issued shares of capital stock.

Total assets were listed at $3,925,180.29 as compared with $1,984,516.56 at the end of the previous year. Capital stock was shown at $1,346,930 as compared with $428,300 at the end of 1928 while capital surplus was given at $1,083,310 and undivided profits at $128,862.36 as against $112,180 and $939,338 respectively in the 1928 balance sheet. Total net worth was $3,525,186.04 as against $1,479,818.55.

Total revenues as shown by the operating statement as of December 31, last, were $2,950,921.59 as against $1,386,700.94 in the previous year while total operating expenses were $1,955,789.23 against $696,726.43. Other income was $92,720.24 against $30,803.29 and the total carried to surplus for 1929 was $1,087,852.60 as compared with $720,777.80 in 1928.

ENVIABLE DIVIDEND RECORD

Unbroken Chain of Cash Disbursements Shown by Pennsylvania Rail Since 1847

BY JOHN F. SINCLAIR

[Copyright, 1930, by the North American Newspaper Alliance]

NEW YORK, Jan. 27.—There are many corporations that have $1,000,000,000 of capital—probably a dozen of them. But not any of them have the extraordinary record of having paid a cash return to its stockholders every year since 1847—say for eighty-four years. This is the record of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, which by the end of this year will have paid a grand total of $982,064,979 to its stockholders since its first payment to them in April, 1847.

For the last complete year, 1929, the Pennsylvania Railroad paid dividends of 7 3-4 per cent, or $43,784,734, bringing the total dividends paid by that railroad company to the end of 1929 to $930,172,589.

Its 200,000 common stockholders look to the president, Gen. W. W. Atterbury of Philadelphia, to continue the good work of future dividends, begun nearly a century ago. His plans call for the complete electrification of the Pennsylvania. This and the question growing out of eastern railroad mergers are keeping Mr. Atterbury more than busy.

No reports are watched with more care, and gone over with keener eyes than those of the various investment trusts as they are being issued.

Bankers particularly are interested, for the rise of the investment trust has been a much-discussed subject among them.

One of the largest of these trusts—the United Founders' Corporation—has just given out its balance sheet showing $207,789,403.14 in investments.

"The total market value of the corporation's investments, taken at market quotations January 15, 1930, was in excess of cost," says this corporation. Theoretically, the management approves of the policy of reporting the corporation's investments at either cost or market quotation as of the day of the balance sheet, whichever happens to be the lower figure. Correct!

Among New York bankers, one gains the impression that in the future the larger banks will be very much more careful about acting as trustees for investment trusts than they have been in the past. The spectacular growth of these investment trusts, particularly in the last eighteen months, hardly gave the banks the opportunity to check carefully the investment methods which were used by many of the trusts.

So far, no State or national legislation has been passed to regulate investment trust operations.

DRIFT OF STOCK VALUES UNEVEN

Market Closes Unchanged at Saturday's Level

Few Issues Gain; Majority Down at Closing

Total Turnover in Trading Moderately Heavy

NEW YORK, Jan. 27. (AP)—The stock market had the appearance of strength during the greater part of today's session, although the index of ninety leading stocks was unchanged from Saturday. Several of the high-priced industrials and specialties were whirled up 4 to 10 points, and net gains of 1 to 2 ponits were quite numerous, but these were interspersed with a rather long list of net declines, most of which were held to a point or two. The day's sales ran close to 3,500,000 shares.

The day's news provided little in the way of market influences. The annual report of Montgomery Ward, showing earnings of only $2.60 a share, was somewhat worse than generally expected, and the stock promptly sold down 3 5-8 points, but it recovered all but a small fraction of its loss. When the bull movement was at its height last summer, Montgomery Ward earnings estimates ran above $6 a share. Sears-Roebuck declined in sympathy

RUBBER MARKET

NEW YORK, Jan. 27. Final prices were from 10 to 30 points net higher after a turnover of 681 lots, or 1702½ long tons. Trading in January ceased at noon. Stocks of crude rubber at London and Liverpool at the end of last week amounted to 80,047 tons and compared with 79,122 in the preceding period.

LOS ANGELES EXCHANGE

Strong Undertone Prevails in Local Stock Trading; Edison Leads General Upturn

While the active operations on recent sessions slackened somewhat, traders on the Los Angeles Stock Exchange yesterday exhibited an effort to further extend the rallying trend of prices as this week's dealings were resumed. Although price movements were again restricted to relatively narrow limits the market continued to display an undertone of strength with the drift of quotations working upward at the close after a slight reaction around noon.

Interest centered on Southern California Edison as the issue was taken in hand at the opening and forced up 1 1-2 points to 59 1-2. The stock proved one of the leaders of the market activity and after dipping to 59 closed at 59 1-8, up 1 1-8 net. The rights turned in large volume selling up 5 cents to 3.05 and the original preferred reached 60 with a 2-point gain.

Transamerica and Pacific Finance which featured the two preceding sessions with a relatively brisk turnover, continued to attract a large following. The former firmed up 3-8 to 44, while the latter, after opening at 42 1-2, dropped back to 41 3-4 to yield 1-4 net. Security-First National Bank also played a prominent part in the day's operations and on a transfer of 1100 shares moved up 3-4 to 111 1-2. On light sales California Bank advanced a point to 119 and Citizens' National eased a point to 110. Pacific American Fire and International Reinsurance each advanced 1-2 to 52 1-2 and 42 1-2, respectively.

Petroleum shares continued to range within narrow limits and very little activity was recorded by the group. Standard of California dropped a point to 59 3-4 and the others yielded small fractional amounts.

Western Air Express, on a board lot, advanced 1 1-8 points to 29 7-8, while Aero Corporation held steady to 2.60. Pacific Clay Products dropped a point to 27 and Los Angeles Investment firmed up another 3-8 to 18. There were no other changes of consequence.

Sales totaled 16,264 shares valued at $540,301; previous day, 12,943 shares valued at $330,123.

NEW YORK BOND PRICES

NEW YORK, Jan. 27. (AP)—The movement of bond prices was confused today. Closing quotations were about evenly divided between gains and losses, although the averages showed a decline for all groups.

Convertibles flashed a little of their midsummer vigor, especially the American Telephone 4½s, which made a maximum rise of 4 points and closed 2½ higher on a turnover of about $1,200,000, principal amount, the largest in weeks. There were net advances of 1 to 2 points in American International 5½s, Atchison 4½s, New Haven 6s, Reading Coal and Iron 6s A and Commercial Investment Trust 5½s. Public Service of New Jersey 4½s, which lose their conversion privilege Saturday, rose 2½.

The foreign trading was on a firm basis, but the persistence of time money at 4½ to 4¾ per cent levels and the counter attraction of a stronger stock market were accompanied by marked irregularity in the later dealings.

Several high-grade rails rose sharply. Columbus and Hocking Valley first 4s gained 4½, Illinois Central first 3½s rose 2, Nickel Plate 4½s advanced 2½, and Lake Shore general 3½s rallied 1¼. In no instance, however, was a turnover of more than $5000, principal amount, involved. Burlington 4½s, Rock Island general 4s, Union Pacific 4½s and Western Maryland 4s improved about half a point each, while losses of similar proportions developed in Baltimore and Ohio 5s, Missouri, Kansas and Texas prior lien 5s and Pennsylvania gold 5s.

Utilities were mostly firm. Illinois Bell Telephone 5s, Kansas Gas and Electric 6s, New York Edison 6½s, Pacific Telephone first 5s, American Telephone 5s of 1960, and Utah Power and Light 5s made fractional improvement, although closing prices were somewhat below the day's highs.

Industrials reflected a light demand and stood virtually still. In the specialties Shubert Theater 6s rose 2 points and Schulco 6½s, series B, 2½. North American Cement 6½s moved up 1.

Substantial transactions in Liberty 4¼s suggested improved activity in the United States governments, but buying orders appeared to have been satisfied by the early flurry and the group quieted, selling off on the day.

Foreign obligations were irregular. There was further liquidation of the Australians, with the 5s of 1957 selling off 2¼ points and the 5s of 1955 dipping below their 1929 minimum. European loans were steady but inactive.

The quotations represent sales of bonds (in thousands of dollars) and the high, low and closing prices in order given. To expedite transmission, the close is omitted when the same as the low, and both low and close when same as high.

THE East Bay section of the San Francisco Bay region is a great metropolitan area of some 500,000 people, comparable in size, population and wealth with the combined cities of Long Beach, San Pedro, Venice, Ocean Park, Santa Monica, Glendale and Pasadena.

Over one-third of the population's payrolls and buying power of the San Francisco area is found in the East Bay cities, which in recent years have shown a rate of growth far in excess of San Francisco itself.

Municipal improvement bonds issued by these prosperous communities rank among the finest securities of their kind in the State. Shrewd investors seeking a better diversification for their holdings will find such issues fully deserving of a place on the most conservative investment list.

We have available a selected group of improvement bonds issued by East Bay cities and priced to yield 6% to 6½%. Detailed information regarding them will be gladly furnished on request; simply send name and address below.

and then shot upward to close with a net gain of 4 3-8 points.

Wall street regarded the Montgomery Ward report and other 1929 earnings statements, as so much water over the dam, and appeared more interested in current statements and forecasts. The United States Steel quarterly report, due after the close tomorrow, is expected to show 1929 earnings in excess of $18 a share.

FOX IRREGULAR

Fox Film went through another erratic performance, closing 1⅛ points higher at 31, after having sold down to 26 5-8. Postponement of the receivership hearing until after the close of the market inspired heavy short covering on the possibility of an amicable settlement being reached by opposing stock interests. Other amusement shares displayed a strong undertone, Paramount Famous Lasky, Radio-Keith-Orpheum and Warner Brothers Pictures all closing with good gains.

Details of the Republic Steel Corporation merger financing were announced after the close of the market, Central Alloy closing at 33 3-4, up 1-8, and Republic at 78 3-8, up 1 1-8, or about in line with the merger terms. Good buying developed in some of the other independent steels, particularly Inland and Vanadium, which closed with substantial gains. United States Steel common sold down 1⅛ points to 177⅛ after having set a new high for the year at 180⅛.

FOOD ISSUES STRONG

Food shares showed a strong undertone with the demand centering in National Biscuit, Beechnut Packing and F. G. Shattuck. J. I. Case, up 10½ points, led another advance in the farm implement shares. Efforts to bring about a rally in the copper shares met with rather strong resistance and the net gains in that group were small. In the motor group, Chrysler and Yellow Cab were turned over in large volume, the net gains being small, but Auburn added 4½ points to its recent gain. Parmelee Transportation advanced a point to a new 1930 high at 22.

Air Reduction, United States Industrial Alcohol and Sloss Sheffield Steel each lost about 4 points.

Call money renewed at 4½ per cent and then dropped to 4, with the supply so plentiful that loans were available in the "outside market" at 3½ per cent. Time money and commercial paper rates were unchanged.

With the exception of coffee, which advanced 17 to 23 points, most of the leading commodity markets lost ground. Chicago wheat futures were down about 1 1-4 cents a bushel.

Cotton sold off nearly $1 a bale as a result of the bearish interpretation placed by traders on the general farm outlook for 1930 by the Bureau of Agricultural Economics. Corn yielded a fraction of a cent a bushel on bearish crop estimates.

Foreign exchange trading was rather quiet, with the British and Dutch rates sagging to new low levels for the year. Sterling cables were quoted around $4.86½ and Dutch guilders around 40.13 cents. Spanish pesetas broke nearly 20 points to 12.96 cents.

Oklahoma Oil Cut Plans Get State Approval

OKLAHOMA CITY (Okla.) Jan. 27. (AP)—The Oklahoma Corporation Commission today granted the application of major oil companies for a further curtailment of oil production in flush pools of the State.

The Oklahoma City field was ordered to hold production to 25 per cent of its potential output until March 31, with a 33 1-3 per cent margin allowed for fluctuation of demand.

Curtailment in the East Earlsboro field was set at 66 2-3 per cent until February 26, with a 25 per cent margin for fluctuation. After February 28 the field will be permitted to produce 50 per cent of its potential production.

A 30 per cent curtailment until March 31 was ordered for the Logan county, Greater Seminole, Allen Dome, Sasakwa and Person-St. Louis-Asher fields.

The Konawa field was ordered to curtail 75 per cent until April 1.

NEW YORK CURB STOCKS

NEW YORK, Jan. 27. (AP)—Bullish price tendencies in today's curb market were more pronounced, but there were still sufficient soft spots to give to it the appearance of irregularity. Chief speculative interest centered in the spectacular gain of 85 points in Deere & Co. to 620, which contrasts with a low of 310 and a high of 642 last year, on the publication of the 1929 report, showing earnings of $68.60 a share against $37.50 in the previous year.

Commonwealth and Southern ran up 28 points to 260 and closed within 3 points of the top, but gains in most of the other leading power and light stocks were held to a point or less. Recent accumulation of the public utilities has been based on the theory they are likely to be least affected by a business depression, as evidenced by the steadily mounting gross and net earnings over the last few months.

Airplane issues showed little change. A gain of 4 points in Ford Motors of Canada B and the renewed weakness of Stutz Motors bonds featured the automotive group. Schulte United preferred and the Schulte real estate issues recorded sharp gains.

Gulf Oil of Pennsylvania advanced nearly 2 points and most of the other oils improved fractionally. Blaw Knox dropped 1¾ points to 33⅛ despite the inauguration of dividends at the annual rate of $1.50. Lehman Corporation, with a gain of nearly 2 points, featured the investment trust and trading corporation group. Fox Theaters closed fractionally higher at $8 a share despite the institution of receivership proceedings against that company.

The closing price is omitted when same as the low, and both low and close when same as the high.

Stock sales today, 826,000 shares.
Stock sales year ago, 2,358,300 shares.
Bond sales today, $1,525,000.

WOOL MARKET

BOSTON, Jan. 27. (AP)—Immediate requirements for domestic wools are being covered, but commitments on further quantities are being withheld. Current demand is very light on domestic wools of 56s or below and the few bids being made are low as compared with recently quoted prices. Bearish pressure against prices of 58s, 60s or finer domestic wools is not so strong as the case of the lower grades. Receipts of domestic wools during week ending January 23 amounted to 281,700 pounds compared with 299,900 pounds the previous week.

Is the Common Stock really a bargain at current prices?

Was there ever any real basis for the recent high of 68?

Can it ever again reach that level?

Has Cities Service finally reached the limit of its possibilities as so many companies with impressive records eventually do?

Wheat Off to Lowest Level in Long Period

CHICAGO, Jan. 27. (AP)—Crumbling away of wheat values at Winnipeg and Liverpool did much to force the wheat market here downward today to lowest levels reached in months. Export business in North American wheat was lacking, and a decrease of 2,355,000 bushels in the United States wheat visible supply was smaller than generally looked for. Much attention was also given to authoritative forecasts that wheat price advances over 1929 can only result from severe damage to winter wheat or from reduction of spring wheat acreage. Corn, oats and rye outdid wheat in some respects, and touched new low price records for the season.

Chicago closing quotations on wheat were nervous, 1@1⅛c to 1⅜c a bushel under Saturday's finish. Corn closed ⅝c to ⅞c down and oats ⅛c to ⅝c off, with provisions varying from 12c decline to a rise of 2c.

Notwithstanding that unusually active buying developed when the Chicago wheat market descended today to $1.25 a bushel, May delivery, equaling the Federal Farm Board loan basis, the buying orders were finally exhausted, and a break to $1.25½ ensued. Later the market here rallied, owing more or less to reports that National Grain Corporation purchases of cash wheat at Minneapolis were the largest yet made. Commission house buying for new investors was also a factor helping recovery of the market.

A striking feature of the day's developments regarding wheat was that the Winnipeg wheat market showed itself persistently weaker than the market here. An increase of 2,328,000 bushels in the amount of wheat on ocean passage was also a subject of special notice. Heavy selling of May and July deliveries of rye here was done for houses with foreign connections, and this circumstance counted to a material extent as a bearish influence on all grain, wheat in particular.

Increasing arrivals of corn acted at times as a decided weight on the market for feed grains.

Provisions averaged lower, responsive to downturns both in hog values and in grain.

LOS ANGELES MARKET

CATTLE—The fairly liberal supply for the week's opening session included a large increase in the proportion of steers. Demand was just moderate and a weaker undertone prevailed on early rounds; however, later in the day sales were mostly steady and outside of a few sales values showed little change from late last week. Practically all offerings came from California, intermountain and southwestern territory. A number of loads of outstanding quality, especially cows and heifers, were offered, these arriving late and selling during the afternoon.

About a load of light steers on the baby beef order brought 12.10 with bulk of California and intermountain steers averaging up to 1240 pounds selling at 11.40@12.00. A number of loads including southwesterns turned at 10.35@11.25 and were mostly of light weight. Odd lots of low grade steers sold at 9.00@10.25. Three loads of Arizona stockers that arrived Saturday were still in first hands.

A load of outstanding 836-pound heifers on the baby beef order made 11.60 with odd head at 10.00@10.80 and a few loads at 9.00@9.75. Common heifers sold down to 7.50. A three-car string of outstanding intermountain young cows late in the day brought 9.50 and 9.60, with bulk of medium to low good cows making 8.00@8.60. Common cows were numerous down to 6.75. Low cutters and cutters bulked at 4.00@5.50. A few good bulls sold up to 8.60, with bulk of medium kinds at 7.00@8.00.

CALVES—The moderate supply of calves was fairly well cleared at mostly steady prices, although a few of the better grades were considered weak to 25c lower. A few good milk vealers reached 15.00, with bulk of medium to good kinds at 12.00@14.00. Common and weighty calves sold at 10.00@12.00, with culls down to 8.50.

HOGS—A very erratic market featured yesterday's market. Morning sales were unevenly steady to 25c lower but several loads arriving about noon sold steady to 10c higher than last week's close. Only a few buyers were out, especially the smaller killers, but a good clearance was made. Nebraska, Colorado, Idaho and California contributed to the supply. Three loads of strictly good 191-pound Nebraska butchers topped at 11.00 with a 152-pound load of Californias at 10.90. Bulk of loads averaging 170 to 214 pounds scored 10.45@10.75. Odd lots of light lights made 10.50 with scattered sales of heavy butchers at 9.75. A few head of packing sows brought 8.25@9.00 and a few 105 to 108-pound pigs cashed at 9.00@9.75.

SHEEP—Six decks of medium fleshed Utah lambs were offered but were not in suitable flesh condition to interest buyers. The asking prices of above 13.00 was sharply higher. With the downward tendency displayed at eastern markets and the slow dressed trade, medium to choice lambs are quotable no more than steady at 10.75@12.75 with similar quality ewes at 5.00@6.50.

Bigness

Accustomed though he is to vaunting bigness, the keen American knows that bigness is never the sole criterion of excellence. That The American Appraisal Company is the largest in the world is a mere statistic. Stability, freedom from influence, nationwide service, the facilities for making better appraisals—these are the results of bigness important to users of appraisals.

AN ADVERTISEMENT OF THE SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA EDISON COMPANY

Easy to Buy;
Easy to Sell;
Easy to Keep
...and Worth Keeping

EDISON PREFERRED

Does not the above head-line describe an ideal security for the average investor ... especially for the man or woman who cannot afford to take a chance ... the man or woman who seeks in investment, security, and freedom from worry?

Southern California Edison Preferred is easy to buy. It may be bought outright or on easy monthly installments. Edison Preferred is easy to sell. It is listed upon the Los Angeles stock exchange. Price fluctuations are rare; one may safely sell "at the market," almost any day. And if the need for money is only temporary, one need not sell, for any bank will gladly accept Edison as security for a liberal loan. That, after all, is the best test of a security.

But, best of all, Edison Preferred is easy to keep ... and worth keeping. It may be purchased and be put away and forgotten. There are no coupons to bother with; no conversion features, no options that require watching. Dividends are mailed regularly the fifteenth day of every third month ... and Edison dividends have been uninterrupted for a generation.

This is a fighting business!

THERE IS NO HAND-FOLDING LUXURY .. for the official staff of a building and loan association .. which holds three State records .. as does the MUTUAL Building and Loan Association OF POMONA.

It takes just such small-town, old-fashioned officers as we've had for 37 years in Pomona Valley to respect the rigid conservatism which stands back of our UNLIMITED LIABILITY of $3,200,000 paid-in capital, surplus and reserve.

UP ON THE 10TH FLOOR .. in our Los Angeles offices .. we follow the same economies .. now that we've grown to $14,000,000 because that tremendous sum .. simply increases our responsibility .. and caution for your 6% thrift account.

You'll find no slumbering dignity or craze for lazy luxury, because 10,000 neighbors and friends of Pomona Valley have a hard-working contempt for such frills. They watch us by means of a continuous independent audit, published monthly—at—YOUR disposal, too.

CASH RESERVE AROUND $600,000 for your convenient availability of your 6% account. This institution will win YOUR respect by its three State records of SIX PER CENT AND SAFETY.

Is an upward move in the making?

What should your policy be now? Is this a time to accumulate good securities? Is a sustained advance ahead? Or do dullness and possible declines make it desirable to maintain a strictly cash position?

Monthly returns on this investment vary, due to the production falling off, and increasing by new wells being brought in. Each interest at the present time should earn in excess of four per cent monthly on the selling price. A fair estimate of the additional wells to be deepened or drilled on these 261 acres, besides the 38 that are now drilling, would be 100 more.

NOTICIAS MUNDIALES DE ULTIMA HORA

NOTAS TELEGRAFICAS

Los Rojos Achacan a los Estados Unidos el Rompimiento con Méjico

MOSCU, Enero 27.—Fernando Mafit, encargado de negocios mejicano, y otros dos miembros de la legación mejicana hicieron hoy sus preparativos para abandonar el territorio soviet, tras la reciente ruptura de relaciones entre Méjico y Rusia.

El periódico "Izvestia" da a entender que Washington fue quien aconsejó a Méjico que diera sus pasaportes al ministro ruso en aquel país y que retirara a los agentes diplomáticos mejicanos de Moscú.

"Méjico", dice el referido diario, "como todos los demás países del continente americano, está enteramente sometido a la influencia del ministerio de Estado yanqui."

Insiste el periódico en que las manifestaciones de unos cuantos comunistas extranjeros frente a las legaciones mejicanas han sido sólo un fútil pretexto para romper unas relaciones que venían existiendo desde 1924.

Se Desmiente lo de la Expulsión de Massie

CIUDAD DE MEJICO, Enero 27.—Los directores de la Sun Life Assurance Company, del Canadá, han manifestado hoy que, en contradicción de las noticias publicadas la semana pasada, el ministerio de lo Interior les ha comunicado que no se ha instruido expediente alguno de deportación contra William P. Massie, gerente de la compañía en la ciudad de Méjico, por presunta conducta irrespetuosa para con las autoridades.

El señor Massie, que es ciudadano norteamericano, ha salido ya a la calle, después de haber estado escondido una semana. Hoy ha vuelto a las oficinas de la Sun Life.

Von Hindenburg Da la Bienvenida a un Rey

BERLIN, Enero 27.—El presidente Von Hindenburg ha recibido hoy al Rey Gustavo de Suecia, que estuvo de paso en Berlín, y va a Roma a reunirse con la Reina Victoria, que está invernando allí. La condición de la reina se ha hecho estacionaria. Lleva muchos años de estar enferma.

El Magistrado Holmes Recluido con Resfriado

WASHINGTON, Enero 27.—El magistrado Holmes, que va a cumplir 89 años en Marzo, y que ha estado presidiendo la suprema corte durante la ausencia del magistrado presidente Taft, ha tenido hoy que quedarse en casa por orden de su médico.

El distinguido jurisconsulto concurrió a una conferencia celebrada por la corte el sábado, y el domingo le sobrevino un resfriado, que lo tiene ahora recluido en sus habitaciones.

Ausentes tanto el señor Taft como el señor Holmes, presidió hoy la suprema corte el magistrado Van Devanter. Levantada la sesión de hoy, el alto cuerpo resolvió entrar en vacaciones hasta el próximo 24 de Febrero.

La Transatlántica Francesa Combate a los "Bootleggers"

NUEVA YORK, Enero 27.—Hoy dice el "Evening World" que el despido reciente de tres celadores aduanales por no haber aprehendido en Septiembre último a los "bootleggers" que estaban llevando a tierra licor del vapor "De Grasse", ha revelado el hecho de que la Línea Francesa ha gastado en los últimos dieciocho meses $35,000 en detectives particulares, con el fin de impedir que se saque licor del citado vapor para introducirlo de contrabando en este país.

Dice el Evening World que la Transatlántica Francesa, para poner coto al matute, ha puesto un detective en cada plancha de cada un de sus barcos que atraca aquí, dándole orden de permanecer allí desde que la plancha toca el muelle hasta que no registra el barco la escuadra de aduaneros.

NOTAS LOCALES

Se Escapa una Muchacha de la Corte Juvenil

Ayer dio la policía la voz de alarma, anunciando la fuga de Louise Trothers, de 16 años, quien se evadió de la corte juvenil. Vivía la muchacha en el 127 de la calle Catorce Oeste, y había sido consignada, para su examen mental, al juez Scott, de la corte juvenil.

En su parte, dice la policía que la mamá y el hermano ayudaron a la mocita para que se fugara ayer a las 6 a.m. El hermano le arrojó una soga por sobre el muro que rodea el vestíbulo de la corte, y valiéndose de ella, la rapaza salvó dicho muro. La chica, el hermano y la madre de ambos van rumbo a Kansas en auto.

Conductor Ebrio Multado

Le ha costado caro guiar un automóvil, estando borracho, a Harry A. Jones, petrolero; pues, amén de haber tenido que pagar una cuenta de $450 por composturas a su coche, tuvo que comparecer ayer ante el juez superior Price, y pagar una multa de $750 que éste le aplicó. En Noviembre 9 último, según pruebas presentadas, Jones se subió con su coche a la acerca y chocó contra un poste telefónico.

Charlas Infantiles para Chiquillos de Escuela

II.

El señor Bliss levantó la vista, y vio a un muchachote que se le acercaba (Mr. Bliss looked up. He saw a big boy coming toward him). Traía el muchacho un sombrero de fieltro blanco con ala angosta, que parecía una medida de medio "peck" (The boy had on a white felt hat with a narrow brim. It looked like a half-peck measure). Tenía el pelo blanco, y le quedaba demasiado corto el pantalón (His hair was white. His trousers were too short for him). Toda su ropa era ordinaria y pobre, y era tan singular el aspecto del muchacho, que al señor Bliss le dieron ganas de reír (All his clothes were coarse and poor. He was such a strange-looking boy, that Mr. Bliss wanted to laugh).

Oil Profits of Occidental Up

Net profits for 1929 of the Occidental Petroleum Corporation totaled $778,020 after all charges except Federal income taxes, equal to $1.23½ a share on 630,000 capital shares outstanding, against $76,676, or 12 cents a share, in 1928, Leonard Carbett, secretary, announced yesterday.

While production has been curtailed more than 60 per cent through the Santa Fe Springs restriction program, the company has several wells headed for the Clarke zone, two of which are now standing cemented. Based on the present production, Mr. Carbett estimates 1930 earnings at 60 cents a share. Universal Consolidated Oil Company, which develops Occidental's properties, gets the company's entire production until development costs are paid out, and from then on 55 per cent of the output. Occidental Petroleum had no debts at the close of the year.

Transamerica Adds to Board

Louis Ferrari, general counsel of the Bank of Italy and also a vice-president and director of the bank, has been elected a director of Transamerica Corporation, L. M. Giannini, announced yesterday. As recently announced, L. M. Giannini, son of A. P. Giannini, founder of the Bank of Italy, will succeed to the presidency of Transamerica on February 8, next.

With the accession to Transamerica's board of several eastern financiers, it was felt that western interests were entitled to additional representation. Mr. Ferrari was chosen because of his close association and familiarity not only with the affairs of Transamerica but with those of its predecessor, Bancitaly Corporation.

OIL NEWS

BY PORTER FLINT

With Secretary of the Interior Wilbur scheduled to be here today to attend a meeting of the Kettleman Hills oil-conservation committee, two plans for the orderly development of that field will be considered by him for the purpose of controlling the drilling campaign that has resulted in the completion of four producers and the possible completion of a half-dozen others within a short time.

E. D. Reiter, chairman of the Kettleman Hills oil-conservation committee, yesterday announced that the engineers met to discuss the unit and co-operative plan of development. Both plans will be submitted to Secretary Wilbur when he meets with the committee at 1:30 p.m. today in Judge Reiter's office.

The committee, appointed last April by Dr. George Otis Smith to work out a plan to curtail drilling operations at Kettleman Hills, has served continuously since its appointment. This group includes E. D. Reiter, chairman; Ellsworth McGowan, secretary; W. L. McLain, Patrick Longan, W. H. Berg and R. H. Pendleton.

Showings Correlate

The formation encountered in Louis G. Simmel's test on the Ra... land poultry ranch located in the townlot area at Inglewood, correlates with that found in the Ring Oil Company's Simons No. 1 which went to 5500 feet in search of oil but was abandoned on account of failure to penetrate any oil sand.

Simmel's project is about 1000 feet northeast of the brick yard and a short distance from Iting's initial test. His well is drilling below 2000 feet. Considerable gas is in evidence at about the same depth where it was encountered in Ring's test. Both of these undertakings are more than a mile northwest of the townlot area at Potrero where search for oil during the past eight months has been quite energetic.

Although somewhat removed from the real field of activity, Simmel's test is being watched with interest as it is near the same district which operators considered a wildcat test as having possibilities of developing something more than a few showings. The Ring Oil Company still holds acreage there and future work in that particular vicinity depends entirely upon results obtained in scattered tests.

About a mile southeast of the Potrero townlot area, the St. Patricia Oil Company's Connolley No. 1 which went to a depth of 8000 feet and is the deepest wildcat in that area, still remains suspended because of failure of arrival of drill pipe to enable resumption of drilling. The hole was cleaned to bottom after removal of a string of drill pipe which tied up operations a short time when it froze at bottom.

Remains Steady

Two new completions brought in over the week-end at Santa Fe Springs held the daily average production of oil well above the desired quota. Yesterday's total output was 168,652 barrels. The General Petroleum Corporation's Santa Fe No. 220 was brought in for 1000 barrels of 33.6-deg. gravity oil per day from a depth of 8000 feet and the Shell Oil Company's G. H. B. No. 29 was completed at 7840 feet for approximately 600 barrels daily.

The Standard Oil Company's South Whittier Community No. 77, which on initial flow produced at the rate of 900 barrels daily, yesterday increased to 1050 barrels per day from a depth of 7741 feet. The company's Walker No. 22 during a flow test proved a gasser and will be killed to deepen into the lower Clarke sand.

Recements Deep One

Oscar Howard's Hathaway No. 1 in the southwesterly portion of the Santa Fe Springs field yesterday was recemented for the third time at about 8750 feet with bottom of the hole at 8850 feet and will endeavor to shut out the water. Most of the water is thought to have been shut out as the result of two previous cementing jobs and if yesterday's attempt proves successful, more than 150 feet of oil sand may be given a production test within a week.

The General Petroleum Corporation's Santa Fe No. 213, another deep test at Santa Fe Springs, is being cleaned to a depth of 7800 feet where it was plugged, although drilled to 8750 feet. Water troubles necessitated it being plugged back to test upper showings.

The Texas Company's Patterson No. 10-A near the intersection of Little Lake and Forest roads at Santa Fe Springs is having a little more success in sidetracking part of frozen drill pipe. It is below 8000 feet and within 200 feet of the old depth obtained just before being tied up in a fishing job.

Flow Increased

The Ohio Oil Company's Recreation Gun Club No. 1 southeast of Venice has increased its production to approximately 1900 barrels of 29.8-deg. gravity oil per day from a depth of 6199 feet. For a time the output was beaned down.

Ohio's Recreation Gun Club No. 2, about 550 feet south of the first producer, is making rapid headway and is drilling below 2200 feet. It is searching for the same producing formation encountered in the first completion. The company's Hou... land No. 1 about 2400 feet northeast of the producer is building foundation for derrick and may be ready to spud in within the next ten days. This project is located at the extreme south end of the G. B. Houland twenty-nine-acre lease.

Nearing Completion

The Barnsdall-Rio Grande combination's Luton-Bell No. 14 at Elwood is nearing completion. More than 300 feet of oil sand is in evidence with bottom of the hole now at 3630 feet. A production test will be made in a day or two. The operator's Luton-Bell No. 12 is rigging up to spud in this week and Luton-Bell No. 17 is drilling below 2400 feet in shale.

COAST LASHED BY HEAVY RAIN

Capistrano Bluff Tumbles and Delays Traffic

Precipitation General Over Southern Counties

Total Beats Mark of Last Year at This Time

Heavy rains were unleased on the San Juan Capistrano district yesterday, assuming cloud burst proportions while other communities throughout Southern California were visited by general rains.

The deluge, falling in the section along the coast highway from Capistrano Beach southward as far as La Jolla, caused a bluff to topple on the boulevard near Capistrano.

Automobile traffic was tied up for two hours while emergency crews cleared the road. The right of way of the Santa Fe to San Diego also is reported to have been threatened for a time, one train being forced to wait half an hour before gaining a clear signal to proceed.

HEAVY FALL

At Dana Point .50 of an inch of rain had fallen at 9 a.m. One hour later the weather gauge showed 2.32 inches. Capistrano reported nearly similar figures with 1.63 inches falling in a few hours.

Los Angeles received .39 of an inch from the storm, raising the total for the season to 5.89 inches, .04 of an inch ahead of last year's total on the same date, but 1.8 inches below normal.

Today will be unsettled with rain possible for tomorrow, the United States Weather Bureau stated last night.

Excepting in the Capistrano, Hemet and Beaumont districts, the rain was gentle and steady, with an average precipitation of a little less than half an inch. Beaumont reported 1.13 inches and Hemet 1.10. San Diego registered .25 of an inch. Calexico in the Imperial Valley reported that it rained there on and off all day, the weather man stating that .19 of an inch fell during the twenty-four-hour period up to 5 p.m.

Storm warnings for small craft were hoisted along the coast between the local harbor and San Diego. No sea accidents or difficulties were reported from off the coast and the warnings were taken in last night.

SNOW ON GROUND

Although snowstorms were reported from Big Pines Recreation Camp and from Lake Arrowhead, the Southern California Edison Company dispatchers stated that no new snow was forthcoming from yesterday's clouds along the transmission lines from Huntington Lake to Los Angeles. They said that there still remains several inches of snow on the ground at Huntington Lake and that it gives little promise of melting soon.

Yesterday's snow at Big Pines left a total of six inches on the ground there, while at Mt. Wilson and Mt. Lowe the snow remained piled in canyons and in sheltered points on the northern side of the mountains.

All mountain roads, excepting the Mill Creek and City Creek roads to Big Bear Lake, remain open, according to the Automobile Club of Southern California. Automobile traffic to Big Bear is taking the desert road.

CENTRAL AREAS GET LIGHT SHOWERS

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 27. (Exclusive)—Depressions forming north and south, which prompted the Weather Bureau to predict rain through Northern California generally by tomorrow, made their adverse effect felt today in light showers at central points. FORTUNE FLIES IN LOVE TANGLE

Mrs. Williams's Story Given in Probation Report

Widow of Actor Tells How She Lost $250,000

Jewels Pawned, She States, for Father of Child

The story of how Mrs. Florine Walz Williams, widow of Earle Williams, motion-picture actor, spent the $250,000 fortune left by her husband and then pawned her jewels to pay the debts of a man, whom she charges is the father of her six-months-old son Billy, was revealed yesterday for the first time when the report of Mrs. E. M. Ladico, probation officer, was filed with Superior Judge Wood.

Mrs. Williams appeared and asked the court to grant her probation. She recently pleaded guilty to one count of grand theft and asked for leniency. At 10 a.m. today Mrs. Williams is scheduled to return to court, at which time Judge Wood is expected to grant probation provided that she has completed arrangements for restitution.

In her statement to the probation officer, the widow related a tragic story of her unsuccessful attempt to manage her husband's fortune; of how she became infatuated with a promoter and yielded to his suggestion of investing her money in an oil development project without consulting her attorney or anyone skilled in finance, and of how she eventually became a mother, then to be scorned by the man for whom she had sacrificed everything.

LOVE AFFAIR RELATED

Mrs. Williams told Probation Officer Ladico that she first met the promoter a few months after the death of her husband while she was still wearing deep mourning.

At first the friendship was distant, the report states, but as time wore on the man gradually assumed a prominent place in her affections and his advice governed her business transactions. In fact, Mrs. Williams told the probation officer, she fell madly in love with him and was so strongly under his influence that he actually directed the expenditure of a large part of her money.

The first transaction of this nature occurred in 1928 when he urged the widow to invest $150,000 in the E. J. Miley Corporation, oil developers, the report asserts. Mrs. Williams said she was unable to raise this amount but during a period of four months obtained approximately $132,000 from her husband's estate and gave it to the promoter to invest. Of this amount $35,000 was returned when Mrs. William's attorney, Milton Cohen, discovered that the money still belonged to the Earle Williams estate and should not have been disposed of until distributed by a court order.

MONEY SLIPS AWAY

Then during the settlement of the estate, Mrs. Williams said, she found it necessary to expend nearly $80,000 to satisfy the claims of numerous creditors.

As time progressed the situation steadily became more complicated. In return for her investment in the oil development company Mrs. Williams held a large sheaf of bonds, but the income was not sufficient to aid her. Then, according to the probation officer's report, the widow discovered that she soon was to become a mother.

The father was still in Los Angeles, Mrs. Williams said in her statement, living at an exclusive hotel. It was then that he asked her to lend him more money to "cover" several checks which he had written.

The widow cast about for more funds and finding none, pawned her jewels and gave him the money, according to the report. He then left for New York City. The child was born in Los Angeles six days later.

Leaving the hospital while she was still quite weak and weighed only 89 pounds, Mrs. Williams took her baby, her 5-year-old daughter Joan, an invalid mother and hurried to New York in search of the father, whom she eventually found through the aid of private detectives.

In the past the man had promised to divorce his wife, the widow told Mrs. Ladico, and marry her to give her infant son a name. But when they met in New York City, she as-

DAM SETTLEMENT VOTED

San Gabriel Project Contractors Accept $830,765; New Flood-Control Work Now Possible

Ending an effort to build a high dam at the forks of the San Gabriel River, nine miles north of Azusa, the county Board of Supervisors yesterday passed a resolution to settle with the contractors who undertook to build the huge structure, for an additional compension of $830,765.90. The county already has paid $1,831,312.80 to the contractors, Fisher, Ross, MacDonald & Kahn, for the excavation of dirt and rock on a site that geological experts and State Engineer Hyatt condemned as a location for a 450-foot dam.

C. E. Ross, of the contracting firm, who was present with his attorney, Asa V. Call, at yesterday's session of the board, said that his partners, after some hesitancy, had agreed to accept the settlement, which has been under negotiation for some time. Vincent Morgan, special attorney for the county, County Counsel Mattoon and flood control counsel represented the flood control district.

PROFITS NOT DIVULGED

Just what profit the contractors stand to make on the job, work on which was stopped Dec. 2, 1929, was not made public. The County Board of Supervisors shortly after work on the dam ceased, asked the contractors to submit a list of their expenses so an estimate of profits could be made on which the settlement could be based. This list never was submitted to the Supervisors.

Attorney Call said, however, that the profits would be very small.

"The contractors were willing to take a nominal profit, rather than tie the settlement up in the courts for a long period of time and delay the ultimate improvement of the canyon by flood-control works," said Attorney Call. "We prefer rather to leave the county in a favorable mood and at the same time collect immediately what profits we have earned. This will release for immediate expenditure the remaining funds in the $25,000,000 flood-control bond issue yet unspent.

DEAL CALLED FAIR

The settlement was a fair one for the county and the district, according to County Counsel Mattoon.

Asks Better Allowance for Child

ACTOR'S TROUBLES MULTIPLY

Mrs. Withers No. 1 Asks Increase for Child Support as Bride's Mother Prepares Annulment Suit

Grant Withers's troubles began to multiply yesterday. The multiplication process set in as a result of the elopement of the screen actor on Sunday with Loretta Young to Yuma, Ariz., where they were married by a justice of the peace.

On the heels of the announcement of Miss Young's mother that annulment proceedings will be instituted to set aside the marriage on the ground her daughter is under legal age, Mrs. Withers No. 1 filed an affidavit in Superior Judge Schauer's court late yesterday asking for an increase in monthly payments for the support of their child.

Some time today, according to Attorney George Breslin, will be filed in behalf of Miss Young's mother, Mrs. George Belzer, 6507 West Fifth street, a su. asking that the marriage of her daughter to Withers be annulled. Miss Young is 17 years of age, a Wampas baby star now under contract to First National. Withers is a Warner Brothers' player.

BASIS OF CLAIM

Mrs. Withers No. 1, Mrs. Inez Withers, bases her claim for additional money to the rise to fame of Withers in the screen world. At the time the court awarded her $60 per month for Robert Granville Withers's support, she asserts, he has earning $120 per month as an extra. Now, she asserts, his earning capacity is in excess of $3000 monthly. Attorney Milton Golden represents the first Mrs. Withers.

Attorney Breslin said yesterday he has prepared the annulment papers and that they will be filed today with Mrs. Belzer, the plaintiff, in behalf of her daughter. She will seek to set aside the marriage on the ground she did not give her consent.

The suit is expected to raise an interesting legal question, Breslin stated, inasmuch as the age of marriage in Arizona is 16 and in California 18.

Withers and Miss Young, on a set at the old Vitagraph Studio where they were engaged in making make-believe love scenes all day, both said yesterday they are not sorry they

PLEA MADE BY MACKAY WINS DELAY

Trial of Keyes's Former Aide Continued Because of Demands on Attorney

The second trial of Donald MacKay, chief of the trial department under former Dist.-Atty. Keyes, was continued until February 27, next, by Superior Judge Aggeler yesterday. MacKay requested the continuance so that his trial would not conflict with other cases in which his attorney is interested.

The former Deputy District-Attorney is accused of accepting a $7500 bribe from Ben Getzoff to dismiss criminal charges on file against A. I. Lasker, automobile finance man.

The jury which heard MacKay's first trial was discharged after twenty-three hours' deliberation without reaching an agreement. It was reported at that time that they stood eight to four for conviction.

EVANGELIST TO SPEAK

A series of evangelistic services will be conducted by Rev. Louis M. Rittenberg, a converted Jew, at 125½ South Spring street, beginning this evening.

'BAD BABIES' PRODUCER AND CAST FOUND GUILTY

"Bad Babies," as presented in Los Angeles, was indecent and immoral, a jury of eleven women and one man in Municipal Judge Bogue's court decided yesterday after deliberating for more than four hours.

George Scarborough, author; Frank Jennings, stage manager, and Jobyna Ralston, Elinor Flynn, Annette Westbay Scarborough, Arthur Rankin, Norman Peck and Mervin Williams, members of the cast, were found guilty on three counts each of producing and participating in the play which the jury by its verdict pronounced indecent.

They face a possible jail sentence of six months and $500 fine on each of the three counts. At a previous trial the jury deadlocked 7-to-5 for conviction.

Following the verdict W. J. Clark, defense counsel, moved an arrest of judgment and also for a new trial. Judge Bogue will hear arguments by Clark and Chief Deputy City Prosecutor McGann on both motions at 9:30 a.m. tomorrow.

Evidence at the trial disclosed that the play concerned the activities of high school boys and girls banded together for robbery and burglary, with headquarters in an apartment. Clark contended the play carried a strong moral lesson on the unprofitableness of crime.

PRODUCTION DROPPED IN SAN FRANCISCO

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 27. (AP)—Lee Arms, producer-manager of the play "Bad Babies," a show calculated to interpret a certain type of youthful ganster life, announced today the show will be suspended.

"It was the wish of the management to continue the run of 'Bad Babies,' but the young and loyal cast of the play has been reduced to such a state of terror by repeated raids and arrests by the police that it prefers not to go further," Arms said. "'Bad Babies,' therefore, has been destroyed as a theater investment."

PRINCE CAN READ "TIMES" NOW

Midwinter Number Mailed to Wales by El Cajon Man Acknowledged

If the Prince of Wales ever takes another "dive" from his fractious mount during a hunt and finds himself laid up for a spell pending recovery, he will not be confined to Punch for arresting reading matter. He will have only to reach out from the sick bed and pick up the Midwinter Number of The Times; for it was learned yesterday that the current edition of the number now occupies a place in St. James' Palace, S. W.

The edition was mailed to the Prince by C. L. Boyd, Box E. P., El Cajon, who yesterday informed The Times he has received an acknowledgment.

"The private secretary," reads the royal communication, "is desired by the Prince of Wales to thank Mr. C. L. Boyd for his letter of December 26, and for sending His Royal Highness the Midwinter Number of the Los Angeles (Cal.) Times."

PRISON SITE SELECTION NARROWED

Possible Locations Cut to Five by Committee With Definite Action Near

Proposed sites for the new junior felon prison in Southern California have been eliminated until five remain from which the final selection will be made. It is probable that a more definite announcement will be made this week after the official site committee meets with Gov. Young, Assemblyman Woolwine, chairman of the committee, announced yesterday.

One of the locations under consideration is in Los Angeles county, two are in San Bernardino county and two in Riverside county, Woolwine said. Saturday Woolwine and Senators Rochester and Pedrotti inspected a site near Victorville.

The new junior penitentiary will be for felons between 18 and 24 years of age. It will be used not only for first offenders, but also for all between these ages. The committee has an initial appropriation of $375,000 with which to purchase the site and erect one building. It is expected that when completed the project will cost nearly $3,500,000.

GOVERNOR'S COUNCIL TO MEET HERE

Department Heads Slated to Report to Executive at City Hall Today

Citizens will have an opportunity today to hear members of the Governor's council make reports to their superior at a meeting in the assembly room of the City Hall.

The meeting will open at 9:30 a.m. with a report by Fred G. Athearn, director of the Department of Investment. Other reports scheduled for the morning session are to be by John R. FIVE MAY RUN FOR GOVERNOR

Rolph and Richardson Seen as Possible Timber

Young and Riley Comment on Fitts Announcement

All Except Bay City Mayor Considered Dry

BY KYLE D. PALMER

Probability that four, and possibility that five major candidates will seek the Republican nomination for Governor in the primary election next August developed yesterday following announcement by Dist.-Atty. Fitts that he is an aspirant for the Governorship.

BURON FITTS

Fast on the heels of his formal statement came assurances from Gov. Young and from State Controller Riley that the candidacy of Fitts will make no difference in their respective gubernatorial ambitions, and in San Francisco Mayor Rolph broke a long silence to admit that if he discovers sufficient backing for his own candidacy he will enter the race.

Further interest in the somewhat mixed situation was created when former Gov. Richardson, returning to Los Angeles after a tour of four weeks with a party of California editors in Mexico, announced that he had no comment to make at this time on reported plans of his friends to place his name before the California electorate.

GOVERNOR YOUNG

Several weeks ago Richardson announced in San Francisco that he considered Dist.-Atty. Fitts a desirable selection for the Governorship, but he did not feel disposed to reiterate this commitment yesterday.

"The campaign is in its early stages," said the former Governor, "and seven months remain in which to reach a decision. No one can formally become a candidate until June, anyway."

On the subject of Mexico and the beauties thereof the former head of California's State government was more communicative.

He said that the party of 136 editors and their wives enjoyed every minute of their Mexican visit. Officials and citizens of the neighboring republic, former Gov. Richardson said, were exceedingly friendly, not only to the visiting Californians, but to the government and people of the United States. Economic conditions in Mexico are improving, Richardson believes. The former Governor will remain in Los Angeles several days before returning to his home in Berkeley.

FRIEND, WM RICHARDSON

The direct reference to Fitts made by Gov. Young and Controller Riley were polite and, so far as the District Attorney's present service is concerned, reasonably approving.

However, it was the opinion of Riley that the "relatively brief" contact Fitts has had with State affairs does not qualify the District Attorney for the higher office.

RILEY'S STATEMENT

Riley's statement, made public in Sacramento, follows:

"My campaign organization is strongly active and optimistic and the announced plan of Dist.-Atty. Fitts to seek the Republican nomination for Governor will not change my own campaign for the office.

"I think I can be included among those who regard Mr. Fitts as a capable District Attorney and as a young man of pleasant personality. But by the widest stretch of the

THESE race riots in Central California are loaded with trouble to a far greater extent than most people imagine.

They do not bring the threat of war as did the anti-Japanese riots in San Francisco; but they have potentialities in other ways. Remember that they come at a time when the Philippines are boiling with the demand for independence. These Watsonville riots will be used as material for the fight.

DANGER SIGNAL

It seems a great pity that, under our system, the United States government has no way to prevent the weakness of the police of a town like Watsonville from causing possible international complications.

One of these days some such incident will be fanned up into an expensive and dangerous Filipino insurrection.

"ON SUFFERANCE"

One of the business men of Watsonville solemnly showed me a paragraph from the local paper in which it was stated that the Filipinos were in town "only on sufferance." In other words, Watsonville has decided to pass its own immigration laws without bothering about the Constitution of the United States.

PIPE DREAMS

The funny old justice of the peace—author of the resolutions that started all this excitement—is convinced that the Filipinos are very bad people. They eat out of the same rice bowl and buy automobiles by syndicates. But, in my experience, there are no good nationalities and no bad ones. All races run just about the same in the hill. I have known cowardly Irishmen and extravagant Scotchmen and utterly impractical Jews. It is this melodramatic notion of trying to pigeonhole them according to the characteristics they are supposed to have that makes the trouble.

TWO-DOLLAR BILLS

One of the pet delusions of all writers who write pieces about the colored race is that all have a deadly horror of $2 bills, which are supposed to be jinxed. I was once on a Pullman train when a $2 bill was passed aroung like a stepchild. The only one who wasn't afraid to take it was the colored porter.

NEED A MOTHER

What the Filipinos need is some kind of sheet anchor. Having been declared by the Attorney-General not to be regular American citizens, they are orphan children with a vengeance. Most of those who come here are boys. They fall into the hands of agitators of their own race, with many fool notions which they insist on putting into print.

LAST RITES TODAY FOR STANLEY POOR

Last rites for Stanley Poor, son of Orrin L. Poor, captain of Seventy-seventh-street police station, will be conducted today at 2:30 p.m. at the L. F. Utter chapel, 4254 South Broadway. Burial will be in Inglewood Park Cemetery. The youth, who was 20 years of age, and a student at the Southwestern University of Law, was killed in an automobile accident Friday. He leaves his parents, who reside at 1129 South Victoria avenue, and a brother, Dr. Carlton C. Poor of 1297 Browning Boulevard.

CENSUS CHIEFS SEEK TRUTH

Experts Visit Here and Ask for Wholehearted Answers as Aid to Nation's Business

A call on community leaders to help inform the people concerning the decennial census which the Federal government will begin April 1, next, so that everyone will understand and co-operate in its making, was broadcast here yesterday by Census Director Steuart of Washington, D. C. He was guest of the Chamber of Commerce at luncheon in the Biltmore. Robert M. Davis of New York, chairman of the national advisory committee on the manufacturers' part in the census, explained to the several hundred merchants and manufacturers assembled, how their interest are to be served. Dr. Steuart and Field Chief Ellsworth of Washington spent most of yesterday instructing the thirteen census supervisors who will control the work in Southern California and Arizona. They will conclude their conferences today.

"The success of the census," Dr. Steuart said, "will depend upon the co-operation of the people and their co-operation will depend on their understanding of its vital necessity. It is to provide this nation with all the essential information relative to its vast population which is growing at the rate of one person every twenty-three seconds.

"One hundred and twenty-five thousand persons have been charged with procuring the necessary information from the 122,000,000 persons in our country. Six and one-half million farmers will be asked to provide information concerning farm conditions. There will be special inquiries also covering every irrigation project, drainage project, each manufactory and mercantile establishment.

"The attitude of many will be that they do not wish to be bothered. It is your duty to help educate them to the fact that the information sought is necessary and vital to their government. It will be kept confidential under threat of penitentiary sentence against those who fail to keep it confidential as to personal matters.

"For instance, the information will

JURY IN BIFFLE CASE LOCKED UP

Several Hours' Deliberation Fails to Bring Verdict

Perjury Trial Brought to Close Late Yesterday

Struggle for Decision Will Continue This Morning

The jury of seven women and five men considering the evidence in the second trial of Garland Biffle, Alhambra law-book salesman, charged with perjury in connection with testimony he offered at the trial of Alexander Pantages last October, was locked up at a downtown hotel last night after several hours' deliberation failed to produce a verdict.

The case was submitted to the jury by Superior Judge Henderson at 3 p.m. yesterday and the members were in session until 6 o'clock, when they were taken to dinner. Returning to the courtroom about 7:30 o'clock they deliberated until nearly 10 p.m., and retired for the night without reporting to the court. Deliberations are scheduled to begin anew at 9:30 a.m. today.

PERJURY CHARGED

Biffle is asserted to have testified falsely at the Pantages trial that he saw Eunice Pringle, dancer, and Nicholas Dunaev, playwright, together in the lobby of the Pantages Building on the afternoon of August 9, 1929, date of Pantages's asserted attack on Miss Pringle. At the Pantages hearing, Biffle declared he heard Miss Pringle say "Pantages will be sorry if he doesn't place me this time," and Dunaev reply, "Don't get cold feet."

At a previous trial of the Biffle case in Superior Judge Wood's court the jury failed to reach an agreement and was discharged.

Beverly Hills Ejoys Banquet

More than 400 residents of Beverly Hills, including many celebrities of the motion-picture world, attended the seventh annual banquet of the Beverly Hills Chamber of Commerce at the Beverly Hills Hotel last night. Following the dinner there was formal dancing.

Fred Niblo was toastmaster and Edward E. Newman presided. Dist.-Atty. Fitts made the principal speech and was followed by Will Hays, "czar" of the motion-picture industry, and Mayor Schwab of Beverly Hills. The banquet committee was composed of M. J. Kavanaugh, W. B. Hunnewell, Edward E. Newman, E. P. Stoltz and R. Ellis Wales.

Among other celebrities present were Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Fairbanks, Sr., Enid Bennett, who is the wife of Fred Niblo, Mrs. Will Rogers and Will Rogers, Jr., and Syl Spaulding.

eloped but that they are ready to abide by the wishes of Mrs. Belzer.

Mrs. Belzer made the statement she believes her daughter is too young to realize fully the responsibilities of married life and that she should wait at least another year.

"Then if they still feel like getting married there will be no objection on my part," Mrs. Belzer stated. "They were both impulsive and I want Loretta to wait a while longer."

The decision to file the annulment proceedings was reached after a family conference. Sitting in were the new Mr. and Mrs. Withers, Mrs. Belzer and Withers's mother, Mrs. Noma M. Withers. Withers insisted the decision was reached amicably and that they intend to abide by their mothers' desires.

"Maybe in another year it will be different," he said.

Withers said he took his new bride to the home of her mother immediately after their return from their airplane trip to Yuma when the separation was first discussed.

In her affidavit, Mrs. Withers No. 1 asserts their child, now 5½ years of age, has been ill and has needed expensive medical treatment and that she wants to place him in a military academy. Mrs. Withers had this marriage annulled because of Withers's age.

be the basis of the very vital representation of the people of this country in their Congress. Some States will be found to be entitled to greater representation and some less, so there will be jealousy and the census must be absolutely correct. The accuracy depends on the correctness with which each person answers the queries.

ALL MUST ANSWER

"The law requires that when one is approached in the proper manner by the proper census taker the information must be given.

"The Census Bureau is a bureau of service to the people of the country and if it does not provide accurate information it will fail of its purpose."

The manufacturers' census will begin here within ten days, Field Chief Ellsworth said. It will include for the first time, Chairman Davis explained, questions concerning distribution.

"Thousands of manufacturing and mercantile establishments," Mr. Davis said, "might have been saved from going on the rocks if accurate charts had been employed by the man at their helm. Too many of our manufacturers and merchants are proceeding on the theory that their own natural intelligence and knack of being able to pull through are enough. Such operations conducted without due regard for economic changes lead direct to business suicide or annihilation.

MUST HAVE DATA

"But facts cannot be developed without figures to enlarge the business man's intelligence beyond his own limited horizon. They must have precise knowledge concerning country-wide operations, trends, costs, prices, methods and everything else. If they do not, then they must base on guess and that is gambling and we have just seen what happens to those who gamble in business.

"It is to procure these nation-wide commercial and industrial surveys that the census of manufacturers will aim. It will provide the answer to the business man's most important questions regarding the field in which he is competing."

All of this, Mr. Davis said, will accrue to the benefit of the ultimate consumer, who, after all, bears the cost of business and manufacturing. On general business prospects, he said in part:

"We are now resting in preparation for a period of high business and industrial activity which will rival any period of prosperity which this country has heretofore known. I look to see it open during the fall months."

CHAMBER TO HELP

"The Chamber of Commerce," President Austin said, in opening the luncheon, "is very interested in seeing that our enumeration of population and mercantile and manufacturing data be accurately obtained. We have been accused of being an ananias in the information we have given out many times. The results of the Federal census, I am confident, will show that we underestimated, if anything."

The three census officials arrived yesterday from Dallas, Tex. Davis left yesterday and Steuart and Ellsworth will leave tomorrow for San Francisco. They are touring the States starting off the work.

Dr. Steuart began as a messenger in Federal census work in 1880, rising in the half-century that followed to chief of the bureau. He was born in Texas. Mr. Davis is a dollar-a-year man who, in private life, is statistical editor of McGraw-Hill Publications Company, New York. Mr. Ellsworth is one of the bureau's experts.

who issued a statement which also was signed by Attorney Morgan.

"The settlement was considerably less than the contractor demanded," said Mr. Morgan, "and I think its terms are fair.

"After an exhaustive review of the law relative to the responsibility of the district growing out of the contract by reason of failure to build the dam, we advised the Board of Supervisors not to pay a claim of $3,271,500 for anticipated profits, and another claim of $184,080 for dirt loosened by blasting and hydraulic work, but not moved."

ITEMIZED CLAIMS

The claims of the contractors, which totaled $4,190,459.20, were itemized as follows:

For excavation, 92,000 yards at $2.95 per yard, $271,400.

For the 10 per cent "holdback" of excavation work already paid for, $303,479.

Damage occasioned by delays due to orders of the Board of Supervisors, forty-eight days at $5000 a day, and thirty days at $4000 a day, $360,000.

For uncompleted excavation work, which is 60 per cent completed, 104,000 cubic yards, at $1.77 per cubic yard, $184,080.

For profit contractors would have made, had not the contract been canceled, not included in previous figures, $3,271,500.

Figures supplied by E. C. Eaton, county flood-control engineer, were used in computing the amounts of excavation paid for.

COUNTY TAKES SUPPLIES

Engineer Eaton also submitted an estimate of the value of contractors' supplies on the dam site, which, it was stated, would be useful to the county in other flood-control projects in San Gabriel Canyon. The contractors agreed to sell this material to the county for $92,779. They also agreed to accept to a cut of $81,000 in the amount demanded for rental of idle equipment after work stopped, making a total of $279,000 for this item.

According to an estimate by Engineer Eaton, there will remain of the $25,000,000 of the flood-control bond issue allocated to the San Gabriel Valley, about $20,419,000 when the final payments are made to the dam contractors next week.

TOTAL EXPENDITURES

These expenditures are itemized as follows: Previously paid to contractors, $1,831,000; for the railroad, Azusa to forks site, $900,000; for land rights of way, and preliminary surveys, $700,000; for moving the road above the elevation of the dam, $150,000; for building the contractor's camp, $150,000 and the additional final payment to the contractors, $840,000. This totals $4,571,000, for a railroad, a contractors' camp, and two huge slashes on either side of the canyon, where the dam walls were to rise.

Members of the Board of Supervisors said last night that they would begin immediately preliminary work for other flood control projects in San Gabriel canyon.

"It is too early now to state just what will be done, but we will take up the matter of allocating the rest of the bond issue money to best advantage as soon as we are in possession of the facts," said Supervisor Wright.

OTHER DAMS POSSIBLE

Supervisor Graves said he was in favor of ordering the flood-control engineer to begin surveys for other dams at once. Engineer Eaton pointed out that the State engineer, in condemning the San Gabriel Dam, had made it possible to erect other dams in the canyon, and had not condemned the forks site for anything but a high concrete dam. A low dam, supplemented by an earth or rock fill structure over the faulted section of the site might be possible, it was said.

Erection of two or three other dams in the branches of the river above the forks site is considered probable, and other work on check dams in the smaller branches has been suggested.

ASSOCIATION SATISFIED

President J. L. Matthews and Secretary M. J. Haig of San Gabriel Valley Development Association, which from the first has been deeply interested in the whole dam situation, said last night after the settlement that they believe it will be entirely satisfactory to members of their body.

"It means," Matthews said, "that the contractors settled with the county for $830,765.90 a dispute in which they originally laid claim to $4,190,459.20. The county's figure of $830,765.90 is made up of the following items: Due contractors for yardage excavated, $244,463.70; due contractors on account of 10 per cent hold back, $303,479.20; force account, tunnel work, $8044; standby charge, $282,000; equipment to be bought by county, $92,779.

"The settlement releases for the public good a huge amount of money that might have been tied up for some years in litigation that would have resulted if no compromise had been reached."

imagination, however, I do not believe anyone can feel that his relatively brief contact with State affairs in any way qualifies him to take over and administer an office of such importance as the Governorship.

"Ambition to seek political preferment should not be the criterion for placing men in public office. I am opposing the present administration because from my personal observation and knowledge of State affairs, I know this State needs a more careful and less political handling of its affairs.

MAYOR JAMES ROLPH, JR.

"This attitude is based on principles and not on personalities. And the same attitude applies to the candidacy of a young man who has not been occupied with public matters for a time sufficient to supply him with a genuine conception of the obligation which he so hopefully and confidentially seeks to undertake."

YOUNG'S STATEMENT

Gov. Young feels that both Fitts and Riley are entitled to retain their present respective positions if the people generally are disposed to approve the official records of the two. Inferentially, it was apparent, the Governor feels the same rule applied to himself with respect to the office he holds.

RAY L. RILEY

He said:

"In regard to Dist.-Atty. Fitts and his aspirations, I can only repeat what I said a couple of months ago with respect to Controller Riley — that the announcement of candidacies for office and the verdict of the people as to such candidacies are exactly what the direct primary was designed to accomplish.

"If, in the judgment of the people, Mr. Fitts has made a good District Attorney and Mr. Riley has made a good State Controller, on the bases of service in their respective offices they were clearly entitled to ask of the voters a return to those offices on the unassailable theory that 'one good term deserves another.'

"I should assume also that this same principle applies to all offices, whether President of the United States, Governor of a State, or any other. I have supreme confidence in the fairness and wisdom of the citizens of California, and am accordingly most happy to leave the issue in their hands."

ROLPH'S STATEMENT

Mayor Rolph, who enjoys the pleasing political soubriquet of "Sunny Jim," and who is said to have been greatly encouraged by the tumultuous welcome which he received in Pasadena New Year's Day as marshal of the Tournament of Roses parade, indicated the probable course he will follow in language which, if a trifle picturesque, was yet sufficiently plain.

"I feel greatly honored," said the Bay City executive, "in the many inquiries which have come to me as to whether I shall be a candidate for the lofty office of Governor of this great State. I naturally have the ambition to be the Governor of my native State. I think I have some conception of the honor, the duties and its responsibilities and I have some idea of the definition of the Governorship and what it means.

"I have been extremely busy of late pressing to completion some very important municipal problems. If I find shortly encouragement and support from my friends and fellow-Californians through all parts of California I shall submit my name as a candidate to the people of this great State for the office of Governor."

FITTS GRATIFIED

Meanwhile Dist.-Atty. Fitts, who launched his campaign on a general platform of economy, crime suppression, prison reform, water conservation and development of water resources, expressed himself as gratified with the reception his announcement received.

Los Angeles county, where nearly 700,000 registered Republican votes are expected to be recorded prior to August, promises to become the center of the hot gubernatorial contest. Controller Riley has announced he will campaign here during February and March; Gov. Young has developed such a desire to look into local problems as to cause expressions of political uneasiness in Northern California, and Mayor Rolph, if he gets into the fight, will, it is said, spend not less than sixty days in local campaigning.

Former Gov. Richardson, whose practice for several years has been to reside in Long Beach during the summer months, will but follow precedent if, instead of backing Fitts, he moves in upon the great army of voters on his own political account.

Richardson, Fitts, Riley and Young are strongly aligned with the dry element of the party. Rolph is regarded as an exponent of the antiprohibition element, not only of the rank and file of wet Republicans, but of the Democratic party, which gave him a nomination for Governor in 1918 when his own party refused him that honor.

TIPS SOUGHT FOR CHICAGO WORLD FAIR

Maj. Lohr Seeking Data; He Says 1,500,000 Per Day May Visit Event

California will be the inspiration for many of the ideas to be incorporated into the 1933 Chicago World's Fair, it was revealed at the Biltmore yesterday by Maj. Lenox R. Lohr, general manager of the exposition, who said that he came to California especially to garner data as to the organization and management of the San Diego and San Francisco enterprises.

MAJ. LENOX R. LOHR

"Californians who participated in the two Coast expositions know more about fairs than any other persons in the world," said Maj. Lohr. "I learned much that will be of extreme value while I was in San Francisco and I expect to accumulate additional worthwhile information at San Diego."

The visitor described the aims of the "Century of Progress" committee in three words—new, romantic and dynamic. He said that the architecture will be based on an entirely new theme. Original conceptions, a new use of surfaces, a new use of masses, a new use of color and of light—these are a few of the goals of the exposition builders.

That it is not unreasonable to expect a peak daily attendance of 1,500,000 persons, was a statement made by Maj. Lohr. Crowds of that size, he said, have never been assembled before in the history of the world, except, of course, on the battlefield and then, he commented, they were distributed over a tremendous area.

Council Group Bars Bell Quiz

By a vote of 2 to 1 the City Planning Committee of the City Council yesterday filed, or killed, the resolution recently introduced by Councilman Jacobson demanding a thorough investigation of the granting of Alphonso Bell's cement-plant permit.

Councilmen Webster and Holland voted to kill the resolution, Councilman Randall opposed them, desiring the investigation.

ANGELENO SEES ANCIENT SKULL

Buyer in Orient Writes Wife of Great Discovery

S. S. Beath Present at Display of Peking Man Fossil

Discoverer Gives Details of Find in Cave

An interesting acount by a Los Angeles man of the recent discovery of a fossilized skull in China, known to anthropologists as that of the Peking man, has been received in a letter to Mrs. Sterling S. Beath, of the Somerst Apartments.

Mr. Beath, who is a student of anthropology, left Los Angeles last October to spend six months in China and Japan for a New York company, as a buyer of oriental goods. He was present at a meeting of the China Geological Society when that organization received the fossilized skull of the Peking man.

"The meeting was held under the auspices of the China Geological Society, an organization that has done much in the field of geology and paleontology," Mr. Buttler writes. "Five minutes before the meeting opened Dr. Black of Peiping Union Medical College placed two objects upon a table in front of the audience. One was a cast of the skull of the Peking man and the other was the original.

"Dr. Black pointed out the great eye ridges, the heavy cheek bones, and the comparatively small brain cavity, as attributes of the prehuman type.

"Mr. Bau, the Chinese, who was in charge of excavation at Chou Kou Tien where the fossils were found, explained his share in the work. He said they had worked three years in the limestone quarry and that they had discovered many kinds of extinct fauna.

"On December 2, he went on to explain, they were working on a cave which attracted their attention. The weather was getting very cold and they knew very soon the work for the season would have to close. Long experience enabled them to identify a mass of rock as containing the fossil they were expecting. They were able to remove the mass of very hard travertine rock which imprisoned the skull. They surrounded the whole mass with plaster to protect the precious contents en route to Peiping eighty miles away. Mr. Bau showed a lantern slide showing how all night long they kept four pots of oil burning around the skull in order that the plaster cast might become dry more quickly."

ALBERT SEARL

Albert Searl, for many years widely known in Southern California as a newspaper man and later as a member of the Los Angeles Stock Exchange, died yesterday at his home, 1817 South Harvard Boulevard, when he failed to rally from a major operation performed a month ago. During the course of his newspaper work Mr. Searl had been employed on four Los Angeles newspapers and was particularly known for his political writings. He continued his journalistic work until shortly after the founding of the Los Angeles exchange and was its fourth oldest member. About a year ago he retired from active trading and his seat was taken over by his son, Sidney Searl. He leaves his son and his widow.

Funeral services will be conducted Wednesday at 2 p.m. in the Pierce Brothers' chapel and interment will be made in the Forest Lawn Cemetery.

PANTAGES FILES NEW BAIL PLEA

Hearing on Petition Will be Held Tomorrow Morning

Affidavits by Doctors Say His Health Endangered

District Attorney's Office to Ask Experts' Aid

Alexander Pantages, multimillionaire theater magnate, now under sentence of from one to fifty years in San Quentin for an asserted attack last August on Eunice Pringle, tomorrow will renew his efforts to be released from jail on bond pending disposition of his appeal.

Attorneys for Pantages yesterday paved the way for the hearing tomorrow when they filed a motion in Superior Judge Fricke's court asking that bail be granted for the theater magnate on the ground that "further incarceration in the County Jail will result in great and permanent injury to the health of Pantages."

TWO HEART ATTACKS

Pantages suffered a heart attack in the jail at 11:30 p.m. Sunday, it was reported yesterday by Dr. Blank, jail physician.

Dr. Blank was summoned from his home to attend the stricken man, who is held in the jail hospital. A second and less severe attack was also reported to have occurred early yesterday.

Mrs. Lois Pantages, wife of the theater man, who is on probation, and who has been seriously ill for some time, visited her husband in the jail hospital yesterday afternoon. She was accompanied on her hour-visit by her daughter, Carmen, a stepdaughter, Mrs. Dixie Martin, and John Considine, Jr., close friend of the family.

Pantages received his visitors attired in a pastel-blue beret and bathrobe, and talked with them from his hospital bed. He said that he was "dying by days" on account of his confinement, but declared himself content to abide by the outcome of the new efforts of his attorneys to secure his release.

Arguments on the pending appeal of Pantages from his recent conviction in Superior Court will be presented to the District Court of Appeals in written form, it was announced shortly before the motion for release on bail was filed.

At the scheduled oral hearing yesterday, Attorney Giesler waived oral arguments and asked permission to submit the case on briefs. Dep. Atty.-Gen. Howis offered no objection and Presiding Justice Conrey assented, setting February 25, next, for the final filing date.

The grounds set forth in the appeal will not be made public, until the briefs are filed.

AFFIDAIVTS FILED

A previous attempt to secure Pantages's freedom on bond pending decision on his appeal, met with failure December 27, 1929, when Judge Fricke ruled that Pantages would have to remain in jail, although the court made an order at that time granting the magnate the privilege of employing his own physicians to treat him in the jail hospital.

A number of affidavits filed yesterday with the motion supports the contention previously made by Pantages's attorneys that he is suffering from several heart ailments which may result fatally for him if imprisonment is continued.

After studying the motion and affidavits of Pantages's attorneys and physicians, Chief Deputy District Attorney Stewart said he will probably ask two physicians to make an examination of Pantages today and be prepared to testify in court tomorrow if necessary as to their findings. It is reported Dr. John Barrow, former president of the Los Angeles County Medical Association, and Dr. Gustave Bohme will be asked to attend as the State's experts. Neither of these men has previously been connected with the Pantages case, it was said.

NOT GUILTY PLEA FILED BY LEWIS

Berman and Rosenberg Enter Similar Answers to Federal Charges

Pleas of not guilty were entered yesterday in United States District Judge James's court by S. C. Lewis, former head of the Julian Petroleum Corporation and of the Lewis Oil Company. Similar pleas were entered by Jacob Berman, alias Jack Bennett, and E. H. Rosenberg. The three are jointly accused in one Federal indictment of eleven counts of devising a scheme to use the mails to defraud and in another of misuse of the mail.

They are accused of having represented to numerous investors that the Julian Petroleum Corporation treasury held large blocks of stock at a time when the stock was overissued by 3,000,000 shares, at a par value of $150,000,000.

Otto Christensen, attorney for Berman, filed demurrers to the indictments and was joined by Al McDonald, attorney for Rosenberg, and Lewis, who appeared as his own attorney. The demurrers were denied. The case was continued until February 3, next, to be set for trial.

Unions Force Theater to Close

Ruth Rennick Facing Dark-House Problem

EQUITY DEAL INDICATED

Actors' Theater, Operated by Association Members, Closed for Employing Nonunion Stage Hands

What is taken by exponents of the open-shop in Los Angeles as an indication of a new relationship between Actors' Equity Association and craft unions has come to light in the case of Rennick Players, Inc., which opened the Actors' Theater last month.

The case has attracted attention of motion-picture producers because, the exponents say, if it is based on anything more than a mere local change in relationship between Equity and craftsmen it means the entry into Equity's picture-player unionization campaign of an Equity-crafts co-operative element.

SHOW CLOSED TWICE

Last December 2, Ruth Renick, an actress of prominence and co-operating associates opened the Actors' Theater at 730 South Grand avenue, with the intention of putting on plays to give employment to actors at a time when their business was none too good.

They opened with "The Passing of the Third Floor Back."

"Although we did not need so many we were required by the stagehands' union to employ four stagehands and by musicians' union to employ six musicians," Miss Rennick said. "The expense added to our overhead and with other circumstances the show was closed.

"On Christmas night we opened with a new show with five actors.

"There was not the least need for more than an electrician and a stage director behind the scenes and to hold down expenses we reopened the show with two nonunion men in those places and with no musicians, in order to keep the show going.

PRECEDENT SET

"Then a strange thing happened. One night the Equity representative appeared backstage in our show and without our knowledge or consent ordered that the curtain be not raised. He declared that Equity actors would not play unless union stagehands were employed. When I discovered the interference and was backstage trying to thrash it out, it was announced to the waiting audience that I was ill and that the play could not be given.

"This is the first time I know of that Equity actors have been forbidden to play when nonunion stagehands were employed. I told the agent that other small houses were playing Equity casts with nonunion stagehands and he told me that it is not permissible and that Equity had just not got around to them yet."

CRAFTS HIGH-HATTED

Equity, although a member of American Federation of Labor, is not affiliated with the federation in such a way that it must go out on sympathetic strikes with musicians, stagehands or other regular members of the federation. This high-hatting of the craftsmen's union always has been a thorn in the flesh of the crafts' unions. Last summer when Equity made a spectacular attempt to force picture producers to accept Equity unionization of motion-picture players, Equity threatened to precipitate a sympathetic strike of crafts unions on studio lots and in theaters.

It generally was understood that the crafts refused co-operation because of Equity's high-hatting of them. Equity was told by federationists, open-shop exponents believe, that until Equity agreed to go out on strikes sympathetic with crafts that crafts would not strike sympathetic with it.

NEW PHASE STUDIED

This Equity would not agree to do, at least until some time ago. The move against Rennick Players, Inc., however, in which Miss Rennick says it was explained to her that Equity would not play with nonunion stagehands, has caused new studies and observations of the relationship to be undertaken by picture producers interested in keeping Equity from dominating picture acting.

FORTUNE FLIES IN LOVE TANGLE

serts, his affection had cooled and he did not even seem glad to see her.

Heart-broken, Mrs. Williams said, she returned to Los Angeles to try to rehabilitate her tangled business affairs. On the verge of a nervous breakdown, financially embarrassed and suffering from the humiliation of her experiences, she turned once more to the family home at 620 South Irving Boulevard for aid and decided to sell the furniture which was expected to yield nearly $10,000.

Before the sale, however, the widow obtained an advance of $3000 from C. H. O'Connor, auctioneer. Later, the sale was blocked and O'Connor filed a grand-theft charge against Mrs. Williams for the $3000 he had advanced, charging that the property already was mortgaged to another person and that she had no right to obtain another loan offering it as unencumbered security.

A short time later A. K. Lucas, attorney, charged that Mrs. Williams borrowed $5000 from him under similar conditions.

GIVES HERSELF UP

While the woman still was living with her mother at Ninety-fifth street and Westend avenue, New York City, she was indicted by the Los Angeles county grand jury and charged with five counts of grand theft. Hearing of the charge she returned to California voluntarily and surrendered to officers here.

In outlining her defense to probation officers, Mrs. Williams asserted repeatedly that she did not intend to defraud anyone or to violate any law. The entire situation was the result of her ignorance of business matters and of her irresponsibility caused by other worries, she said.

In recommending probation for Mrs. Williams, Mrs. Ladico suggests that she be ordered to repay O'Connor and others to whom she is indebted at the rate of $100 monthly beginning next May.

Mrs. Williams was married to Earle Williams, motion-picture actor, in Brooklyn, N. Y., October 4, 1918. They had one child, Joan, now 5 years of age.

Williams died at his Los Angeles home on April 25, 1927, suffering from a sudden attack of pneumonia. Considerable time was required to settle the estate because he had died intestate, leaving no will. This required additional court procedure.

Despite all of her financial reverses, Mrs. Williams still has an income of between $5000 and $6000 annually, coming from a trust fund left to her by her father, Joseph Walz, she told probation officers.

DECEIT BY HUTCHINSON CHARGED IN BALM SUIT

Mrs. Edith P. Taylor, defendant in a $300,000 heart-balm suit brought by Mrs. Mattie Dean Hutchinson, prominent Chicago society woman, testified in Superior Judge Keetch's court yesterday that she never knew the plaintiff's husband, S. S. Hutchinson, was married until she read that "a wealthy film distributor" was erecting a $300,000 home.

"Previously I had found one of his son's report cards in a book he gave me to read, and it was signed 'Mrs. Hutchinson,'" said the defendant. "He told me I had nothing to worry about, and I believed him."

Mrs. Taylor said she first met Hutchinson in Valparaiso in 1908 and started living with him in 1912. Two children were born to her, she said, and an attempt will be made today to have one of them, Jane, 14 years of age, testify in court.

Mrs. Taylor's real name is said to be Miss Edith Patterson. Mrs. Hutchinson, who asserts her rival wrecked her prestige as a social leader, is a sister-in-law of A. C. Roebuck of Sears, Roebuck & Co. According to her attorney, B. F. Bledsoe, she is a founder of the Chicago Women's Athletic Club, and was decorated by King Albert of Belgium for her services during the World War.

TIDELAND CURBS URGED

State Supervisory Agency Advocated at Hearing Held by Joint Legislative Committee

Creation of a State agency to supervise the uses to which State-owned tidelands might be put was urged yesterday before a joint legislative committee created to consider all water-front problems that may require legislation. The committee met in a hearing room of the State Railroad Commission.

Discussion embraced the question of oil drilling on tidelands; the rights of fisheries, particularly in connection with harbors and landing places; development of recreational facilities on beaches and creation of avenues of access to such amusement centers and other problems.

Frederick Law Olmsted, consulting landscape architect for the State Park Commission, broached the idea of organizing a State supervisory agency. Propriety of leases, improvements to be undertaken and the manner in which municipalities exercise the trust conveyed to them by the State—these were among the questions that Olmsted said would come before such a board.

Fred G. Stevenot, director of the Department of Natural Resources, emphasized that the State has no agency on which responsibility might be placed in the protection of the State's interest in tidelands.

Stevenot dwelled on obstacles placed in the way of the public use of the beaches and asserted that the State Park Commission's program to improve a large acreage along the beach line will meet the situation.

George Hjelte, playground director, criticised what he described as "the economical but short-sighted policy" in not acquiring the right of way to the high-tide line when highways along the seashore were constructed.

Hjelte declared it would be a mistake to consider the tide line as fixed.

As to the fisheries, Stevenot urged that the people should reserve the opportunity to provide, under State supervision, the right of fisheries to have landing and harbor facilities up and down the coast. He vigorously opposed the setting of a legislative deadline, urging that future generations might bring new problems in connection with the disposition and supervision of beach frontage.

KANSAS PICNIC TOMORROW

Preparations have been completed for the reception of 10,000 former Kansans at the midwinter picnic and reunion of the Kansas State Society in Long Beach auditorium tomorrow. County registers will be open all day and hot coffee and souvenir badges provided. William F. Shock, president of the society, will preside.

JOHN TRAIN LAST RITES TOMORROW

"Times-Mirror" Employee Dies of Shock Following Amputation of Leg

Funeral services for John Train, for sixteen years an employee of the Times-Mirror Printing and Binding House, will be conducted tomorrow at 3 p.m. in Hollywood Cemetery chapel, with burial to follow in Hollywood Cemetery. There will be Masonic rites, conducted by the Highland Park Lodge, of which he was a member.

Mr. Train had been ill for the last two years, following a fall in which one leg was fractured in three places. The break at the hip never healed and for a year he had been confined to his bed. Last Friday an attempt was made to save his life by amputating the leg at the hip. He succumbed on Sunday morning to the shock of the operation. He was 65 years of age.

Born in Canada, he came to this country at an early age and had been a resident of Los Angeles for the last forty years. He started to work for the Times-Mirror Printing and Binding House about 1914 and had served in the capacity of salesman until the time of his accident two years ago. His home was at 141 South Avenue 56.

In addition to being a member of the Highland Park Masonic Lodge, he was a member of the Scottish Rite and the Al Malaikah Temple of the Shrine. He also had been active in the work of the Advertising Club.

He leaves his widow, a daughter, Mrs. Althea Johnson, and a brother, Robert Train, all of this city.

PAVING CHARGE APPROVED

The City Council yesterday approved a petition from property owners in Haskell avenue that the width of the proposed paving in their street from Ventura to Sepulveda boulevards be reduced from fifty-four feet to thirty-six feet, with eight-foot oiled shoulders. The City Engineer was instructed to make this change in the plans.

Today's Bible Text

Sirs, what must I do to be saved? And they said, Believe on the Lord Jesus Christ, and thou shalt be saved, and thy house.—Acts xvi:30, 31.

NEW NAMES FOR OLD

Even the old-fashioned names are being lost in the clutter of modernity. We noticed a list of sixty-odd graduates in a suburban high school and no two of them had the same name. They ranged from Audrey to Zaza, but there was only one Mary on the roster. Years ago there would have been a dozen of them. Now it looks as if our movie sweetheart would have to keep the name alive.

BRUTAL HUSBANDS

Woman is getting a divorce because the husband said she was negligent of her figure and was getting fat. She insists that the mere suggestion constitutes extreme cruelty and that she does not have to live with such a carping brute. And she is right. If a lady wishes to take on flesh it is her unimpeachable privilege. If she isn't and the husband says she is, it is villainous. It looks as if the matron would get her decree.

MAKE QUACKS QUAKE

The New York Health Commissioner has undertaken a big job. He is trying to stop quackery over the air. He says that there are lots of so-called health talks over the radio that are nothing but forms of graft. Listeners are lured into sending money to those who promise much but deliver nothing. This is not news but it is distressing. That it can be checked is another question. If we could keep our air free from quackery and false witness it would be 100 per cent purer.

PARROTS ARE BARRED

The government has issued a ukase against the importation of parrots from our neighboring republics. Until this psittacosis fright is allayed the administration is going to keep the Brazilian pollies back of the border. The parrots are not even given an opportunity to be heard on the subject. If these birds are carrying the germs of disease in their plumage they must be instantly branded as undesirable. It is explained that parrots who have been in this country long enough to learn the language are perfectly all right. The trouble lies in some new group of alien birds who have not yet been isolated. But anyhow we are to be officially saved from the perils of the parrot.

TO HONOR AN ASSASSIN

A story comes to us from Vienna, and so far not contradicted at Belgrade, so barbarous in its implications as to appear almost incredible. It is said that the Jugo-Slavians are about to erect at Sarajevo a statue to the assassin, Ferdinand Gabrillo Princip, on the spot where in 1914 he murdered the Austrian archduke and his consort, and so struck the match that started the most fearful conflagration in the history of the world.

Nationalistic pride has erected memorials to many individuals whose deserts were more than questionable. But never in history has any nation before conferred public distinction on a cold-blooded murderer or raised a monument to glorify the private assassin. That the Serbians should destroy the memorial to the murdered archduke and duchess, built by the Austrian invaders during the war, is understandable. That they should replace it with another to honor the creature who committed the dastardly crime is an atrocity no civilized people should tolerate.

Austria and Germany naturally resent this evident attempt to inflame the Balkan States against the central powers of Europe by keeping alive the old animosities that culminated in the bloody deed of June 28, 1914, and all civilized people will share their indignation at the setting up of so atrocious a shrine in honor of its perpetrator. If the Serbian irreconcilables persist in their intention to unveil at Sarajevo in February a large monument to "the man who began the war," they are laying against themselves a charge of blood-guiltiness that will react against them so long as that monument stands.

For the sake of our common humanity it is to be hoped that the story carried in the Berlin Tageblatt is based on some misconception.

THE ANTI-FILIPINO RIOTS

The recent race rioting directed against Filipinos in the Pajaro and Santa Clara valleys should receive the serious attention of the House Immigration Committee, which is now considering the Johnson, the Box and other bills aimed at the prevention of the seasonal migration of Mexican laborers to and from the United States. If such measures are enacted into law, the conditions which brought about the distressing disturbances at Watsonville and elsewhere will be intensified and spread all over California, for there will either be more Filipinos or, if these are excluded, there will be in their places an even less desirable social element, Porto Rican negroes.

It is nonsense for Paul Scharrenberg and other California labor leaders to attempt to draw the conclusion from the Watsonville affair that the riots were caused by Filipinos taking jobs that white men wanted. Race prejudice and not economic pressure brought them about. The influx of Filipino laborers was caused by economic pressure; they came in to fill the vacuum resulting from decreased Mexican immigration, which in turn resulted from the enforcement of passport and other restrictions by the State Department; and their coming was prophesied when the Mexican exclusion agitation began several years ago.

Abundant experience has proved that there is no white common labor for these "stoop and knee" crops. If Scharrenberg can produce any of his so-called unemployed who will do this kind of work, the agriculturists will hire them and pay them at a higher rate than farm hands receive in any other part of the United States, but he cannot. The harvesting of lettuce, the picking of fruit and similar agricultural tasks are too arduous in the California climate for white men to undertake. And since the work must be done, those who attempt to close the door against Mexican migration at the same time force open another which cannot so easily be closed.

Neither Filipinos nor Porto Ricans are technically aliens. The exclusion bills which shut out first Chinese and Japanese will be found difficult to apply in the case of Filipinos and impossible in the case of Porto Ricans. It may be argued that the Philippines, being in a somewhat equivocal position and theoretically on the road to independence, according to declared national policy, might be treated somewhat differently from other portions of the national domain; but Porto Rico is too closely linked to the United States to be discriminated against. It has almost territorial status now, and some time may be admitted to Statehood. Congress would never consent to Porto Rican exclusion and could be induced to attempt Filipino exclusion only with the greatest difficulty.

So that the Mexican is the most desirable answer to the problem. If Filipinos and Porto Ricans are to be kept out, the Mexicans must be let in. It is worth noting that at no time in the history of the Southwest has there been any serious racial friction caused by Mexicans. The Californians of Indian-Spanish ancestry, and their blood brothers from across the border, have always got along well with the other elements of the population. California has had three series of racial clashes, each directed at an oriental race, but none has ever taken place with what may well be called the indigenous strains as a target. It is plain that racial adjustment is not only possible, but is already established, with the Mexicans, while the influx of either Filipinos or Porto Ricans will merely introduce more trouble.

The Times holds no belief that either Filipino exclusion or Philippine independence is desirable now. The best way of preventing an excess of Filipino immigration is to permit entry of a sufficient supply of Mexican labor to take care of the Southwest's industrial needs. Then there will be no vacuum to be filled. Any other plan makes racial clashes inevitable.

The Mexicans, as was pointed out to the House committee by Californians testifying before it, come when they are needed and go when not needed. Furthermore, they are missionaries for American ways and American goods in their own country, aiding Mexico's development and the development of commercial intercourse which is mutually beneficial, incidentally promoting the employment of American skilled labor in making the goods which Mexico buys.

The Watsonville riots are a most convincing exhibit of some of the reasons why no Mexican exclusion bill ought to pass.

CORNER-STONE OF PROSPERITY

The statement of President Coffin of the Merchants' and Manufacturers' Association that the "preponderance of labor in Los Angeles" accepts the leadership of that association is an unquestionable truth. The open shop, which the association fosters and maintains, could not exist a week without the co-operation of the free workers who feel that it is beneficial to them. The workers who use the free employment bureau of the association, and who are placed by it by the thousands each year, are among its staunchest defenders. They know it will protect them against intimidation and exploitation as readily as it will move to protect employers against unionist exactions.

The open shop is the foundation of Los Angeles prosperity and the Merchants' and Manufacturers' Association is the corner-stone of the open shop. The association has closed its most successful year, strengthening its position and expanding its activities. Its thirty-five years of existence have shown continued growth; each year it has met successfully bigger and bigger problems and every solution has contributed permanent benefits to the city.

By maintaining industrial peace, the association really finds itself handicapped to some extent by its very success. If it had an occasional hard fight on its hands, it would come more into public notice and so receive better support. But it keeps the wheels of industry running smoothly and so escapes the attention that is really its due. Business men of the city, beneficiaries of the association's work, are too prone to forget, at times, its existence, to consider that the conditions which it has brought about are really natural and inevitable. They are not. They were won by years of effort, in the face of great obstacles and determined forces and they can be kept only by continual struggle.

The struggle against the closed shop takes time and money, but it is worth while. Los Angeles has not had a serious strike for years; what other city can boast such a record? If there is one, it also is an open-shop city, and it is kept that way by some similar organization to the M. and M., deserving the utmost in public support.

THE PREACHER'S KID

The preacher's kid has been long labeled the business end of trouble. If any prank in town went without anyone to claim it, it was blamed on the parson's son. If the works were blown up by some anonymous daredevil, the preacher's offspring was suspected by all the wise ones. He has been the warning of parenthood and the stigma of the prim for ages.

But now comes a professor and asks that the preacher's family be endowed for its good works. It is hailed as the best breed in the evolutionary process and the learned investigator would have more of it. The parsonage outfit is tipped off as the best bet in the big race of life.

Charles Evans Hughes was a Baptist minister's son. Woodrow Wilson kept a Presbyterian manse on edge in his boyhood. Robert A. Millikan was a by-product of the parsonage. The list might be extended indefinitely.

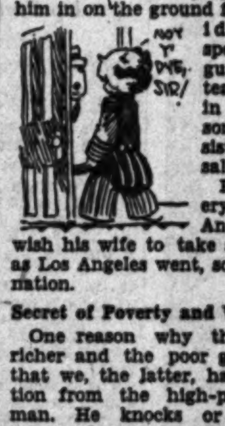
The preacher's boys are unspoiled by wealth and the simple life helps the mentality as well as the physique. A cultured atmosphere usually environs them. Ideality fashions better characters. Always mingling with folks, preachers' sons have a chance to learn to behave themselves, whether or not they improve the opportunity. Good blood that is kept reasonably pure will tell.

At all events the preacher's kids seem to have lived down the obloquy of other years. No longer held up on a spit as the worst specimens in the neighborhood they are now touted as a species to be propagated.

The LEE SIDE O' L.A.

BY Lee Shippey

IF ANY reader wishes to invest $1,000,000 in an enterprise for which there is a crying need, we'll let him in on the ground floor on a great idea—a correspondence course guaranteed to teach housewives, in ten easy lessons, how to resist high-powered salesmen.



NOT T' DAY, SIR!

Practically every man in Los Angeles would wish his wife to take a course. And as Los Angeles went, so would go the nation.

Secret of Poverty and Wealth

One reason why the rich grow richer and the poor grow poorer is that we, the latter, have no protection from the high-powered salesman. He knocks or rings at our door and we must open to him ourself. He has the bait all ready and we are hooked at once. We may struggle away, tear ourselves free, but we can never again be quite the same. The rich, on the other hand, live in such imposing houses and are so guarded by flunkeys, that the average salesman does not dare disturb them. So they save an average of thirty hours a week—and time is money.

And those who don't tear themselves free, of course, have monthly payments to meet or dodge from then on.

Housewife's Hardest Job

Sometimes, in our superior way, we gently suggest to our faithful helpspend that she can't be half as busy as she thinks she is—that merely keeping a house and managing five children and looking up the things we have mislaid can't be such an awful job. But we never realized what handicaps the housewife labors under until the other day when the sun was shining so beautifully that we decided to sit on the front porch, instead of in our den, while we did our morning stint. We could sit there with the sun falling like a blessing on our back, yet with our typewriter in shadow, and it seemed a perfect arrangement.

Y-E-E-S YOU TELL 'EM, LEE!

And it would have been but for the h. p. s.

"If any salesmen call," said our faithful helpspend, "just tell them I don't want anything and maybe I'll get time to sew that button on your coat. It takes a man to get rid of agents."

We told her she could trust us to get rid of them in a hurry. But we just didn't know.

Eager to Save Our Children

At first fortune as well as the sun smiled on us. It's always easy to write if you have something to write about. And the night before we had learned one of those things about our city which everyone ought to know, but which nobody does. We seized our trusty typewriter and started blithely:

"Tens of thousands of Angelenos daily pass Pershing Square and never notice—"

"Good morning!" cried a cheery voice beside us. We turned and saw an old friend. That is, he looked so friendly we knew he must be a friend, and we knew he must be an old one because we'd forgotten him. We held out a hand, weakly.

Then we realized our mistake. He wasn't a friend at all. He was an agent. He wanted us to quit our milkman instantly and take milk from his company—not for his sake, but for ours.

"But we're entirely satisfied with our present milkman," we protested.

He looked at us in great pity. He seemed about to leave us to our fate But duty made him hesitate. "Have you any children?" he asked.

"Only five."

Then came the deluge. He made us feel that it was just like murdering our children to let them drink any milk other than that his company sold. Though we'd been completely satisfied with the old milkman for two years, we almost forsook him. But we owed him $19 and couldn't.

Family Begins to Shrink

Thirty-two precious minutes had died before he left us—under a snow of literature. We turned to our typewriter again and added the one word, "that," to what we had written. But then a clerical-looking gentleman came up our steps.

AH, THERE TOVARISH!
HEY! HEY!

"I beg your pardon," he said, with compelling dignity, "but may I ask what kind of water you drink?"

"Certainly," we answered with pride. "The Ourville water is known everywhere for its purity and—"

"But, certainly," he cried, in grieved surprise, "you don't drink city water? My dear sir, have you any children?"

"One or two," we admitted. "But they're extremely hardy. They can stand anything."

But for twenty minutes he made us feel like a criminal—and rather long to be a murderer.

Don't Breathe—the Air May Not Be Pasteurized!

The next interrupter wanted us to trade in our vacuum cleaner (not yet paid for) for the wonderful new one he handled, which not only cleaned the floors, but pasteurized the air! "Have you any children?" he asked.

"Nary chick or child," we assured him.

The next was selling a set of books for children, guaranteed to make Presidents or captains of industry out of every child reared in the same home with them. And they cost only $84.50.

The next was selling the famous Handy-Can paints, a set of which ought to be in every home. We bought a set, got a large piece of board and painted a sign, "Beware the Dog," which we stuck up near the front sidewalk. Brownie, our faithful Neardale, was lying in the sun beside us.

What Women Suffer Every Day

We returned to our typewriter. But we'd completely forgotten what we'd intended to write about, and though we cudgeled our brain and tore our hair could not recall the idea. We were feeling ferocious about that when our helpspend appeared in the door.

SO, YOU DRINK WATER, EH, HM!
UG!

"Luncheon's ready, dear," she said. "And, oh, it's so nice to have you work at home. You can't imagine how much I've accomplished today. Usually so many agents for time-saving and health-saving devices come along that they waste all my time and worry me half-sick."

And we could only humbly marvel at feminine endurance.

BACK TO NATURE

By James J. Montague

At the Des Moines meeting of scientists there was much support for the contention that animals are really weather-wise

I never could credit the tale
That a cow, as she grazed on the lea,
Could tell by the feel of the gale
What tomorrow night's weather would be.
I never believed that a pin-headed hen
From a throbbing inside of her gizzard
Was able to cackle a warning to men
Of the certain approach of a blizzard.
These legends, whose source is in hen-coops and barns,
I always supposed were mere dull-witted yarns.

I have often been told that a sheep
Could discern by a twinge in his ear
That the snow would be heavy and deep
And the winter prolonged and severe;
And that hogs, who betray to the casual gaze
No very keen powers of reason,
Could predict, as they glanced at the sun's summer rays,
A wet and tempestuous season.
Such legends, I thought, were mere lore of the farm
And frequently highly productive of harm.

But scientists boldly declare
That the beasts which abide on the plain
And the birds that soar up through the air
Are prophets we must not disdain.
There is fact in the legends which time out of mind
You and I have regarded as fiction,
And perhaps it may be that some truth we shall find
In the groveling ground hog's prediction
As we plod through existence, at every turn
We still must find out that we've something to learn.

The Milk Question

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 24.—[To the Editor of The Times:] I have been interested to read the recent articles about the milk situation in Los Angeles. The only question the consumer has to ask is this: If milk is plentiful or if it is being overproduced, why is not the price to the consumer on milk and cream reduced? While this is the main question in the mind of the consumer, it might be wise for the producers and distributors to take notice of this other angle of the situation. If milk were cheaper it is certain that more of it would be used. For those families who live on a limited budget, the milk bill is quite an item and frequently families cut down on their milk supply in order to stretch their budget for other food items. Where there are children, this is a sad state of affairs. Then, too, the milk in Los Angeles, judging by two or three of the dairies which I have bought milk of, is none too rich at the best.

If the distributors sold twice as much milk with the same dairy and delivery equipment, could they not pay the producer as much or more for their milk and still make enough profit to warrant a reduction in the price to the consumer? What we need is a milk campaign for the benefit of everybody and not for the distributor only. I wonder if anyone else agrees with me.

Too Much Milk? No!

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 23.—[To the Editor of The Times:] We hear of overproduction in the milk situation at present and the questioned destruction of certain amounts to keep the price up.

Why, in all common sense, would not the results be the same if they lowered the price and produced a greater demand? We all know at the high price the majority of people do not buy as much as they could consume. They must economize. At a lower price the milk produced would be consumed.

Questions Motives

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 24.—[To the Editor of The Times:] I have just read with interest E. D. M.'s letter in this morning's Times. I agree quite heartily with the sentiments expressed.

I have been a constant subscriber to your paper for over six years and find your general foreign news excellent. However, I have not liked several of Mr. Young's articles, as I think that they do not reflect the true attitude either of the British or of the real American people. The general tone of several of his recent articles might leave his motives open to question.

These Editors

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 20.—[To the Editor of The Times:] I was interested in an article by Mr. Bailey Millard in The Times recently, on "Mr. Bok as an Editor." He recites an instance wherein he submitted an idea for an article to Editor Bok, who rejected the idea, saying that he already had an article on that subject—and such an article did soon after appear. I have had many similar experiences. I sent an article to a man called an "authors' agent," inclosing $3 as a "reading fee." For this fee he was supposed to sell the article, or try to, and if sold, deduct a commission of 10 per cent additional and remit the balance to me. Six months later, there being no sale, or rather returns, I recalled the article, and submitted the idea to a magazine editor, who replied, "We are publishing this month an article of our own on that subject." The bunko agent had copied my article, changed the title and sold it to the magazine, pocketing the total price received in addition to his "readers' fee."

I submitted a story to another editor. He offered a price, which I accepted. In about six months he returned the story with the brazen statement that it was not wanted, as the concern had "changed its policy." That is, to a policy of repudiating an honest contract.

SONG OF THE SKIRT

It lingers, sheer-y and long,
It has returned from the dead!
Again Eve hoists her all-feminine flag—
Gangway! you flappers ahead.
Plumed . . . pert . . . proud,
She struts with long gracefulness girt.
Go to! maidens bold, with cute baby ways,
Once more a world gasps, then bows down to praise
The regal swish of a skirt.
"In trailing clouds," poets tell,
We came to earth's far-off rim;
And lovely women weird raiment has wrought,
Born of a mood or a whim.
More frills . . . back to more fig leaves curt—
But now with a mark of elegant poise,
With new trailing clouds of glory she toys—
The queen who dons the long skirt.

Arrow Guides Other Ships

To prevent collisions of ships such as have occurred off the European coast this winter, the Batavia V, a Dutch liner, has introduced a large electrically illuminated arrow to point the direction other vessels should take in passing. The arrow has been installed across the bridge of the Dutch ship.

SUPERB EFFRONTERY

BY ALMA WHITAKER

Our too-smart young friend, Gerald Crighton, appears to have bamboozled the London Daily Chronicle with an amazing story about Los Angeles. And, forsooth, he is described as a well-known playwright into the bargain.

He is quoted as saying that 500 aliens are kept in prisons in Los Angeles and treated shamefully for "illegal entry" into the country. Young Crighton even has the effrontery to quote the Hon. Godfrey Fisher, British Consul here, as agreeing with him. And then he goes on to tell a pretty story about the incarceration of one "Herbert Upjohn" from British Colombia, who was so arrested and mistreated.

As a matter of fact, Upjohn and Crighton are one and the same. The young man arrived here in January, 1927, with a false letter of introduction from Viscount Astor and stating that he had a roving assignment for five years traveling from the London Times. Both Lord Astor and the Times repudiated him by cable. But not until several of us, including myself, had offered him considerable hospitality, and several clubs had invited him to speak. On these latter occasions he begged us not to mention the London Times, as his was a "secret mission" . . . which was when my suspicions were aroused and the Los Angeles Times did a little cabling.

He was arrested by the immigration authorities here for entering the country on a false passport . . . that of Stephen McKenna, the writer, to wit. All his new acquaintances were immediately asked to put up bond . . . and, on the cable information, we naturally declined the honor. It was later discovered he had come from New Zealand, where he had had trouble with the authorities. We soon discovered his whole story was a fabrication. He even foisted himself on the Upjohns of Pasadena, pretending to be a distant nephew . . . having secured a lot of useful information from a Mr. Upjohn he met in Seattle.

Before we received the cable information he had informed the Los Angeles Times that he was a special writer. He brought me a story he wanted us to print. It was so extraordinarily childish and amateurish that my suspicions were aroused at once and I never even showed it to the editor.

Crighton was finally deported and I next heard from him from Australia, when he assured me he had completely reformed and hoped to live to justify himself in the eyes of his Los Angeles acquaintances. A year later he wrote from South Africa, where he had a little one-act play produced by an amateur company. And now comes this amazing interview in the London Chronicle, a reputable paper of half a century's standing . . . which, however, has obviously been hoodwinked by our disreputable young masquerader . . . with a local evening newspaper here in town, reprinting the absurd story with huge headlines.

Gordon Ray Young, the writer, visited the young faker in jail and received a beautifully dramatic confession from him. And incidentally at that time the boy said he was being particularly well treated in jail. A highly dangerous character, that young man, with an appalling facility for lying.

A RAINY DAY

BY LANNIE HAYNES MARTIN

It may be sheer perversity, or it may be atavistic amphibian instincts, but I simply adore a day of rain! The meditative, philosophic calm which I yearn for and strive after on other and wraps me 'round with conand wraps me round with content. I feel all knitted in a piece with the universe, as if the elements of earth, air, fire and water were mingled, balanced and I at one with them.

Perhaps the rain is a race symbol, so firmly imbedded in the subconscious, that the imagination is stimulated and the sense of well-being fostered by it like the roots of trees are watered and nourished deep beneath the surface of the earth.

Or maybe there is some subtle telepathic communication between human and vegetal life and the gladness of the trees, the gratitude of the flowers and shrubs, the lusty joy of the growing grain and the wild elemental glee of the dancing weeds send out such vibrations of ecstasy that those who love the growing things of earth are a receiving station for these radiations.

No doubt the prayer for rain, accompanied by mystic, ritualistic ceremonials, is one of the most universal prayers of mankind. Not only is the history and legend of the American Indian interwoven with the continual supplication to the gods for rain, but back in the dim beginnings of the Aryan race the East Indian prayed eloquently and often to the rain god to send the "life-giving water."

So there may be a race memory which connects the coming of the rain with answered prayer and in this manner faith is strengthened, faith in the all-pervasive principle of good. For it is a sort of pagan, pantheistic joy that one feels, as if the spirit of the earth sprang up in eagerness to meet the baptismal benedictions of the rain, as if the rain had leapt up and caught the fire of the sun, transforming it into silver seeds to fructify the very barrenness of life and make a lilting melody to drown all aching loneliness.

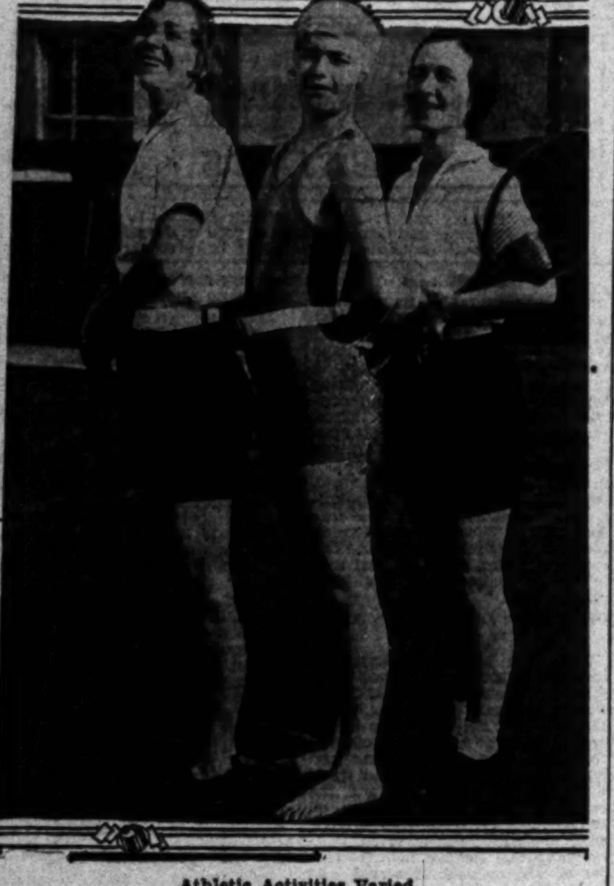
SPORTS OF ALL SORTS OFFERED

Girls Get Chance for Healthful Fun



Athletic Activities Varied

Irene Robbins, golfer; Elsa Gerstenberger, swimmer, and Ray Gray, tennis devotee, take advantage of Y.W.C.A. facilities.

An invitation to all women and girls of Los Angeles who feel a lack of facilities for exercise and recreation has been issued by the health education department of the Young Women's Christian Association, 941 South Figueroa street.

With a program designed to meet the needs of the fat, the lean and the medium and to give general development, strength and poise to others who just want to keep fit, with a fully equipped gymnasium and a newly tiled, 90x30-foot swimming pool with skylight top, and with a corps of trained and experienced instructors who keep right up to the minute in the latest methods of instruction in all forms of athletic activities, the department is in a position to satisfy the requirements of exercise aspirants from 6 years of age on up.

Registration for a new term opened yesterday and classes begin on February 3, next. Classes are in session every day in the week except Sunday, from 10 a.m. to 9:30 p.m., with Saturday designated as children's day.

In addition to the gymnasium activities and swimming, there are courses in dancing and games of all kinds, indoor instruction in theform and strokes of golf and tennis, and horseback classes can be formed on application.

Miss Ella Stevers, director of health education, says that the activities of the department are arranged with the purpose in mind of teaching women sports which they can continue by themselves, and with the basis of the program founded on the belief that health is the prime principal of education and character building. That there is an ever-increasing demand for exercising facilities, Miss Stevers says, is shown in the increase in registration every term. Last year, she said, there was a total of 8089 in the department.

CITY'S SPIRIT WINS PRAISE

Response of Business Men in State Chamber Drive Declared By Dyas to Be Vastly Beneficial

"Los Angeles' increased membership in the California State Chamber of Commerce will lend more toward unified economic activity in the State than any other one factor striving for the elimination of sectional barriers," Bernal H. Dyas, chairman of the State chamber's educational-membership committee, said yesterday in a letter addressed to William May Garland, president of the organization.

WILLIAM MAY GARLAND

"The immediate response of Los Angeles business leaders to the State chamber's invitations to participate in State-wide economic development has clearly shown the desire of Southern California business to share equally in the industrial growth of the entire State, and to be a part of a co-ordinating group farsightedly advising California business," Dyas wrote, reviewing the results of the membership drive to date.

Dyas's letter cited the present representation of Southern California and Northern California in the State chamber as equal, guaranteeing balanced civic legislation in solving economic problems.

The campaign of the State chamber ends this week, closing a series of educational luncheon gatherings at which speakers reviewed the many projects of the State chamber, including foreign trade expansion, industrial and agricultural development, aeronautics, water conservation, and the creation of California's Uniform Building Code.

With Dyas on the campaign committee are J. A. Talbot, Lee A. Phillips, Joseph M. Shenck, Orra E. Monnette, John E. Jardine, George L. Eastman, G. Allan Hancock and D. W. Pontius.

DEFENDANT IN GASOLINE CASE FREED

Hercules Superintendent Acquitted on Charge of Evading State Tax

Clement R. Bird, superintendent of the Hercules Gasoline Company of Los Angeles, yesterday was acquitted of a charge of defrauding the State of gasoline taxes at the close of his trial in Superior Judge Hardy's court.

It was charged that Bird had misrepresented to the State that large quantities of gasoline had been sold by his firm for exportation when, in fact, it was sold to local retailers, thus evading the State tax of 3 cents per gallon.

In defense, Attorneys Joseph Ryan and John Hall introduced evidence to prove that the Hercules company had exported more gasoline than actually reported and therefore could legally have claimed additional tax exemption.

Russell Eagles, another employee of the Hercules Gasoline Company, went to trial with Bird, but the charges against him were dismissed by Judge Hardy early in the trial.

Benjamin J. Scheinman, deputy District Attorney, prosecuted the case.

BUNKER HILL TO BE VALUED

Chicago Expert Arrives to Make Survey of Area in Connection With Leveling Project

Economic aspects of the Bigelow plan to raze Bunker Hill will be the subject of a survey to be undertaken by William H. Babcock & Sons, real estate valuators and accountants, according to Henry A. Babcock of that firm, who arrived here yesterday from Chicago to conduct preliminary surveys in connection with the project. Mr. Babcock is a director of the National Association of Real Estate Boards, chairman of its appraisal division and chairman of its permanent committee on standards of appraisal practice.

Eventually the Babcock firm will appraise the individual parcels of property in the Bunker Hill area for purposes of acquisition and will render certified opinions as to the economic soundness of the Bigelow plan as finally developed and as to the value of security offered for financing. As a necessary preliminary to all this, however, Mr. Babcock said yesterday, it will be essential to make a survey of the growth of various types of improvements in the downtown section of Los Angeles in order to determine the best uses of the regraded area.

The survey will attempt to establish the normal rate of absorption of various types of downtown improvements and then to determine what percentage of the normal annual increase in demand should properly be absorbed by the regraded area without disturbing values in the remainder of the downtown section.

With that problem settled, he said, the next step will be to lay out the regraded area, designate certain sections for specific anticipated uses and set up an approximate time schedule to be followed in bringing the successive portions of the development on to the market.

Flyers Silent in Search for Pilot Graham

No word was forthcoming yesterday from either Jimmie James or Fred W. Kelly, Western Air Express pilots searching the Las Vegas, Nev., Salt Lake City territory for their missing pal, Maurice Graham.

James and Kelly, flying mail planes equipped with sleeping bags and carrying heavy food supplies plan to fly anywhere they believe there is a possibility of locating Graham or his ship. They will sleep and eat wherever they can find a field large enough on which to land and stated they will keep up the search until Graham's fate is solved.

The missing pilot dropped completely from sight more than two weeks ago after taking off from Las Vegas into the face of a blizzard while flying the mail from Los Angeles to Salt Lake City.

AVIATION TO BE TOPIC

"Lowered Tariffs and Aviation" will be the subject of a talk to be made tomorrow noon before members of the Federal Business Association at the monthly meeting at the Elite Cafe by Hugh Shippey, manager of the speaker's bureau of Western Air Express.

WHEN THE SANDMAN COMES

by THORNTON W. BURGESS

It startles one sometimes to see How big a little thing can be.
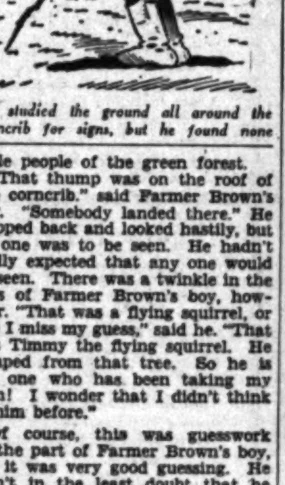
—Timmy the Flying Squirrel.

It was only a few days before Farmer Brown's boy discovered that some one was still taking corn in that corncrib. But though he thought and thought and thought he couldn't imagine who it could be. He was sure that neither rats nor mice could climb up into the corncrib from the ground. He was sure that Chatterer the red squirrel and Happy Jack the gray squirrel could neither climb up from the ground nor get to the roof of the corncrib from the nearest tree. Therefore, it was a great mystery how anybody could be taking corn.

"It can't be, yet it is," said Farmer Brown's boy. "Every day I find signs that prove to me that corn is being taken. Now it is a few scattered grains; now it is a bare corncob. I have set traps, but haven't caught anybody. Somebody is too smart for me. I really don't mind the small amount of corn taken, but I do mind being fooled. I don't like to think that I am not smart enough to find out who is doing it."

So Farmer Brown's boy took to visiting the corncrib at all hours of the day. Of course, he didn't learn anything, for Timmy the flying squirrel was now making his visits only at night and leaving long before daylight. So all this watching on the part of Farmer Brown's boy was useless. He studied the ground all around the corncrib for signs, but he found none. He knew that Chatterer the red squirrel was over there every morning, but he was sure that Chatterer never did get inside. He wished that snow would come. You know, snow has a way of telling stories. He was sure that if snow came he would be able to find tracks, unless, as he sometimes suspected, a mouse or mice might be living in the corncrib all the time.

Then one evening it happened that he was standing near the corncrib and back of it just about dusk. He had paused there just for a moment. Suddenly he heard a light, soft thump. He pricked up his ears. It was a very light thump, but it was a familiar thump. He had heard that kind of thump before. You know, Farmer Brown's boy is wise in the ways of the little people of the green forest.



He studied the ground all around the corncrib for signs, but he found none

"That thump was on the roof of the corncrib," said Farmer Brown's boy. "Somebody landed there." He stepped back and looked hastily, but no one was to be seen. He hadn't really expected that any one would be seen. There was a twinkle in the eyes of Farmer Brown's boy, however. "That was a flying squirrel, or else I miss my guess," said he. "That was Timmy the flying squirrel. He jumped from that tree. So he is the one who has been taking my corn! I wonder that I didn't think of him before."

Of course, this was guesswork on the part of Farmer Brown's boy, but it was very good guessing. He didn't in the least doubt that he was right. But to make sure, he was on the watch early the next night. When the black shadows first began to creep out from the purple hills, Farmer Brown's boy stationed himself where he could watch. Gradually the dusk grew deeper. It was getting so dark now that it was difficult for him to see. He had just about given up hope when he caught sight of a little dark spot coming down from high up in a tree near the corncrib. Almost at once there was a soft thump and he saw a little form disappear over the edge of the roof. He smiled happily. It was a great satisfaction to have solved the great mystery.

IS SHAMPOO DAY A BUGBEAR AT YOUR HOUSE?

With shampoos coming every day or every other day the mother must develop some sort of technique which will prevent baby's getting soap in his eyes, else the bath session becomes a pitched battle between mother and babe.

There are various ways in which this may be managed. The small child can be placed on his back on mother's lap, the tub on the floor under his head and the soap rubbed on, and rinsed off without mishap.

The older child is harder to manage, for he is certain to dig his fists in his eyes or turn and twist until a cloud of soap runs into his eyes, after which he shrieks and fights at the very suggestion of a shampoo.

Some mothers have found a snugly fitted celluloid eye shade is invaluable, for it may be slipped on the forehead to prevent the water and soap from running over the face. If the child will lean backward in the tub, and hold the head far back, the same thing may be accomplished, or one may put a little wooden seat in the tub and use that as a head rest.

A Constant Reader asks: "What can I use for a shampoo? May I use the one I have for my own hair? How can I promote a growth of hair? How can I prevent my little 2½-year-old girl from wetting the bed? She is trained in the daytime."

Plain white soap, any good toilet soap, cut into small pieces and boiled in water until dissolved, is as nice as anything for a shampoo. If you know what you are using you can use the same shampoo on the child, but usually we know very little of what goes into bottled shampoos.

HAIR HEALTH MIRRORS PHYSICAL HEALTH

The growth of hair isn't a separate thing, as seemingly so many believe. Hair growth is just an indication of good general bodily health. If one's physical well-being is below par, the hair becomes dull, stiff and lifeless, and all the tonics one could rub into it won't improve its condition until the health is improved. Then again the hair becomes soft and full of luster. Children may inherit fine, thin hair, which is perfectly healthy, but doesn't seem abundant because of its texture. All one need do to encourage a good growth of hair is to brush it daily, keep it clean, see that the child has plenty of fresh air night and day, sunlight, lots of water to drink and a good, wholesome diet—just the items which promote good general health.

Bed wetting is too big a subject to fit into this space so please write for our leaflet on that subject, inclosing a self-addressed, stamped envelope with your request, and let me send it to you.

Health and Diet Advice

GOOD COMPLEXIONS

That Americans are taking an interest in the appearance of the complexion is proven by the fact that there are thousands of beauty parlors in successful operation, and that over $3,000,000 worth of cosmetics are sold each year. On every hand, in newspapers and magazines, and on billboards, we see advertisements of "the school girl complexion" and "that well-groomed look." Everyone admires a normal skin, neither too oily nor too dry. The man who said that a beautiful skin is its own reward expressed a truth, for, socially speaking, a lovely skin can pass many portals where an oily or pimply skin would not be admited.

The Skin as an Organ

The skin is one of the most accommodating of our organs, and is always willing to reform and grow lovelier if we will make an effort to normalize it. An example of the willingness of the skin to adapt itself to circumstances is shown by the fact that the skin of a white person grafted into a negro will change its white color and become black, while if negro skin is transplanted to a white body it becomes white. The color or pigment of the skin which determines whether it shall be tan or white is in a thin layer just underneath the true skin. The rose color of the skin is produced by the circulation of blood through the tiny capillaries of the skin.

While the external care given to the skin is very important, the internal method of keeping the complexion clear is far more productive of success. The common causes of skin disorders are overeating, constipation, not enough exercise, and too much sugar, fats or rich foods in the diet. Some of the most common skin troubles are of a mild nature and their methods of treatment quite simple.

Blackheads or Comedones

In blackheads, the fat from the oil glands has become solid and clogs the openings. This little deposit of fat catches the dirt, producing the characteristic appearance of blackheads. When these oil glands become infected, a small pimple may form. The treatment is to first steam the face to open the pores and soften the fatty deposit. Then it should be washed with mild soap and warm water, after which the blackhead can be gently pressed out. After this treatment, cold water or ice should be applied to close the pores.

One who is chronically troubled with blackheads must avoid sugars and fats until the condition has been overcome. Great care must also be taken to thoroughly wash the skin morning and evening.

Oily Skin or Seborrhea

A greasy skin is due to the overactivity of the oil glands arising from too much assimilation of fats. This causes the nose to be always shiny, the pores enlarged, and the skin of the whole face may seem to be coated with oil. The scalp also shows an excess of oil. One troubled with an oily complexion should eat large quantities of vegetables and salads and it is a good plan to make one meal a day of an acid fruit alone. The treatment for the face is to steam it by holding the head over a kettle of hot water with a towel thrown over the head, or hot towels may be applied to the skin one after another. Wash very thoroughly with warm water and soap. An oily skin is not harmed by excessive washing. Oily or greasy cold creams should not be used where there is excessive oiliness of the skin. Always follow the warm treatment with splashing cold or ice water on the face.

CHEF WYMAN'S RECIPES

Every Tuesday and Friday at 2 o'clock Mrs. A. L. Wyman will conduct a free class and demonstration of good cookery in the lecture room of the Southwest Building, 130 South Broadway.

BEEF ROLLS

Take one pound of round steak and pound it until tender, one-third of a pound of sausage, one cupful of bread crumbs, mix the sausage and bread crumbs together, add a tablespoonful of chopped parsley with a seasoning of salt and paprika. Cut the beef into slices, spread the sausage and crumb mixture over the slices. Roll up and tie firmly, dredge with flour, place in a saucepan, one onion chopped, two tablespoonfuls of tomato ketchup or tomatoes, one-half a teaspoonful of Worcestershire sauce, two thin slices of salt pork and one cupful of water, place the beef rolls in this, cover closely and cook slowly for one hour.

CREAMED JERUSALEM ARTICHOKES

Take two pounds of Jerusalem artichokes, peel, and cover with milk, cook until tender, and soft enough to mash through a sieve. To the milk in which they were boiled, add the slightly beaten yolks of four eggs, a seasoning of salt and white pepper, and cook until thick, then add the artichokes, and the stiffly beaten white of one egg, oil individual molds, or one large mold, place the mixture in it, cover tightly and steam for one hour, can be served hot or cold, if served cold turn out, slice, place on a bed of lettuce and serve with mayonnaise.

BREAD TARTS

Take stale bread and cut in slices one-quarter of an inch thick, cut out circles with a biscuit cutter, and moisten with a little milk, then spread over them a layer of jam or preserves, place another circle on top of this, so as to form a sandwich and fry them in butter on each side until a light brown. Serve with cream.

POTATO TURNOVERS

Boil four medium-sized potatoes, mash them and add a scant half a cupful of rich milk, a seasoning of salt, and one tablespoonful of melted butter, beat one egg, and add to the mixture, and enough flour to enable you to roll out the potato mixture like pastry, roll out to one-half an inch in thickness, cut in oval-shaped pieces, and place on a mixture of any finely chopped cold cooked meat that has been seasoned with salt, paprika and a few drops of onion juice, cover with another piece of potato pastry, pinch the edges together and bake until a light brown. Serve with a rich meat gravy.

MINISTER TO TALK AT BREAKFAST CLUB

"The Greatest Ship Afloat" will be the topic of Rev. J. Whitcomb Brougher, Jr., scheduled as speaker of tomorrow morning's program at the Breakfast Club. Mr. Brougher is pastor of the First Baptist Church of Glendale. Among the guests will be S. P. Stevens, president, Reid Murdoch & Co., Chicago; Helen Madison and Josephine McKim, young swimming stars who will soon seek the country's championship honors in their sport in Los Angeles; Frank J. Lawlor, clubman of Rye, N. Y.; Frank Fay, Pennsylvania State Senator; Conrad H. Poppenhusen, prominent Chicago attorney, and Wentworth MacKenzie, Chicago, partner of a leading New York Stock Exchange house. Hosts for the party will be Russell D. Keach and Clarence B. Kerr.

HOUSEHOLD SUGGESTIONS

Intact

The continual ripping off of buttons by the clothes wringer can be avoided by folding the buttons inside the garment and holding it flat as you run it through the wringer.

No Bad Results

When the top of your polished table is marred by paper that has stuck fast, remove by putting a few drops of sweet oil on the paper and gently rubbing with a soft rag. Polish as usual with furniture polish.

Worn Linen

Use the worn linen napkin or piece of old tablecloth for a bag to hold lettuce leaves. The nicest and freshest lettuce is that which has been separated and washed and then put into a linen bag and placed directly on the ice.

Quite Ill

We mothers are sometimes at a loss as to just what to do to keep the kiddie quiet and entertained when very ill. One mother made an entertaining bedspread of blue percale and pasted linen figures cut from story books on the plain blue background. Stories can be told concerning the figures and the child kept quiet for great lengths of time.

GLENDALE, Jan. 27.—Glen Colby, 7 years of age, of 427 West Ninety-first street, Los Angeles, suffered a compound fracture of the right leg, a crushed right hand and a severe laceration of the right foot yesterday when he climbed into a cement mixer while playing with his brother, Lyle, on a vacant lot next door to the home of his grandmother, Mrs. M. E. Cowan, 2038 North Chevy Chase Drive. The two children had accompanied their parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Colby, to this city on a visit to Mrs. Cowan, and were romping on the lot adjoining the Cowan home when Glen climbed into the cement mixer. His weight is said to have started the machine to revolving and before he could be extricated he was drawn deeper into the machinery. First aid was given at the Emergency Hospital and the boy was later removed to the White Memorial Hospital, Los Angeles.

Two Cars Collide in Narod, Resulting in Painful Injuries to Their Occupants

POMONA, Jan. 27.—In the only crash reported over the week-end four persons were hurt when two automobiles collided at Fifth and Central avenues in Narod yesterday.

The following were treated at the local Health Center: R. E. Winsler, 36 years of age, 416 Cover street, Riverside, driver of one of the cars, suffered cuts on his jaw and elbow, while Mrs. Sarah Bellor, 70, of the same address and riding with him, sustained a fractured collar bone and scalp wounds; A. D. Lane, 1338 West One Hundred and First street, Los Angeles, driver of the other machine, was uninjured, but Mrs. Josie Lane, 42, suffered cuts on her hand and knee, while W. L. Taylor, 27, of 9220 Budlong avenue, Los Angeles, was cut about the face and head.

FOUR WRECK VICTIMS IN SAN ANTONIO HOSPITAL

UPLAND, Jan. 27.—Four automobile crashes over the week-end sent five persons to San Antonio Community Hospital, a check of casualties today disclosed.

W. E. Openshaw, Los Angeles, received broken ribs and cuts about the legs and arms when his automobile left the highway and turned over three times when it failed to make a sharp turn on San Antonio Canyon highway.

Another car went over the embankment at the mouth of the canyon, carrying with it Bert McMahan, Inglewood, driver of the car; Mrs. Mary Morgan and Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Robinson of Los Angeles. Cuts, bruises, lacerations about the head, body and legs were received.

Hugh Jennings, Ontario, and Mrs. John Maffett, Upland, escaped serious injury in a crash at Euclid avenue and Eighteenth street.

W. T. Schafner, West Eighteenth street, Upland, narrowly escaped death today and his automobile was damaged when he failed to observe an approaching Pacific Electric train and drove his car on to the track. FULLERTON, Jan. 27.—Fatally injured when his car overturned following a collision with another driven by F. E. Russell of Los Angeles, C. H. Parker, 55 years of age, of Compton, died in the Fullerton General Hospital today an hour after the accident, which occurred at 10 a.m. at Orangethorpe avenue and Spadra Road. NAVY FLYER RESCUED BY LEXINGTON

Airplane Carrier Picks Up Lieutenant - Commander Gail G. Morgan from Ocean

SAN DIEGO, Jan. 27.—Lieutenant-Commander Gail G. Morgan, navy flyer forced down off San Clemente today in a seaplane, was rescued early this afternoon by the airplane-carrier Lexington. Morgan was uninjured. His plane, reported undamaged, was hoisted abord the Lexington.

Plaything of the elements, Morgan's observation plane was adrift at sea a mile off San Clemente following a forced landing on a storm-swept ocean during a flight from San Pedro to San Diego. The airplane carrier, San Diego-bound from San Pedro, turned off its course and went to his rescue when word of the forced landing was received.

Motor trouble is believed to be the cause of the forced landing. Report from San Clemente said the plane was sighted landing on the ocean during a rainstorm and that successive squalls reduced visibility, making the work of sighting it again difficult.

STUDENT FLYER INJURED WHEN NEW PLANE CRASHES

BLYTHE, Jan. 27.—Alfred Dunagan, student flyer, escaped with a few minor injuries late yesterday when the Waco airplane belonging to the Blythe Fire Department crashed to earth in a take-off at the local airport. The plane's motor is said to have quit as the ship was about forty feet off the ground. Dunagan then attempted to bank the plane for a landing when the tip of one wing struck the ground. The machine is practically a wreck with only the motor saved.

The plane is almost new, having been purchased recently by twenty volunteer firemen of the local department. Cause for the engine dying has not yet been determined.

Service Station Owner Commits Suicide With Gun

GLENDALE, Jan. 27. Eluding the vigilance of his wife, who had feared for some time that he contemplated suicide, Reuben Solberg, 25 years of age, of 322½ South Daley street, Los Angeles, yesterday afternoon whipped an automatic pistol from his pocket and shot himself through the head as his wife, Mrs. Borkhild Solberg, sat beside him in the office of his service station at 210 West Colorado Boulevard. The bullet entered the right temple, passed through his head and lodged in the wall of the office, where it was found later by Capt. J. H. Lauritzen and Detective Woodard.

Mrs. Solberg, who rushed screaming from the office for help, later told the officers that Solberg had been despondent for some time and that he had threatened to commit suicide.

For this reason she remained with him at his office yesterday but was unable to stop him when he snatched the gun from his pocket and fired. The body was taken to the L. G. Scovern Undertaking Parlors pending an inquest

BOYS' BAND IN NEED OF LEADER

Montecito Youngsters With Talent for Playing on Harmonica Want Help

SANTA BARBARA, Jan. 27.—Does anybody know a harmonica band leader?

Mrs. Smeal of the Montecito Home Club, one of the agencies supported by the Community Chest, has discovered lots of talent among the boys there who make the club their evening hangout. But there is nobody to wield the baton and bring order out of chaos, so to speak.

The village of Montecito stands badly in need of a good harmonica band. Mrs. Smeal can provide talent in the form of five hustling harmonica players and an unlimited supply of comb and tissue paper artists. Fame and fortune awaits the boy who can take the rough material and mold it into shape.

Ordered Out of City, Now Sought as Fortune Heir

SANTA BARBARA, Jan. 27.—Police are searching for William A. Den, former local resident. He is wanted here to settle an estate in which a provision is made leaving a small fortune to him.

Den was last seen here early last week, when he told police he expected to leave the city for parts unknown. He was ordered by Police Judge E. A. Rizor to leave the city, police said last night.

Den was arrested about six months ago in connection with the theft of a quantity of clothing and silverware from one of the leading hotels here. He confessed taking the property, according to Police Lieutenant H. S. Coit, who made the arrest. Officials of the hotel refused to prosecute Den and he was released and told to leave the city.

Later Den returned here and was again arrested by Coit on December 22 on charges of suspicion of hold-up in connection with the robbery of a shoe shop in the 800 block on Anacapa street. Den furnished alibi and was released, according to Coit. He again was ordered to leave town.

"I met Den on State street last week," said Coit, "and he told me he was leaving here for parts unknown."

Police expressed an opinion Den is employed on some dairy ranch near King City or Salinas or is living near Ventura.

Fire Siren Calls Pajama Parade

SANTA PAULA, Jan. 27.—What local fire fighters say was the greatest pajama parade in local history occurred here early this morning when the fire siren sounded.

Conscious that four major fires have done slightly less than $200,000 damage in this city in three weeks and that a firebug is working in this city, the local citizens left warm beds to follow the fire wagon to a small shack in the Mexican section of this city where a chimney burned out. Then the pajama parade went home and to bed.

Grandmother of Little Lad Asserted Drunk-Driver

SAN DIEGO, Jan. 27.—Investigation of an auto accident in front of the Naval Hospital resulted in the arrest late last night of four persons, one a 4-year-old boy who had been plied with liquor by his father. John C. Spahn, 31, a Los Angeles fireman, is charged with intoxication. Police say his 4-year-old son, Jackie Spahn, was under the influence of liquor, which the boy later admitted was given him by his father in Tia Juana. Mrs. Elizabeth McKee, driver of the car which figured in the crash, was arrested while assertedly drunk. She is the step-grandmother of the boy, according to police. Charles B. McKee, another member of the party, was arrested on an intoxication charge.

The 4-year-old boy was taken to the Vocational Home, where Dr. Paul Brust submitted him to an examination several hours later. Dr. Brust said it was apparent the boy had been under the influence of liquor and was still suffering from the effects when the doctor made his examination. The child admitted to the doctor that he had been given a drink of whisky at Tia Juana.

The trio face Police Court tomorrow on the charges which police have placed against them. Efforts of police to secure a felony warrant charging contributing to the delinquency of a minor against the three, proved futile today when District Attorney's attaches announced the act apparently was committed in Tia Juana.

Realty Brokers Learn Appraisal From Babcock

ONTARIO, Jan. 27.—Hotel Ontario was the gathering place today for real estate brokers and salesmen from San Bernardino, Riverside, Pomona, Redlands, Palm Springs, Upland and Ontario, who participated in an appraisal conference under direction of Henry A. Babcock of Chicago, chairman of the appraisal division of the National Association of Realty Boards. Babcock was assisted by Arthur J. Mertzke of Chicago, director of the department of education and research of the national association.

This evening, following the annual banquet of the Ontario-Upland Realty Board, recently elected officers were installed. They are: Fred Margerum, president; William Plasman, vice-president; W. H. Kistner, treasurer, and F. A. Snodgrass, secretary.

Frank C. Nye, Riverside, vice-president of the fourteenth district of the California Real Estate Association, was principal speaker at the inauguration ceremony.

Judge B. P. Warmer, classed by the realty board as the outstanding citizen for 1929, received "The Best Citizen" trophy, which last year was awarded Miss Bertha Schwarzwalder, city nurse.

The installation committee numbered H. H. Frankish, chairman; Willard D. Ball, Clayton K. Close and William Plasman.

Los Angeles Put in Village Class by This Writer

ONTARIO, Jan. 27.—Something ought to be done about this and Miss Dana Williams, assistant secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, believes the Los Angeles chamber should take the lead for a bigger and better appreciation of the Southland capital by contractor-carpenters in Illinois.

Miss Williams today received a communication from Carmi, Ill., in which "Carpenter - contractors" wrote:

"Mr. Chamber of Commerce, Ontario. Dear Sir: Please send me a map of Ontario and one of California. I want to locate in Ontario, but would like to know first how far it is from Los Angeles, San Bernardino and other villages."

WRONG BROTHER IN COURT

Prosecution of Merced Hermosillo, Upland Mexican, for Asserted Shooting at Motorists Must Start All Over Again, Due to Mistaken Identity

UPLAND, Jan. 27.—Merced Hermosillo, Upland Mexican, and his brother Jose know which is which, but Superior Court and county officials couldn't tell the difference today. Consequently a long legal procedure well on the way to a conclusion today will have to be repeated in its entirety.

Merced was arrested some time ago charged with having fired on a Los Angeles party that got off the main highway and drove into the Mexican camp. His brother Jose was arrested at the same time on charge of violation of the alien gun law. They were summarily bound over to Superior Court.

The case against Merced was called today, but officials, not knowing which was which, brought Jose into court and thinking a mistake had been made changed Merced's name throughout the complaints and other papers to "Jose."

Chief of Police J. P. Sawyer was called as the first witness against Merced and seeing Jose in the prisoner's box demanded an explanation. The error was brought to light and the case dismissed. Now Merced must be again formally charged with assault with a deadly weapon, be arraigned in the local court and a preliminary hearing set, and, if evidence warrants, will again be bound over to Superior Court.

Jose is still held on the alien gun law charge and if found guilty will probably be deported by United States immigration officers, it was said today.

YOUTH'S DEFENSE PLANNED

Friends and Relatives Come to Aid of Haskell Fair, Redlands Boy Charged With Manslaughter

REDLANDS, Jan. 27.—Friends and relatives of Haskell Fair, 19-year-old local boy and son of Rev. J. D. Fair, retired minister, will come to his aid to free him from a manslaughter charge. They have engaged Rex Goodcell of Los Angeles and Stanley Bates of San Bernardino as his counsel. Fair was driver of the automobile in which Homer Story was killed December 22, near Pomona.

Young Fair is at liberty under $3000 bond, furnished by friends of the minister's family. He is here recovering from serious injuries sustained in the same wreck that claimed the life of Story, a local high school student.

Preliminary hearing for the youth was held in Los Angeles Friday when Municipal Judge Russil ruled that the boy must stand trial. Dep. Dist.-Atty. Broker called Edward Hinchman, young local printer and companion of Fair and Story on the fatal ride, as his chief witness. He testified that six miles west of Pomona Fair lost control of the automobile, which crashed into a tree.

The father of the boy says they were advised to offer no testimony at the preliminary hearing, but are preparing a strenuous Superior Court battle. Hinchman took the stand and admitted that several hours before the wreck, he and Story had consumed a quart each of home-brewed beer, purchased in East Highlands. Then they met Haskell and started for Long Beach. Haskell took two small drinks of wine en route, while the other boys continued drinking.

He says they can show to a jury's satisfaction that the boy was not intoxicated. They presume that a tire blew out or the car got off the edge of the highway forcing it out of Haskell's control.

LEMON MEN GET "WORD TO WISE"

Chicago Attorney Advises Growers to Seek Higher Tariff on Citrus Fruit

PASADENA, Jan. 27.—Southern California lemon growers need a higher tariff on their produce as protection against European imports, according to Conrad H. Poppenhusen, Chicago lawyer, who, accompanied by Mrs. Poppenhusen, is spending the winter season at the Hotel Huntington. The visiting attorney is a member of the law firm of Popenhusen, Johnston, Thompson & Cole, corporation and financial specialists.

"Large shipments of lemons from Italy under present tariff laws have exerted a serious effect upon California growers because the European fruit can be grown and marketed at a lower price," he asserted. The attorney suggests that Southern California growers petition California Representatives in Congress, urging that they seek higher duties on lemons at once.

Passage of the intangible tax law and reciprocal inheritance measure by the State Legislature will attract easterners to California, the Chicago lawyer declared. "Tax laws in California have been a barrier that individuals in other States have hesitated to encounter. Prior to passing the inheritance measure, an estate left at the death of a temporary California resident was subject to a tax here as well as in the East. "The Supreme Court recently ruled that property can be taxed only once, and that tax must be levied in the State of the owner's legal residence."

German Royalty Visit Pasadena Home This Week

PASADENA, Jan. 27.—Royalty are in this city today in the persons of Prince and Princess Henry XXXIII of Reuss, Germany, and their children, Princess Mary Louise, 14 years of age, and Prince Henry, 11. The Prince and Princess will be guests of Mrs. Gilbert Lee of 1255 Wentworth avenue, for a week, during which time the children will be at the Hotel Huntington with their tutors.

Princess Henry was the widow of Anson Burchard of New York City, vice-chairman of the board of directors of the General Electric Company. She is the daughter of Charles H. Tew of Jamestown, N. Y.

The Prince is the son of Henry XXXII and Princess Mary Alexandrine of Saxe-Weimar, Duchess of Saxe, who were close friends of Bismarck. The House of Reuss reigned for many centuries over two German principalities until Germany became a republic. Prince Henry's first wife was Victoria Marguerite of Hohenzollern, second cousin of Emperor William II, who died in 1923, leaving two children, Princess Mary Louise and Prince Henry, whom the present Princess is bringing up as her own.

All the princes have been named Henry since the time of Henry VI of Hohenstaufen, an ancestor of the local guests. Mrs. Lee recently visited the Princess at Barbet de Jouy in Paris. Lady Montague Allen of this city will entertain the titled guests during their brief visit.

Council Debates Whether or Not to Arrest Crews

SAN DIEGO, Jan. 27.—Should Santa Fe train crews which fail to stop passenger trains at certain grade crossings in the city be arrested and taken into Police Court for prosecution by the police? This was a question debated by the Council today when a resolution to that effect was introduced by Councilman J. V. Alexander.

Other Councilmen suggested a conference with Santa Fe officials to reach some adjustment regarding the speed of trains. Such a conference was asked by local Santa Fe officials, it was stated by Councilman McMullen. The Council agreed to meet the railroad company's representative and the time was fixed for 2 p.m. Wednesday.

Councilman Alexander's motion that the Santa Fe be compelled to stop all trains at Harasthy street and that for failure to do so the train crews be arrested and subjected to $1000 fine was seconded by Councilman Dowell.

Mayor Clark advised that a resolution would have no standing in court and that an ordinance would have to be adopted. Alexander then had his motion so worded that it would instruct the City Attorney to prepare such an ordinance. This was beaten by a four-to-one vote.

BAPTISTS WILL DEDICATE

Following Week of Special Services Now in Progress, Final Rites in New Church Will be Sunday

REDONDO BEACH, Jan. 27.—Following the week of special dedicatory services now in progress, formal dedication of the new First Baptist Church edifice, erected at the corner of Emerald and Elena streets here, will take place next Sunday, with many noted divines of the Southland participating.

DR. HAROLD E. DOTY

The week of services arranged by the pastor, Dr. Harold E. Doty, will encompass in a general way the varied branches of spiritual work to which the building is being dedicated. Tomorrow night's program will be devoted to sacred music, in which the Redondo Beach Choral Club and the Motet Choir of Pasadena will take part. On Wednesday the building will be dedicated to civic co-operation, followed by services to loyalty, youth and Christian education. Formal services have been set for 3 p.m. Sunday, with Dr. Otto S. Russell delivering the dedicatory sermon.

The building, valued at about $40,000, is of California architecture and is believed adapted to the needs of the congregation for a number of years to come. Fittings are most modern, with theater seats in the place of pews, and microphone fittings for the aid of the deaf. A thirty-foot tower commanding a view of the entire district is accessible as Sunday-school rooms in addition to those provided in the main body of the building.

Boy Steals Apple's Oranges On Pepper street Because They're Peaches

ALHAMBRA, Jan. 27.—Ira Apple of Pepper street is mad because the boys are stealing his oranges. He brought the culprit to the police station and the lad was warned to stay away from Pepper street and Mr. Apple's oranges in future.

The boy explained that he couldn't resist the Apple oranges because they were "peaches," but Apple remarked that he wasn't going to stand for any "applesauce" from boys who molested his Pepper-street oranges.

STATUS OF CHILDREN IN DOUBT

Montoya Offspring Again to Demand Admittance to Carpinteria School

SANTA BARBARA, Jan. 27.—Declaring that Atty.-Gen. U. S. Webb's ruling that Mexican children are Indians and may be segregated in special schools does not apply to the children of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Montoya, as both parents were born in the United States and are citizens, Attorney Emile Van Bever announced yesterday that he would have the children appear at the Carpinteria Union School and demand admittance some time this week. The two children are now attending a public school in Los Angeles, the attorney said.

The Attorney-General first ruled school officials could not segregate Mexican children but changed his decision on another petition from the Carpinteria school board claiming the Mexicans were Indians.

In the event the children are refused admittance, Van Bever said he would petition the Superior Court here for a writ of mandamus to force the school board to admit the children. As the question of the racial status of the children is considered most important in the Carpinteria school district, it is expected the legal battle will be carried into the Supreme Court of the State.

"Webb's ruling does not apply to the Montoya children, in my opinion," Van Bever declared. "Both of the parents were born in the United States and the children were born here. The parents are citizens of the United States and vote."

It is pointed out by members of the Carpinteria school board that American Indians also are born in the United States, but the California school law permits the establishment of special schools for them. In the last general election Indians were allowed to vote, thus giving them the status of citizens too, it is claimed.

Church Building Fund Initiated on Anniversary

HUNTINGTON PARK, Jan. 27.—Starting their campaign yesterday for raising funds for the erection of the proposed new church edifice here, the members of the First Baptist Church secured cash and pledges of more than $30,000. It is expected that within the next few weeks contract will be awarded and actual work on the new buildings started at the site at Clarendon and Rita streets, which is owned by the congregation, and which is now occupied by the small church structure erected twenty-five years ago.

While the congregation started its fund-raising campaign, the evening service was also devoted to a commemoration of its twenty-fifth anniversary. The church was formed in January, 1905, with eighteen charter members, three of whom are still residing in this city. They are Mr. and Mrs. Percy E. Gifford and J. Robert Benson. The present church building was dedicated September 24, 1905. Rev. Wallace Petty, first pastor, is now with the First Baptist Church in Pittsburgh. The anniversary sermon last night was delivered by Dr. W. W. Catherwood of Riverside, who was pastor of the church here from 1907 to 1910.

At this service an anthem, "Make a Joyful Noise," composed by Frederic Groton of this city, was rendered by the choir. This anthem was dedicated to Dr. Catherwood when he was pastor here.

Bandits Get $1700 from San Bernardino House

Manager and Clerk Forced to Open Safe for Them

No Apparent Clews to Their Identity Secured

SAN BERNARDINO, Jan. 27.—Without a single clew as to their identity, police today were hunting five youths, who last night, held up the manager and assistant of the California Theater and escaped with $1700 in cash.

The five youths, apparently novices in crime but yet carrying out orders of their chief, entered the theater after the last performance had begun. Two stood guard on the steps, one at a door, and two entered the offices of T. H. Williams, where they forced Williams and Pierce Fuller to open the safe.

The two bandits held handkerchiefs over their faces and, according to their victims, appeared to be extremely nervous. Both were armed and warned the theater managers that they would be killed if they disobeyed orders. The robbery over, the five youths slipped quietly out of the theater and drove away in an automobile, it is believed, but the police were unable to locate anyone who say the bandits escape.

Detailed descriptions of the youth in the hold-up were lacking, as they attracted little attention. The two who handled the guns, and appeared to be from 20 to 25 years of age, were well dressed and hatless.

A. C. Emery, New York Banker, to be Given Burial

PASADENA, Jan. 27—Funeral services for Archibald C. Emery, former president of the Hamilton National Bank of New York City, who died last night at his home, 1386 Orlando Road, will be held at 3:30 p.m. Wednesday at the residence, it was announced today. Emery was 62 years of age, and came here two wears ago from Montclair, N. J., after retiring from his New York bank post.

In 1910 he was made general purchasing agent of the Panama Pacific International Exposition at San Francisco. President Taft later appointed him a member of the commission to secure co-operation of European nations in the exposition.

In 1915 Mr. Emery went east to become associated with Thomas A. Edison as vice-president and general manager of the Edison interests.

During the World War he supervised production and manufacture of a large quantity of explosives, and following a year abroad, he became affiliated with the Hamilton Bank in which he remained active until his retirement.

Besides his wife, Mrs. Grace Hartley Emery, he leaves one daughter, Miss Elizabeth T. Emery, now travelling abroad, and a son, Robert K. Emery of this city. There are three sisters, Miss Bernice Emery of Los Angeles, Mrs. Charles B. Burnell of Los Angeles, and Mrs. John Worley of Long Beach, and two brothers, Earle and Frank Emery, both of Los Angeles.

Arrangements for the burial will be completed upon the return of Miss Elizabeth Emery from Europe.

New Alhambra Wine Tonic Ban in Effect Today

ALHAMBRA, Jan. 27.—Alhambra's new wine-tonic ordinance went into effect yesterday, but no one seemed to get hysterical about it.

However, the druggists are wondering if the new law, adopted to prevent the sale of wine tonics for beverage purposes, is going to ban Lydia Pinkham, Ton-A-Vin, Beef, Iron and Wine, and other patent medicines which have an alcoholic content. The ordinance, as it is written, is so all-inclusive that any medicinal preparation containing more than one-half of 1 per cent of alcohol and fit for use as a beverage (if the patient insists) cannot be sold except on a doctor's prescription.

Cigars, cosmetics, safety razors, ice cream sodas, sandwiches, hot-water bottles, cameras, toothbrushes and other similar merchandise may be the only legally salable products which may be handled in a drug store, according to one local druggist, who adds that the day may come when they'll be bootlegging Lydia herself.

City Attorney R. D. Wickham declares that the city had no intention of declaring war on anything but wine tonics when the ordinance was drawn. But Section 1 of the ordinance says: "The phrase 'wine tonics' shall mean and include any medicinal preparation containing one-half of 1 per cent or more alcohol by volume, which is fit to be used as a beverage."

The sale of wine tonics is legal in Alhambra now only if sold on a doctor's prescription.

PRESS JOURNEY TO MEXICO ENDS

Party Returns After Trip Lasting Sixteen Days

Many Places of Interest in Republic Encountered

Newspaper Group Glad to Be Back Home, However

BY OTIS HYMER

The special train of the California Press Association pulled in from Mexico City at 8:30 a.m. yesterday at Central Station, the Southern Pacific bringing back the 136 newspaper men and their wives with which it started sixteen days before. From reports of the editors as they alighted it appeared the trip was not too long to keep them busy seeing and learning all the time they were permitted to stop at the various places, but it was long enough to make them all heartily glad to get back home again. No excursion has had a better opportunity to bring back souvenirs from Mexico, and this party took full advantage of the privilege.

The dynamo-baggage car at the front of the train went down empty and they were invited to utilize it for any purchases they might make on the way. This car returned almost full of baskets, pottery, chairs, rugs and antiques enough to stock a first-class curio store.

INTERESTING PLACES

Leaving Mexico City Wednesday morning, the train made enough stops at interesting places to break the monotony of the ride, and to note the variation in personality of the several sections of the country. A few hours out of Mexico's capital a short stay was made at the village of Tule, where are remains of the Toltec occupation. The same day a leisurely tour was made through Queretaro, an old town inhabited largely by Indians rather unusued to tourists, a city not overly clean or hospitable, and having almost an entire lack of Europeans or Americans.

An overnight ride found the party next at Culiacan, capital of Sinaloa.

LIVE TOWNS

Saturday stops were made at Ciudad Obregon, seat of a rich agricultural district, and at Guaymas, where there is a live Chamber of Commerce, which entertained the guests with a boat ride, orchestra and dance, and with cocktails made from the oysters for which Guaymas is famous.

The good behavior of the party was rewarded by its being stopped for only a short time at the American side of Nogales, inspectors being satisfied with casual examination of its effects, and it reached Tucson Sunday noon. Only an hour was permitted in the Chamber of Commerce there to entertain the California delegation, but it was a most happy hour for the excursionists.

SPEECHES MADE

A three-hour stay in Phoenix gave ample time for a banquet at the Westward Ho Hotel which was ready on the arrival of the train at 6 p.m., and an hour of happy speechmaking. The hosts were the Chamber of Commerce and the Arizona Gazette and Republican. Judge Smith, president of the Chamber of Commerce, presided. For the city speeches were made by Charles Stauffer, publisher of the Republican, and News Editor Nickolls of the Gazette, and by Evan Lane, who presented the salient facts of the community and its resources, and by H. B. Watkins, Chamber of Commerce manager. F. J. Obrien of Chica, D. J. Reese of Ventura and ex-Gov. Richardson of Berkeley spoke for the visitors.

Mexico's Gains Told to Forum

Dr. C. N. Thomas, a former official of the Southern Pacific Railway in Mexico, told the forum of the City Club last night that while changes in Mexico, with its history of centuries of poverty and tragedy, are necessarily slow, there is an undoubted move for educational enlightenment and industrial betterment.

Dr. Thomas described the physical characteristics of the country and told of the vast undeveloped mineral and agricultural resources. Last year he made two extensive tours of the country, and in his talk compared the progress of the Mexican people with their condition as he knew it in years past.

BULLET MISSES ACTRESSES

Sally O'Neill and Sister in Close Call

SALLY O'NEILL and her sister, Molly O'Day, motion-picture actresses, narrowly missed death or injury Saturday night from a bullet fired by an unknown assailant it was revealed yesterday when their mother, Mrs. Gordon, asked Hollywood police to investigate the shooting.

According to Mrs. Gordon's report, her daughters were followed by an automobile as they drove away from their home at 252 Wetherly Drive. When they sought refuge in a parking station at Vine street and Selma avenue a bullet whizzed between their heads and plowed its way through the windshield of their car.

Miss O'Neill, police reported, gave a slightly different version of the mysterious shooting. She said she and her sister left their machine at the curb in front of the Brown Derby, a Vine-street restaurant, while they visited friends in a near-by apartment, and that when they returned they found the windshield had been shattered by a bullet.

Detective Lieutenant Taylor of Hollywood division was assigned to investigate.

POOR MEMORY HIDES "SEAL"

Witness in Sect Woman's Trial Tells of Seeing Divine Writings, But Can't Recall Single Word

A statement that he had read a divine document and an admission that he couldn't remember a word of what he had read yesterday featured the testimony of Hargison Fisher, defense witness at the trial of May Otis Blackburn, religious leader, before Superior Judge Fricke. Mrs. Blackburn is charged with grand theft.

Fisher was being questioned by Dep. Dist.-Atty. Ferguson on his recollection of "The Great Sixth Seal," a book, other witnesses have testified, that Mrs. Blackburn declared contained all of the secrets of the universe.

"Did you ever see the Great Sixth Seal?" Ferguson asked Fisher.

"Yes, sir," answered the witness, who formerly was a Portland (Or.) street-car man.

"Did you read any of it?"

"Yes, sir."

"And you think it was dictated by the angels, as Mrs. Blackburn says?"

"Well, I read enough to convince me that no human being could have written it," replied Fisher.

"Just tell us what you read," commanded the prosecutor.

Fisher figeted in his chair, but could not recall any of the text of "The Great Sixth Seal." He finally declared that it had something to do with minerals, but beyond that he was unable to give any facts.

"Just what made you think it was of divine origin?" asked Judge Fricke, when the prosecutor and the witness seemed to have reached a deadlock over the question.

"Well, Your Honor, I just sensed it," replied Fisher.

It developed that at times he was guided by "inner voices," but what they said to him was not revealed, Defense Attorney Cochran objecting seriously to that line of questioning.

Ferguson continued his cross-examination.

"What is your present occupation?" he asked.

"Well, I'm sitting in this chair right now," returned the witness.

When order was restored in the courtroom, Fisher finally testified that he worked on and off at various times on various jobs and that all of his pay checks were turned over to Mrs. Blackburn.

Fisher was on the witness stand all day yesterday and his cross-examination had not been completed when court adjourned.

Mrs. Lindbergh Goes Through New Air Paces

Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh spent a busy hour yesterday afternoon brushing up on her flying with her noted husband in the role of instructor.

The couple took up a Curtiss Fledgeling biplane training ship of the Curtiss-Wright Flying Service at Los Angeles Municipal Airport. For an hour Mrs. Lindbergh landed, took off, circled the field and landed again—completing nearly twenty hops while an admiring group of student pilots witnessed the lesson.

The election of J. L. Maddux, 49 Fremont Place, to the presidency of T.A.T.-Maddux Airlines pleased Col. Lindbergh, he stated last night. Maddux was selected in New York to head the transcontinental line as well as the western division. He is expected to return here within a few days.

Col. Lindbergh said his and Mrs. Lindbergh's new Lockheed monoplane is nearly ready to fly again, but that they have set no date for their trip to New York.

Long Beach Artisans' Rug Fit for King

An article conceived, designed and manufactured in Los Angeles county, displayed at the exposition of Seville and Barcelona, Spain, is a rug made by Mr. and Mrs. Walter Newman of Long Beach, carried by them in person as a gift to the King of Spain.

Mr. and Mrs. Newman, who have been stopping at Hotel Savoy, Madrid, since the closing of the expositions in December, last, declare that Spain is more interested in California than in any other part of the world. The natives in every city they visited besieged these American travelers with questions about raising oranges, about agricultural implements, educational methods and industrial and economic conditions in this State.

The Newmans, who sailed for New York from Gibraltar yesterday, created a sensation throughout Spain in their Pilgrim costumes which they wore at the Barcelona and Seville expositions and at a number of receptions given for them in these cities and at Madrid during November and December of 1929.

These costumes, made in Los Angeles by a world-famous costumer, are exact reproductions of the garb worn by the Pilgrim Fathers and Mothers when they landed on Plymouth Rock in 1620, a band of 102 "separatists" who came in the Mayflower to America to live according to the dictates of conscience.

El Noticiero, a newspaper of Seville, carried a story and a picture of them in their Pilgrim costumes and referred to their exhibit as "valuable and artistic," saying they were "North Americans wearing typical costumes of their country."

OWEN D. YOUNG'S FAMILY ARRIVES IN SOUTHLAND

Mrs. Young, wife of Owen D. Young, chairman of the board of directors of the General Electric Company and author of the Young plan for the restoration of financial stability in Europe, arrived in Los Angeles with her three children yesterday. The Young home is in New York and the party came by boat through the Panama Canal to San Diego and by motor to Los Angeles. In the party also is Miss Gertrude Chandler, financial secretary to Mr. Young.

Mr. Young remained in New York, but plans to come west the latter part of February. He is scheduled to make the founders' day address at the University of California at Berkeley in March. Mrs. Young, with her children, will remain in Los Angeles until the last of the week, when they will go to Chandler, Ariz., for the winter. This is the second time the family has come west for the winter. Miss Chandler will return to New York by the Transcontinental Air Transport-Maddux line Wednesday.

"We were so delighted with a brief visit to Arizona last year that we decided to make it our winter home every year," Mrs. Young asserted at the Ambassador shortly after her arrival. "It is about the closest to the ideal winter climate that we have ever experienced. I am somewhat getting tired of snow and ice.

"We drove up from San Diego in the rain and I have already caught the California spirit and I delighted in it. The children want to see something of the moving-picture industry at first hand and we also want to see the Huntington Library.

"There are also several thousand other things that we have read about that we want to see in California, but I am afraid we will not have the time. Henry M. Robinson has planned to take us through as much of the library as we can see in a day. We are all interested in books and pictures, as Mr. Young has a wonderful collection of rare volumes and paintings.

"Mr. Young has to be in New York, but otherwise we probably would live out here. If we could commute between here and New York it would be delightful. I have not been in Los Angeles since the San Diego Exposition in 1915 and, of course, the city has had a marvelous growth and change. The General Electric has arranged a car and chauffeur for us while we are here and we will see everything we can."

The children are Josephine, 22 years of age; Phillip, 19, and Richard, 10.

Caddy Works to Take 15 Players North Thursday Night for Two Games With Stanford Tossers

Still leading the standings in the southern division of the Pacific Coast Conference, despite the 16-to-33 setback received last Saturday night from Southern California, the U.C.L.A. basketball team began to prepare yesterday for a crucial two-game series with Stanford in Palo Alto on Friday and Saturday nights.

Carl Shy, stellar running guard who was out of the game against the Trojans with a bad case of influenza, will be able to turn out for practice Wednesday night, the night before the Westwood cagers entrain for Palo Alto. Caddy Works was doubtful yesterday as to whether Shy will be able to play in the Cardinal series.

CARL KNOWLES

The absence of Shy Saturday night was in a large measure responsible for the Bruins' poor showing, according to Works. "I think our boys were rather nervous at not having Carl with them in the game," Caddy said yesterday, "because he is one of the main cogs in the Bruin offensive. Davie Williams, Shy's substitute, played a nice defensive game, but he can't come up to Shy on the offense. The Trojans played a nice game in defeating us, and completely outplayed us, but on the other hand, I believe that we are capable of playing a much better game than we did Saturday night."

Shy is the best basket shot on the team, batting around .380, although he is not given as many opportunities to score. He is particularly effective against the man-to-man defense employed by the Thundering Herd cagers.

Coach Works is planning on taking fifteen players up to Palo Alto for the series, but less than half this number will get opportunities to play, in all probability. Of the same fifteen men who made the trip to Oakland to play California, only five got in the game, Capt. Larry Wilds, Dick Von Hagen, Carl Knowles, Carl Shy and Frank Lubin.

The fifteen Bruins who will leave for Northern California Thursday night are as follows: Forwards, Capt. Larry Wilds, Dick Von Hagen, Jimmy Soest, Dave Graham and Bill Gilbert; centers, Carl Knowles, Ted Palmer and Wilber; guards, Carl Shy, Frank (Whataman) Lubin, "Howie" Roberts, "Nifty" Hal Smith, Davie Williams and Carl Brown, captain of the 1929 Bruin football team.

Despite their defeat at the hands of the Trojans, the Bruins are still leading the league with two victories and one defeat for a percentage of .667. The two games with Stanford will close the series between the two schools. The Westwooders defeated the Cardinals by the overwhelming score of 63 to 30, in the season opener in the Los Angeles Olympic Auditorium, and will be favored to win from the Redshirts this week-end.

BAY CITY PROPOSES SPORTS COMMISSION

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 27. (Exclusive)—Andrew J. Gallagher, Supervisor, today urged upon the board the creation of an athletic commission for the city and county, the purpose being not only to supervise athletic contests of all kinds, but to spur them for the resultant publicity. The resolution, proposing an ordinance, was referred to committee.

CRABBE SEEKS WORLD RECORD

Buster Breaks Weissmuller Mark in Workout

L.A.A.C. Stages Big Aquatic Meet Next Friday

Miss Madison, Miss McKim in 220-Yard Swim Duel

C. L. (Buster) Crabbe, king of America's middle distance swimmers, sped through the waters of the Los Angeles Athletic Club plunge yesterday for 500 yards in time which was two seconds better than Johnny Weissmuller's world record of 5m. 47s.

BUSTER CRABBE

Buster was taking his daily workout under the direction of Fred Cady, who feels sure that the Honolulu boy will cut still further under Weissmuller's record at the big indoor water carnival to be held at the L.A.A.C. plunge Friday evening.

Crabbe's attempt for an official world's 500-yard record will be but one of the many features on Friday's program which will officially usher in the indoor swimming season for Southern California paddlers and fans.

Helen Madison, sensational Seattle schoolgirl swimmer, arrived yesterday for Friday's meet and was taken to the Ambassador pool for a workout by her coach, Ray Daughters. Miss Madison will meet Josephine McKim, petite University of Southern California co-ed and L.A.A.C. star, in a match 220-yard race Friday in an effort to lower Martha Norelius's world mark of 2m. 40 3-5s. Both Misses McKim and Madison are star furlong swimmers and both have come dangerously close to the world record in recent races. Miss McKim is to women's swimming what Crabbe represents in the men's division and now holds world records for the 440 and mile events. Like Crabbe she was individual high point winner of the 1929 outdoor championships, scoring 17 points in the women's meet as compared with 21 for Crabbe in the men's championships.

Many other events will be held Friday including a men's 100 yard free style race and a women's century between Miss Madison and Olive Hatch of the L.A.A.C., now one of America's leading sprint swimmers.

The national champion L.A.A.C. divers, Georgia Coleman, Mickey and Johnny Riley and Dutch Smith, will also be on Friday's program. Ralph J. Scott, Los Angeles fire chief, has accepted the invitation extended by Swimming Commissioner Morrison Egbert and will act as honorary referee.

Gorilla Jones Finishes Grove

NEW YORK, Jan. 27. (AP)—Gorilla Jones, Akron (O.) negro middleweight, knocked out Izzy Grove of New York in the seventh round of their ten-round bout at the St. Nicholas Arena here tonight. Jones weighed 156½; Grove, 157½.

Jones floored the New Yorker four times before the knockdown that ended the fight. A good hitter with either hand, Jones slammed Grove all around the ring and had the New Yorker holding on after the third round. In this session Grove went down for a count of nine.

After taking terrific punishment in the fourth session Grove went down again in the fifth for a count of five. He was floored again in the sixth round and claimed he had been fouled, but Referee Tommy Sheridan disallowed his claim.

He went down twice in the seventh round and was counted out as he tried to persuade the referee that he had been hit low.

Tony Vacarella, New York welterweight, outpointed Steve Gotch of Brooklyn in the ten-round semi-final. Vacarelli weighed 150½; Gotch, 154½.

S.C. Riflemen in Matches

Rifle shooting, assuming in the last year considerable importance in intercollegiate competition, will be a prominent minor sport at the University of Southern California this season, according to General Manager Gwynn Wilson, who announced yesterday that twenty-six leading college rifle squads of the country will be met by the Trojan marksmen during the spring months.

Ohio State, Amherst, Texas A. and M., Texas U., New York U., Oregon, Cornell, Carnegie Tech, Nebraska, Stanford and other well-known institutions with strong rifle teams are on the list of Trojan opponents and will be met in a series of telegraphic shoots.

LA COSTE CURED OF ILLNESS

French Net Star Ready for International Play Once More

BY TED VOSBURGH
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Jan. 27. (AP)—Rene La Coste, the most machine-like of the great French tennis stars, is entirely cured of the illness that kept him out of the Davis Cup challenge round last year and is planning another international campaign this season, reports no less an authority than big Bill Tilden.

RENE LA COSTE

The American champion, now playing in the tournaments along the Riviera, writes in the current issue of American Lawn Tennis that far from retiring from the game La Coste expects to play in the French and English championships again and to take his old place on the tricolor Davis Cup team.

from retiring from the game Lacoste expects to play in the French and English championships again and to take his old place on the tricolor Davis Cup team.

This is the most reassuring news of La Coste received since last summer when a stubborn cold bordering on influenza prevented him from playing at Wimbledon and then kept him out of the Franco-American battle for the Davis Cup. Complications followed. La Coste spent some time in a sanatorium and many felt that his court career had come to an untimely end.

Tilden said Alain Gerbault, veteran tennis player and lone ocean navigator, and the English tennis expert, A. Wallis Myers, were the sources of his information that La Coste is now himself again.

With La Coste and Cochet once more heading the French defense forces, the task ahead of the United States and other challenging nations becomes increasingly difficult, Big Bill points out.

Incidentally, Tilden announced himself "annoyed" that his name was included on the list of Davis Cup squad members issued some weeks ago and repeated emphatically that he will not be available for the United States team.

Tilden says further that the French are working to bolster their team in doubles.

It was in the doubles last year that the Americans made their most impressive showing against the defenders, Johnny Van Ryn and Wilmer Allison defeating Henri Cochet and Jean Borotra in straight sets.

UNIVERSITY PRESIDENTS WILL DISCUSS QUESTION

Heads of Coast Conference Schools to Meet in San Francisco for Confab on Athletics

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 27. (AP)—A meeting of the presidents of the ten universities and colleges affiliated with the Pacific Coast Conference will be held here February 1 at which time the subject of athletics, principally football, will be gone into thoroughly, it was learned today by the Associated Press.

From sources considered authoritative, it was learned that a proposition to abolish east-west and other intersectional football games may come up for discussion.

The meeting was called by President Lyle Spencer of the University of Washington. Owing to illness during the last seven weeks, President W. W. Campbell of the University of California will not be able to attend. He will be represented by Thomas M. Putnam, dean of men.

The conference embraces Washington, California, Stanford, University of Southern California, Oregon State College, Idaho, Montana, University of Oregon, Washington State College, and the University of California at Los Angeles.

VON KLEINSMID DOES NOT EXPECT DRASTIC ACTION

Dr. R. B. Von KleinSmid, president of the University of Southern California stated last night that he "did not anticipate any drastic action" on the part of Coast Conference presidents in the meet scheduled for next Saturday at San Francisco.

"The meeting has been called by Dr. Spencer of Washington," declared Dr. Von KleinSmid, "and I expect that we will probably discuss a number of matters. I know that there has been some agitation in favor of limiting the number of athletic contests to be played by members of freshman teams. Athletics will undoubtedly be discussed, but there are also other matters to come to our attention, such as entrance requirements, etc."

Asked if he anticipated any discussion of the Carnegie report on football, Dr. Von KleinSmid's reply was "No."

"I do not look for any drastic action in connection with athletic matters," said the Trojan president.

ROMAN CAGERS NOSE OUT POLY

L. A. High Wins Tough Battle in Overtime, 35-33

Coach Ralph Jesson's Polytechnic Mechanics came dangerously close to providing the prize upset of the City League basketball season yesterday, the Los Angeles High cagers nosing them out, 35 to 33, only after a five-minute overtime period. The game was played in the Romans' gym and witnessed by a house full of fans that came to see a lop-sided tilt but saw, instead, a clash chockful of thrills.

COACH HEMSATH

Trailing by a 25-to-17 score as the fourth quarter started, the Mechanics, led by Lyons, staged an exciting rally that enabled them to take a 30-to-28 lead with but five seconds remaining to play. Those five seconds, however, proved just enough time for the Romans to tie the score, Laird, taking the ball out of bounds under the Poly basket, heaving it the length of the court where Nemer was waiting. Nemer plunked in the set-up shot just as the gun boomed to end the game.

Fighting desperately, the Mechanics took a 3-point lead in the overtime period on Lyons's field goal and Apperson's free throw. But the Romans still had a rally left in their systems, Laird's free toss, Capt. Nelson's field goal from the corner of the court, again knotting the count. Laird then got the tip-off and shot the ball three-quarters of the length of the court, the casaba slipping through the net for the winning basket.

The victory cinched second

OAKLAND PUCK CHASERS DEFEAT LOS ANGELES, 2-0

Oakland hockey players increased their lead in the California League race last night by defeating the Los Angeles Richfield Oilers, 2 to 1, at the Winter Garden Ice Palace. The Oakland team scored in the second and third periods while the Oilers were unable to break through at any time for a tally. The first period of the clash was scoreless, both teams battling it out tooth and nail. A number of penalties were called in the opening session because of fouls committed by the rival players in their anxiousness to score.

Bud Cook broke through for the first goal of the game in the second period. Cook bounced the puck into the net when the period had but four minutes to go. The Oilers put on a desperate rally but were unable to even the count.

In the third period Art Giroux scored after one minute of play. From that point on in the Oakland team coasted, doing nothing but defensive playing. Hec Fowler, goalie of the Oakland team, was outstanding. His work around the net was almost perfect. Phil Steven, captain of the winning team, also turned in a very neat performance. Birge Irving stood out for the Oilers.

WALKER AND NEW YORK BOARD MAY MAKE PEACE

NEW YORK, Jan. 27. (AP)—The New York State Athletic Commission is scheduled to consider tomorrow the case of Mickey Walker, middleweight champion, with the chances great that the 160-pound king will make peace with the solons and defend his crown against Rene de Vos, Belgian challenger, in Madison Square Garden March 14.

Walker, suspended here three years ago for failure to defend his title in the specified time limit, aggravated his offense by failing to appear before the commission when summoned. He has not fought in New York State since winning the middleweight crown from the late Tiger Flowers at Chicago in 1926. Walker's title was declared vacant last year by the National Boxing Association for inactivity, despite his defense of it against Ace Hudkins in Los Angeles last October.

One of the terms of reconciliation is that Walker shall meet De Vos here on a charity card. A recent

La Barba Choice Over Torres in Main Fistic Event at Olympic Auditorium Tonight

EX-FLYWEIGHT KING FAVORED

Young Puncher Has Chance to Upset Veteran

Fidel in Great Shape for Featherweight Go

Gordon Will Make Debut in Semifinal Battle

BY KAY OWE

Fidel La Barba faces the hard-hitting Johnny Torres at the Olympic tonight. The ex-flyweight king is catching the young Mexican on a long winning streak.

FIDEL LA BARBA

Torres has not lost a battle in twenty-two starts. Twelve of these he won by knockouts. They were fights at small clubs, but the 21-year-old boy is highly keyed up for his major debut.

La Barba as he is right now a world's champion in form. He even looks better now than he did when he held the 112-pound championship of the world. And he is improved over his gait a year ago.

Since La Barba returned from Europe he has spent practically all his time in the mountains, winding up at Soper's Ranch. He is preparing himself for a year's champion—not just one fight.

LOST TO VACCA

However, George Blake and Fidel had one experience of underestimating a puncher. That was Johnny Vacca at Boston.

La Barba hit the deck four times that night and was lucky to finish. It gave Vacca an international reputation. Torres has the same opportunity tonight and he realizes it.

The Mexican is not fighting for the loser's end, but to get on top at a single jump.

The Olympic gave Torres a top spot back in 1928 against Young Nationalista. The Filipino knocked Torres down with the first punch and finished him shortly after. Nationalista knocked La Barba down with the first punch of their fight, but Fidel got up and won.

Torres has had more experience now and is more mature at 21 than he was nearly two years ago. He has a lot of confidence and plans to try to win early with a kayo.

If Torres should connect like Vacca did he would upset plans now budding for a La Barba-Bud Taylor bout on February 25. Taylor is here and Eddie Long is due in a few days from Chicago.

The La Barba-Taylor match was signed over a year ago. Bad breaks first with one and then the other kept it postponed indefinitely.

Torres has the support of "Little Mexico" in his bid for high honors tonight. He is a short-ender in the betting.

IN GREAT FORM

Probably nobody rates with Fidel on form today outside the Kid Chocolates and Earl Mastros. La Barba would even be a favorite over Battling Battalino, now recognized as the featherweight champion.

Al Gordon, the Philadelphia southpaw who has frightened off several top-notchers, makes his debut in the semi under La Barba and Torres. Critics assert he rates with Cecil Payne, Eddie Mack and Joey Sangor in caliber.

Rita Punay, Filipino, is paired with Gordon. The weight is 135 pounds. The distance is six rounds.

Teddy Palacios and Freddie Welch, another team of lightweights, box the special event. The two fours are Johnny Jordan vs. Cliff McArdle and Dick McDaniels vs. Jess Vasquez.

Jordan is subbing for Jimmy Mack. The latter was in an automobiel accident and injured.

La Barba and Torres are expected to weigh in at 125 pounds. Torres was in the best shape of his career when he finished training yesterday at the Main-street gymnasium.

in home runs, to place second in his circuit in driving in runs, and fifth in scoring runs. And all this while 35 years of age, and in his sixteenth major league season! I certainly believe that Babe is good for three or four more seasons, and I feel that even though the Colonel has some good arguments on his side, he should give in this time and meet the Bambino's demands.

You see, I'm very generous with Jake Ruppert's do-re-mi! But then, he'll have his stadium and his ball club long after Ruth has nothing but his records, so give the little boy a big check, Jake, give the little boy a big check! Yes, eighty-five grand!

PAIR OF SOCCER CLASHES ON TAP

Two exceptionally good City League soccer football games will be played at Loyola Field Sunday with interest back in league play until the second round of the California cup series opens. In Sunday's feature game the league-leading Hollywood Sheiks will be called upon to defend their first-place spot against the L.A.A.C. Mercuries, now in second place. Two more good teams, the Magyars and Spanish-Americans, open the bill. At the Pasadena Rose Bowl a revamped Richfield eleven meets the Scots in the opener while the Pasadena A.C.C. squad opposes the Sons of St. George at 3 o'clock. Five teams remain in the State cup running—Hollywood, L.A.A.C., Magyars, Scots and Richfield.

RABBIT PUNCHES
By PAUL LOWRY

LUCK FOR DEMPSEY

THE event of the week in fistic circles will be the second American appearance of Primo Carnera, the man mountain from Italy.

This holds more than passing interest for local fans because Signor Carnera is fighting under the auspices of Promoter Jack Dempsey at the Chicago Coliseum.

After dropping dough on every match he has touched since entering the Chicago field Dempsey looks like a cinch to connect next Friday.

The enormous size of Carnera, plus his easy conquest of Big Boy Peterson at New York last week, should sell out the Windy City stadium.

That will be sweet music to the old Manassa Mauler's ears because the profit-and-loss column shows a $40,000 "red" toll for Dempsey since he started operations last October. ago.

Recently, his matchmaker, Ray Alvis, quit him because there was no money in the job and managing box fighters appeared to be more lucrative.

Some say Dempsey will soon sing his swan song at Chicago. That he has eyes on Los Angeles as a promotional center. This is interesting reading, but Dempsey will find it just as hard to break in here as at Chicago.

However, the Carnera bout with Elzear Rioux will make Dempsey some money provided he hasn't thrown it all away in guarantees, and he may sweeten again on Chicago.

It's certain he can't do any worse there than here. Undoubtedly the Manassa Man has discovered by this time that for him there is more in a name as a fighter than promoter.

There was only one Jack Dempsey, the fighter.

There was only one Tex Rickard, the promoter.

Neither had the ability to follow in the other's footsteps.

THE CAMPBELL CASE

IT BEGINS to look as if Mr. Frankie Campbell, the rejuvenated heavyweight from San Francisco, is in for a much tougher time at Hollywood Friday night than has hitherto been his portion in this city.

Mr. Dutch Meyers, manager of Ernie Owens, who seeks a fight with Campbell, declares he was misquoted or misunderstood about the Owens engagement with Benny Ross, who is Campbell's opponent at the Legion Stadium.

Mr. Meyers denies that Owens flattened Ross, and so does Mr. Owens. That makes it unanimous.

Owens admits that he fought Ross, but that he had a hard time dragging down the decision two years ago.

An inspection of the available record books fails to show any "knocked-out-by" notations under Ross's name. In other words the gent appears to be one capable of stepping right along. He stuck it out ten rounds with Jock Malone, Tommy Loughran and Young Stribling. He lost to these fighters, but he was not knocked out, and he is said to have floored Loughran in his match with the tall Philadelphian back in 1928.

Mr. Gene Doyle, the genial sentiment accelerator of the Hollywood Stadium, also rises to arms over the Ross matter.

"Say," he exploded, "you don't think Tom Gallery would send all the way to Buffalo for a Campbell set-up?

"He even went to the trouble to look up Owens and find out just how good Ross is with the gloves.

"Jack Laken, manager of Cecil Payne, also put in a good work for Ross.

"Gallery has a lot of critical customers to satisfy at Hollywood, and he can't afford to put in pushovers for Tom, Dick and Harry managers."

There you are, folks. The evidence is in.

Campbell has bowled over some easy ones around here, but he's on his last legs with that type of opposition.

He has scored ten straight knockouts—six of them locally.

If Benny Ross is the eleventh Friday night Tom Gallery will be the first to shelve Campbell as a main eventer if he insists on imported foes.

Hollywood brought Joe Bitto to the fore last week, and there are other tough local fistic gents who are only too willing to trade blows with Campbell.

Gallery will insist on Campbell facing some of these chaps if he wants to fight further at Hollywood.

A TERRIBLE SHOCK

SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA'S rather unexpected victory over U.C.L.A. the other night sent the Westwood boys home in mourning. Their mouths, were all watery in anticipation of avenging that horrible 76-to-0 licking on the gridiron last fall, and the story is even told of a new victory song that had been composed for the occasion.

It's a sad tale—the outcome the other night—and needs no repeating here, but there is one consolation for the Bruins that wasn't available during the gridiron season.

There's another hoop game with the Trojans coming up during the current-season and unless I miss my guess it will be the red-hottest scramble that was ever staged in the city.

The Shrine Auditorium was anything but a tomb the other night, and next time it is likely to resemble a howling madhouse.

AMATEUR EXPLAINS PUTTING CURE

Pennington Miller-Jones Tells of Curing Temper to Aid in Sinking Putts; Smashing of Club Enabled Star to Drop Pellet in Cup from Any Distance

BY PENNINGTON MILLER-JONES

One of the East's Leading Amateur Stylists

(Copyright, 1930, by The North American Newspaper Alliance)

(This is the thirteenth of a series of articles written by famous amateur and professional golfers, telling how they overcame outstanding faults in their play.)

My greatest weakness? I don't know. I have so many. But I think the greatest fault I had to overcome was poor putting.

I remember distinctly an incident when I was in Mexico. Golf was just becoming popular in Mexico City when I went there with my family. I was an atrocious putter. Of course, the natives, watching me belt tee shots and long irons, thought there was nothing wrong with my game, but I knew differently.

I recall a day before the tournament when I was playing a practice round and putting slightly worse than usual, if that were possible. I had just sent a smacking fine iron to the eighteenth green, and had a short putt for a birdie. The ball skidded past the cup and there was a one-footer left for a par. I turned to my caddy and said, "If I miss this shot I am going to smash the putter."

The ball again slipped by the can, and I cracked the shaft over my knee and threw the wreckage to the caddy, saying, "Maybe you can use this thing better than I can."

I related the incident to my brother-in-law, who not only thought I was silly, but insisted upon my retrieving the putter from the caddy. I sought out the urchin, swapped a spoon for the badly smashed putter and took it to the shop, where a cheap shaft was affixed.

That club proved my most faithful friend. I haven't another club in my bag that I possessed at the time I wrecked that putter. Perhaps it is mental, but I know I never could putt as well before I smashed that club as I have since. And I have learned that smashing shafts is not only expensive, but a display of ill temper which is unbecoming to one who desires to compete in tournaments and professes to play for the fun of the game.

The good nature of a saint would be tried by missing those little putts, but we have to put up with it, I guess. It may seem that I haven't really told how I overcame that weakness of mine on the greens. The point I particularly want to make clear is that the mental outlook has more to do with sinking putts than anything else.

You know that on some days the cup looks big, and you feel that you simply can't miss. Other times the can is about the size of a buttonhole, and even the one-footers roll by. So my belief is that if you can develop a feeling of confidence it is even more important than the stance or the method of stroking.

Breaking that old putter of mine did something to my viewpoint. I can putt well now and I couldn't before. That seems to me to be quite enough. I don't advise you to break your putter, but you may find some equally successful psychological impulse.

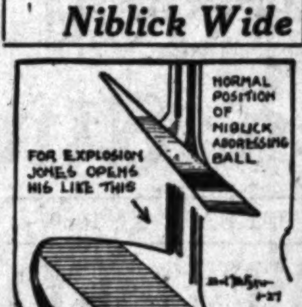
HOWARD LIKELY TO RUN FOR OXY

Indications are that Cece Howard, crack track and field athlete at Occidental College, will change his early semester decision and compete for the Tigers on the oval this year. About four weeks ago he announced definitely that he would not perform on the oval, but last Saturday ran in the 100-yard dash of the annual interclass meet at Patterson Field. Howard would bolster the Bengals no little bit, especially as the Oxy squad is lacking in material in this particular event.

Jones Opens Face of His Niblick Wide



NORMAL POSITION OF NIBLICK ADDRESSING BALL
FOR EXPLOSION JONES OPENS HIS LIKE THIS

BY SOL METZGER

For an explosion from a sand trap Bobby Jones opens the face of his niblick as shown in the illustration. There are two reasons for this. The first and foremost concerns the greater angle the club face is thus made to take. In other words, Bobby wants to make sure that his ball will rise rapidly.

The secondary reason is that in so opening the club he places it in such position that its sharp heel, rather than the full length of the longer lower edge of the blade, plows through the sand. Less resistance is therefore encountered.

The pivot is the least understood phase in golf instruction. Sol Metzger has prepared a leaflet on the pivot which he will gladly send to any reader requesting it. Inclose a stamped, addressed envelope.

Ross Here for Campbell Bout

Benny Ross, Buffalo heavyweight, arrived in Los Angeles this morning and will take his first workout this afternoon for his fight with Frankie Campbell at the Hollywood American Legion stadium Friday night. Ross has never fought in California but is well known among eastern boxing men as he has fought Young Stribling, Tommy Loughran, Jock Malone, nationally known fighters, and went the limit. He had Loughran on the floor in a six-round fight at Buffalo.

The semi-wind-up fighters are Tommy McGough, New York bantam, and Jackie Caston, Seattle lad who was matched to meet Speedy Dado in a main event at Hollywood two weeks ago, but the fight was called off when Dado injured one of his hands. McGough has won two fights at Hollywood and is trying to work into a main event.

Frankie Diaz, Mexican lightweight and a good puncher, battles a newcomer in Bert Lamb in the six-round special. Diaz is a youngster and so far has been one of the best preliminary boys at the stadium. The four-rounders are Nifty Gonzales fighting John Spencer in the second spot. They are lightweights, and Mickey McLaughlin fights Ralph Armando in the curtain-raiser. They are welterweights.

ILLINOIS BOARD TO WAGE LEGAL FIGHT WITH MICKEY

SPRINGFIELD (Ill.) Jan. 27. (AP) The Illinois State Athletic Commission will wage a legal battle to force Manager Jack Kearns and Mickey Walker, middleweight champion, to pay a $10,000 forfeit to the Shriners' hospital for crippled children at San Francisco.

Before agreeing to allow Walker to meet Tommy Loughran for the light-heavyweight championship here last year, the Illinois commission forced Kearns to post a $10,000 forfeit with the California commission, guaranteeing that Walker would defend his title at Los Angeles, preferably against Ace Hudkins. Walker failed to meet Hudkins within the time limit and the Illinois commission ordered the California body to pay the $10,000 to the Shriners' hospital. Manager Kearns stopped the order by gaining a temporary injunction.

First Assistant Attorney-General William E. Trautman of Illinois is on his way to Sacramento to represent the State commission, seeking payment of the forfeit money.

GOLFERS PREPARING FOR TEXAS TOURNEY

SAN ANTONIO, Jan. 27. (AP)—With two days more for practice rounds for the ninth annual Texas open golf tournament, the Brackenridge Park municipal course, battleground for the $7500 in prizes, was dotted with players today playing out their best strokes. A young amateur of San Antonio, Jimmy Vincent, turned in the best score, 69.

Among those on the links was Bobby Cruickshank, the wee Scot from Purchase, N. Y., who won the Texas open three years ago. Bobby shot a 71 today.

SCOTT OFF TODAY FOR MIAMI CLASH

NEW YORK, Jan. 27. (AP)—Phil Scott, British heavyweight who meets Jack Sharkey at Miami, Fla., February 27, will leave for the southland tomorrow to start training. He will be accompanied by his English manager, Charlie Rose, and a trainer, Eddie Johnston, brother of Jimmy Johnston, his American manager.

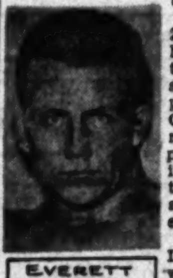
CLINE WHIPS ATKINSON

KANSAS CITY, Jan. 27. (AP)—Johnny Kline of Los Angeles outpointed Billy Atkinson of Scammon, Kan., in a ten-round bout here tonight. They are middleweights. Cline won five rounds, Atkinson one and four were even, newspaper men decided.

MARSHALL STILL SANS OPPONENT

Two Mat Stars Turn Down Bout With Youngster

Promoter Lou Daro was still without an opponent for Everett Marshall, the new young mat sensation, yesterday.



EVERETT MARSHALL

The young 210-pounder has been signed to top the all-star mat card planned for the Olympic, February 5, but the promoter is finding it harder than ever to get a worthy opponent for him.

Ed (Strangler) Lewis, former world's champion, has already turned down offers for the match. Another mat star who sought the bout failed to sign to meet the airplane spin exponent.

Offers to several other mat stars have been sent out by Promoter Daro, and he expects to get a favorable reply from ont of them today.

Dr. Karl Sarpolis, the flying body scissor exponent who held Dick Daviscourt to a draw here several weeks ago, and who had to return to the Northwest for two other matches after his local battle, was one of those sent an offer for the Marshall battle.

Another was Charley Hanson, 200-pound "Omaha whirlwind," a veteran who has met and beaten many of the best wrestlers in the game. Hanson is a pupil of old Farmer Burns, and is rated as one of the fastest of his weight in the game. He recently defeated several of the big top-notchers to earn a title battle with Champion Gus Sonnenberg. He gave the title-holder a hard, close battle, according to reports received here.

place in the City League standings for Coach Happy Hemsath's Los Angeles High quintet. Provided Jefferson can upset Lincoln today the Romans will wind up in a triple tie for the title with the Tigers and Democrats.

In the preliminary affair Coach (Cop) Mahoney's league-leading Poly lightweights advanced a notch nearer the Class B championship by drubbing the Los Angeles High midgets, 24-to-17. The Mechanics cinched the game early, running up a 16-to-6 lead in the first half and coasting to victory.

Snow Carnival Goes Over Big

All attendance records for Camp Seeley, the Los Angeles municipal mountain playground, were broken over the past week-end when the camp was the scene of the first winter sports carnival of the season, the city Playground and Recreation Department announced yesterday, when trophies were presented to winners of sports events at the carnival.

Many Southern Californians enjoyed their first experience in the snow on this occasion, and at the same time witnessed the performance of some of the leading ski-jumpers in the Southwest. Results of the principal contests on the carnival program are:

Expert ski jump—Olaf Rosenberg, Rolf Gilbertsen, Fego Dorge, Haakon Nore, D. J. Murphy, A. Brodahl, Erik Solem, and J. C. Hansen, placed in the order named. Winning point score, 178½ with no falls.

Longest standing ski jump—Olaf Rosenberg. Distance, 87ft.

Perfect standing ski jump for hill record (exhibition)—Eric Solem. Distance, 90ft.

CELEBRITIES VISIT OLYMPIC FISH BOAT

HERMOSA BEACH, Jan. 27.—With quite an array of sport and political notables spending the week-end on the Olympic fishing barge, angling once more took an upward movement. Commissioner Frank Shaw of Los Angeles and John Tappell, commander of Post 883 Veterans of Foreign Wars, spent most of their time pulling in the crab traps and were rewarded with over fifty of the claw-legged table delicacies. Jack Sherlock, who went from the Coast League to the Philadelphia Nationals recently, joined with Red Killefer, manager of the San Francisco Mission Reds, in pulling in mackerel and sole by the sackful.

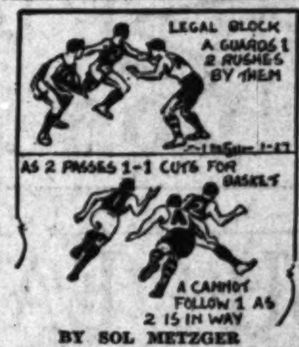
Block Play Discussed



LEGAL BLOCK A GUARDS 1 2 RUSHES BY THEM
AS 2 PASSES 1-1 CUTS FOR BASKET
A CANNOT FOLLOW 1 AS 2 IS IN WAY

BY SOL METZGER

The block play, like the screened forward pass in football, may be either legal or illegal. It depends upon how it is worked. Merely because intentional block plays are barred is no reason why certain others cannot be legal.

Here's a common one in basketball that is used everywhere. In an attempt to break through the defense, forward No. 1 will rush down a side line. His opponent guard, A, will place himself between No. 1 and the basket.

As they reach this position No. 2, No. 1's teammate, rushes past this pair on the court side. He is entitled to do so and, unless covered, would take the pass. If No. 2 is covered, No. 1 breaks by No. 2 as the latter runs by. A, No. 1's opponent, cannot immediately follow, as No. 2 has not quite cleared him. Thus the pass is made to No. 1. This is the move that is the basis for all successful block plays on attack.

Club Fives to Mix Tomorrow

The Hollywood and Los Angeles Athletic Club basketball quintets are all set today for their crucial game to be played at the downtown club gymnasium tomorrow evening. This game will decide the leader of the first round of the Southern California A.A.U. League and interest is at a high pitch over the outcome.

Both teams are undefeated to date in A.A.U. competition, both having won three straight games. Hollywood looked impressive in its 38-to-31 victory over the strong Pacific Coast Club, while other victories were scored against the San Diego A.C. and Elks Club quintets. The Mercuries have defeated the Elks, San Diego and the Central Y.M.C.A. in straight games and won against San Diego by ten more points than did Hollywood.

Winter Sports Events Carded

A 58-year-old father, who taught his three sons the none-too-gentle art of ski-jumping, will attempt to instruct them in a few more fine points of the game at Big Pines this week-end when the Los Angeles Junior Chamber of Commerce stages its fourth annual winter sports carnival.

The aged expert is Carl Rosenberg, who has been aviating on the elongated barrel staves for more than forty years, and he has entered the competition against his three stalwart sons, Olaf, Leif and Allan. Among the other competitors for the title are several internationally famous stars including Jack Hanson, former international champion; Fred Dorge, the Norwegian expert; Halvord Bjorngaard, known as the greatest stylist alive today; Sigurd Wathne, president of the local Viking Club, who was decorated by the King of Norway for his performance at Holmenkollen, where the world's largest tournament is staged; and a number of similar performers.

An ice hockey game between the California Bears and the S. C. Trojans, a "mutt" dog derby for youthful mushers, cross-country racing on skis and snow-shoes, tobogganing, an ice gymkhana, fancy skating and the other usual ice and snow sports have been carded by Chairman Dan Hay for the three-day carnival which starts officially Friday morning.

COAST CUE CHAMPION OPENS PLAY WITH WIN

PORTLAND (Or.) Jan. 27. (AP)—Monrad C. Wallgren of Everett, Wash., former world's champion and present Pacific Coast title-holder, opened the Pacific Northwest amateur 18-2 balk-line billiard championship tournament here today by defeating Peter Kleinschmidt, Seattle, 250 to 81. Wallgren ran out in thirty-five innings, averaging 7.15 per inning.

The former world's champion had a high run of 48, scored in the eighth inning. He completed the match with an unfinished run of 34. His two spectacular masse shots were the feature of the contest.

G. Raymond Collins, president of the National Billiard Association, is supervising the tournament.

Payne Sought for Chicago Go

Cecil Payne, Kentucky's sensational junior lightweight, who is the Pacific Coast title-holder, is wanted back in Chicago. Payne, who is going to the Pasadena Arena Thursday night to take on Dud Eades, Crown City's pride, has received an offer from Jack Dempsey in the Windy City.

Dempsey wants to send Benny Bass against the Kentucky boy, with Bass's recently won junior lightweight crown as the stake in a big Chicago feature. Payne has the offer still under consideration.

Meanwhile, Cecil can look forward to a mighty busy evening Thursday at the Pasadena Arena, for this boy Eades is no slouch of a fighter and may pull the big surprise of the fistic year. Out of forty-two fights Eades has lost but six and he has wins over such boys as Mike Watters, Young Peter Jackson, Tony Escalante and many others. Eades has a deceptive style and a thousand different grimaces. He is fearless and a rushing fool when he is stung.

Payne right now is the hottest attraction in Southern California, due to his two wins over Goldie Hess at the Olympic.

CALIFORNIA BALL NINE TO PLAY ALUMNI TEAM

BERKELEY, Jan. 27. (Exclusive) Losing no time in making ready to defend the State College Baseball Association title which Carl Zamloch won last season, Coach Clint Evans of the University of California baseball varsity today announced a practice game for Saturday afternoon with Ted Webb's California alumni.

Each season Webb is given over to collecting a group of the best known ex-California players, and meeting with the California varsity. The contest promises to be a genuine early season test of the talents of the 1930 Bear varsity. Today some thirty varsity men went through a program of light batting, fielding and throwing practice.

Evans has succeeded Zamloch as coach on account of the latter's manager-ownership of the Oakland club of the Pacific Coast League.

Lincoln, Jefferson Clash Today

TIGERS PICKED TO TAKE GAME

Chance of Upset Considered Very Unlikely

Pandra, Guttero and Riggs Expected to Star

Manual Favored to Defeat Franklin Five

BY IRVING ECKHOFF

Assured of no worse than a tie for the Major City League basketball championship, Coach Pop Bates's Lincoln High Tigers tackle the strong Jefferson Democrats in the headline game of the last round of play today.

"POP BATES"

The Tigers will be playing on their floor this afternoon and are heavy favorites to defeat Coach "Ching" Duhm's Democrats.

However as upsets have been recorded before in basketball, it is not without the realm of possibility for the Jefferson team to turn the tables on Lincoln today.

If the Tigers' defense should fail to stop Paul Schweinfurth, the Democrats' demon [illegible] shooter, an upset is very likely to happen. But it is believed that the Tigers will stop Schweinfurth as cold or colder than did the L. A. High Romans last week.

On the other hand, Bates has three dead shots on his first string, and if Jefferson manages to keep one covered, either one of the remaining two will take the shots. The trio are Lee Guttero, center; Billy Pandra, forward, and [illegible] Riggs, forward.

Guttero's best work comes under the basket, his height giving him quite an edge from that position. Pandra is the best dribbler and [illegible] shot, while Riggs is [illegible] behind him.

Besides these three, Bates has Bob Fenton, a guard, who takes a dip at the basket occasionally and makes a high percentage of his shots.

Navarette, the other Tiger guard, is just as big as Guttero. His work this season makes him stand out as one of the best defensive men in the circuit.

The other game scheduled for this afternoon brings together Manual Arts at Franklin.

The Toilers are picked to win as the Panthers haven't showed much in a basketball way all season.

The season will close Thursday afternoon, when the final game, which was postponed from last Friday, is to be played. The contest will find Manual Arts at Poly. The outcome is a toss-up. Poly showed surprising strength yesterday by holding the Romans to a close score and may upset the Condition of Joe Cantillon is Unchanged

HICKMAN (Ky.) Jan. 27. (AP)—Physicians reported little change in the condition of Joe Cantillon today, but marveled at the hidden strength with which he has held off the fatal effects of the stroke which laid him low.

Just once since the turn for the worse Sunday has he regained consciousness and then holding himself straight up in bed, he tried to tell a story about Rube Waddell, but his paralyzed throat refused to shape the words and he lapsed again into a coma.

Cantillon served as manager of a number of clubs, umpire in different leagues, scout and player. He spent forty-six of his sixty-four years in baseball, starting with the Green Bay club of the Wisconsin League in 1884. He managed the Oakland [illegible] club at one time.

SAGECHICK FIVE ENJOYING REST

CLAREMONT, Jan. 27.—Coach [illegible] Heath and his Pomona College yearling outfit will continue to take things rather easy for the next week as they do not encounter any conference outfits until a week from Saturday when they clash with the first-year men from California in a preliminary game to the Pomona varsity-Occidental tilt at Claremont. The Pomona yearlings have a very clever little forward in [illegible] Cross, who hails from Redlands. Cross is rather small but is exceedingly fast and has played basketball since he was knee high to a snake's hips.

PETE LATZO BEATEN BY BILLY JONES

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 27. (AP)—Billy Jones, Philadelphia negro, won the decision over Pete Latzo, Scranton, Pa., in a free hitting ten-round event at the arena tonight. Latzo, former holder of the welterweight crown, weighed 175 1-4 and Jones 173.

Tonight's bout was Latzo's second appearance in the ring after an absence of more than a year. About [illegible] months ago he received a broken jaw in a fight with Jimmy [illegible], and for weeks it was believed the ex-miner's fighting days were over.

ELKS LOSE TO "Y" CAGE OUTFIT, 49-29

Los Angeles Elks' "99" basketball team dropped a 49-to-29 cage game to the Hollywood Y.M.C.A. five last night on the former's courts. Hutchinson, Williams and Marshall starred for the winners, while Meyers and [illegible] were the chief scorers for the herd.

BEARS FIGURE THEY CAN WIN REMAINING CONTESTS

BERKELEY, Jan. 27. (Exclusive) Having upset Stanford University in the first game of the annual three-game series, the University of California basketball varsity today stepped on to the practice court blithely, all set to give the Pacific Coast Conference a real chase for the title it won last year.

With the University of Southern California adding the scalp of the U.C.L.A. team to its collection there is every reason to believe that the 1930 race will be a real one and that the Golden Bears will be very much in evidence.

Coach Clarence (Nibs) Price's tall men are beginning to function at last it would seem. Price's system in both basketball and football is one that indorses a slow start with a whirlwind finish. This would seem to point to a Golden Bear clean-up in the days to come.

As long as they continue to win, the combination that gave Stanford so much trouble can hardly be expected to suffer replacements. Wilson Tripp and Kent Pursel are beginning to understand their teamwork to the point where the opposition has a real time figuring out just where they are going.

Capt. Perry Ten Eyck is playing the best game of his college career as far as consistency of performance is concerned. Carl Vendt and George Davis who, prior to this season, were absolutely unknown to the California line-up, also have contributed large shares to California's present status.

Tomorrow night in the Oakland Auditorium, the Californians will encounter the Santa Clara University quintet. The Broncos are a tough lot. They have quite as much spirit on the basketball court as on the football field. Two years ago the Broncos registered their last basketball win over California.

Guisto to Boss Phoenix Club

PHOENIX (Ariz.) Jan. 27. (AP)—Louis Guisto, veteran major and Coast League first baseman, will manage the Phoenix Senators of the Arizona State League this year, and the Oakland club of the Coast circuit will furnish all the players needed by the Solons, Ed O'Malley, president of the Phoenix team, announced today.

The announcement came after an all-day conference with A. R. Miller, owner of the Oaks, and J. Cal Ewing, adviser of the Coast League team.

Under an agreement Phoenix will remain as an independent organization with its own list of reserves. Its players, however, may be sold to the best advantage, with Oakland having the right to choose from among its own recruits sent to Phoenix.

Arrangements also were completed to permit the Phoenix players to go into spring training with the Oakland club at Fresno, Cal.

ATHENS CAGERS IN WIN OVER ROSSIS

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 27. (AP)—The Athens Club basketball team of Oakland defeated the Rossi quintet of San Francisco here tonight, 38 to 22. Score at half-time favored the Oakland team, 17 to 11. Ford, Manion and Corbin found the basket from all angles of the court and had little trouble penetrating the Rossi defense.

NEW YORK, Jan. 27. (AP)—Dick Shikat, world's heavyweight wrestling champion in the eyes of the New York and Pennsylvania State athletic commissions, threw Jim McMillan, former University of Illinois athlete, after 1h. 54m. of wrestling here tonight.

SHELL OILERS COLLECT AMATEUR PUCK GAME

Despite a hectic third-period rally which the Van Fleet Durkee skaters turned in last night at the Palais De Glace Ice Rink, the Shell Oil team managed to leave the ice with a 3-to-2 victory. The Van Fleet team went into the final period behind, 3 to 0, and then they tallied two goals on shots by Proulx and Howard. Time was called before they could gather a third one. The Shell team made two goals in the second period and one in the third. Baker, Miller and Smith were the scorers.

STRANGLER LEWIS IN SPEEDY VICTORY

SEATTLE (Wash.) Jan. 27. (AP)—Six thousand persons—Seattle's largest wrestling crowd—saw Ed "Strangler" Lewis, former world's heavyweight champion, win a one-fall decision from Charles Hanson, Seattle Scandanavian in an eight-round grappling match here tonight. Nearly 2000 persons were turned away because of lack of seats and even standing room.

SAGEHEN BASKET SQUAD STARTS WORKOUTS AGAIN

CLAREMONT, Jan. 27.—Although the final examination wave that hit Claremont last week has not altogether receded Coach Earl Merritt and his Sagehen basketball team will start to work in earnest today in preparation for their tilt with Whittier Saturday night. Merritt let the boys off rather easy last week and expects to make up for lost time. Although the Whittier Poets have been defeated in their only conference start, it doesn't follow that they will be easy meat for the Sagehens as the team that whipped the Poe's was La Verne, and the Leopards boast a mighty good outfit.

La Verne took the measure of the Oxy Tiger last Saturday, thus definitely putting the Eagle Rock boys out of the running for the mythical pennant, Occidental having suffered two defeats, one at the hands of the Leopards and the other by Redlands.

At present Redlands seems to be the class of the conference, and any team that succeeds in whipping the Bulldogs is just about a cinch for the title.

Coach Merritt is bringing his Sagehens along rather slowly and if the Pomona team gets over the Whittier outfit Saturday, the Sagehens may be a real conference threat. The Sagehens have a splendid schedule this year, meeting the two toughest teams in the conference at the very tail end.

Merritt has announced no changes in his line-up, but it would not be in the least surprising to see a couple of new faces break into the select choice. Both Stan Hahn and Bob Tscharner stand a very good chance of supplanting some of the regulars, for they both seem to have a faculty of inspiring team work.

NEW DREDGING PLAN PENDING

Change in Federal Project Offered by Engineers

Would Temporarily Suspend North Channel Work

Large Turning Basin at Site of Terminal Proposed

BY WALDO DRAKE

The West Basin will gain a 1000-foot turning basin and the ground work will be laid for the Harbor Department's development of a $3,500,000 terminal at the north end of the basin under a new dredging plan proposed jointly by George F. Nicholson, harbor engineer, and Maj. W. H. Lanagan, United States district engineer.

The north perimeter channel of West Basin would not be dredged but that area would be left in status quo, that the Harbor Department might later dredge out two long channels for its proposed nine-ship passenger and freight terminal. An equal amount of material, however, would be dredged off the south end of the West Basin central shoal, thus giving the port a 1000-foot turning basin opposite the $1,200,000 freight terminals now under way at Berths 145 to 147. The new turning basin, with a uniform depth of thirty-five feet, would also greatly increase the efficiency of present terminals along the west shore of the basin.

A public hearing on the proposal to change the West Basin pier head lines, as necessitated by this plan, will be held at his office on February 4, next, Maj. Lanagan announced yesterday. The present dredging project, on which the Standard Dredging Company is now engaged, entails the widening of the perimeter channel of West Basin to 300 feet from 200 feet and to a depth of thirty-five feet. Approximately 700,000 cubic yards of material is being removed, at a cost of $227,500.

In dredging off the apex of the central shoal the War Department would simply transfer work originally scheduled for the north channel to the new area. Approval of the United States Army board of engineers is necessary before the new project can be started.

SHIPMENT OF ORANGE TREES LEAVES FOR ITALY

California orange groves started an invasion in force on the Mediterranean last night when the Italian liner Fella, of the Navigazione Libera Triestina, took out 14,000 young trees for Italian delivery. They are the first of a series of similar shipments for transplanting in Central Italy, it was announced by Capt. Harry H. Birkholm, district manager for the General Steamship Corporation, Coast agent for N.L.T.

Among the Fella's passengers were Mr. and Mrs. Edward Lenihan, Pasadena newlyweds on a Mediterranean honeymoon. Before her recent marriage the bride was Miss Kathleen Wright, women's golf champion. Other passengers include R. H. Gaskin of La Jolla; Philip Spencer, local attorney, and Samuel Chemer, importer.

Other Los Angeles cargo outward bound on the Fella include consignments of cotton, mackerel and sardines.

Local shipping circles will this morning be honored with the arrival from Paris of Maurice Tillier, managing director of the Compagnie Generale Transatlantique (French Line.) M. Tillier, accompanied by his wife and by Pierre de Malglaive, French Line head in North America, with Mrs. Malglaive and her daughter, will arrive in his private car over the Union Pacific System.

He is here to greet the French Line's motorliner Oregon, on her maiden voyage from Le Havre as the pathfinder of the five-ship fleet to give the Pacific Coast direct passenger service with France. The Tillier party will go direct to the Biltmore upon arrival at 10 o'clock and at 11:30 Messrs. Tillier and de Malglaive will pay a formal visit to Mayor Porter at the City Hall. They will board the Oregon this afternoon and tonight and tomorrow will be hosts at a series of luncheons and dinners tendered Southland civic and commercial leaders. The Oregon will sail for San Francisco tomorrow at midnight.

Three local shipyards are preparing bids for construction of Valero III, 190-foot twin-screw Diesel cruiser to be built by G. Allan Hancock. Announcement of the successful bidder is expected within the fortnight. The yacht, largest of her type to be built on the Pacific Coast, was designed by G. Bruce Newby.

The Navy Department yesterday announced honorable retirement of Capt. W. J. Kelton with the rank of commander in the United States Naval Reserve. Capt. Kelton, who enjoyed a long career prior to and during the World War as an officer of the Naval Transportation Service, is now district operating superintendent of the American-Hawaiian Line, the Oceanic & Oriental Line and the Williams Line.

Panama Mail Line's intercoastal passenger steamer Venezuela got away for New York last night, via Central American ports, with 120 passengers and 3000 tons of California freight. Among her travelers were Edward M. Rider, local capitalist, with Mrs. Rider; Mrs. Oliver Dwight Norton, Beverly Hills social leader; Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. Paxton, of Pasadena, with their daughter, Miss Jean.

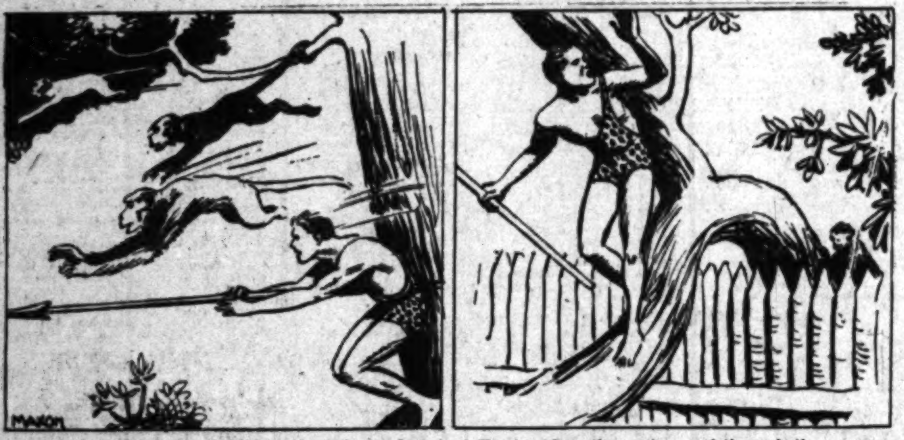
A CHUCKLE FOR EVERYBODY

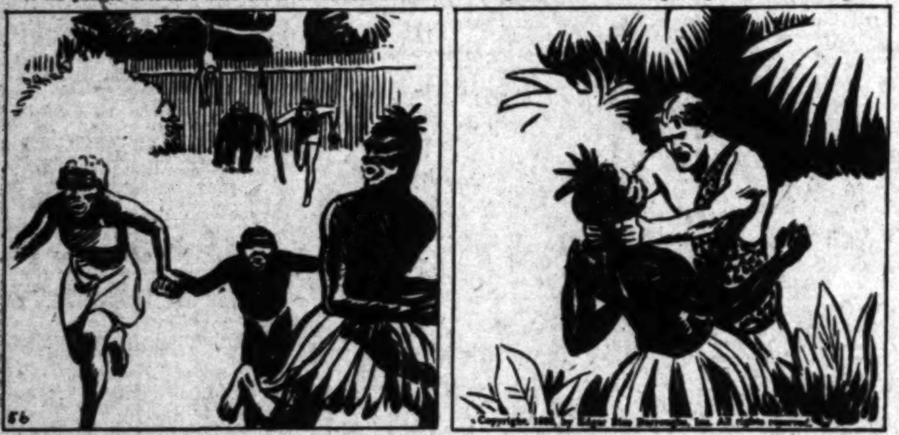
THE SON OF TARZAN

By Edgar Rice Burroughs



Once enlisted in the adventure, the baboons became quite enthusiastic about it. They set off with Korak immediately. They traveled swiftly, but the ape-man found no difficulty in keeping up with them. They made a tremendous racket as they passed through the jungle, to let their enemies think a great herd was approaching. For when the baboons go in large numbers there is no jungle creature who cares to molest them.

For two days the party raced through the savage country. Korak and the king baboon were in the lead. Mid-afternoon they reached Kovudoo's village, sunk in the quiet of the great equatorial sunheat. Utter silence reigned. Korak, creeping stealthily, entered a tree that overhung the palisade. The pack were close upon his heels. The time had come! Raising his face toward the sky, he gave voice to a single cry. It was the signal.



Copyright, 1930, by Edgar Rice Burroughs, Inc. All rights reserved.

In response, a thousand hairy bulls leaped screaming and barking into the village of the terrified blacks. Warriors came out from every hut. Mothers and children fled before the horrid horde pouring into the village street. Kovudoo marshalled his men about him. He leaped and yelled to arouse their courage, but the blacks were struck with dismay at the very sight of this white-skinned youth heading the vanguard of baboons.

For an instant they held their ground, hurling their spears at the advancing multitude; but before they could fit arrows to their bows they wavered, gave, and turned in terrified rout. Into their ranks, upon their backs, sinking strong fangs into the muscles of their necks, sprang the baboons and first among them, most ferocious and most terrible, was Korak, the Killer, son of Tarzan, his blind fury protecting him by its very ferocity.
